WILSON NAMES HOUSTON SECRETARY OF TREASURY

Transfers Agricultural Head to Financial Portfolio; Des Moines Man Steps Into His Place.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—David F. Houston of St. Louis, Secretary of Agriculture, was nominated today by President Wilson to be Secretary of the Treasury. At the same time Edwin T. Meredith of Des Moines was nominated to succeed Mr. Houston. Mr. Houston is one of the original members of the Wilson Cabinet and has served seven years as Secretary of Agriculture. The President's decision was understood to have been reached only in the last few days.

The President is believed to have chosen Mr. Houston for many reasons, not the least being that by naming him he need not at this late day introduce a new face into his official family. Mr. Houston's long service in the administration would make his confirmation by the Senate largely a matter of form, unless obstacles arise which are now entirely unforeseen.

This will enable the incumbent, Mr. Glass, to step from the treasury into the Senate as a successor to the late Thomas H. Martin without any break in the administration of that department. Mr. Glass will be needed by the Democrats in the fight over the League of Nations and the peace treaty in the near future, and unless a successor for him at the treasury were at hand the pressing nature of his duties there might seriously interfere with his attendance at the sessions of the Senate.

Mr. Houston goes into the treasury position with more than the usual knowledge of men who take that post. He was a member of the Federal Reserve Organization Committee for the months that it was laying the groundwork for the Federal reserve system, and as such came in close contact with the treasury and its workings.

Mr. Houston was born in Monroe, Monroe county, North Carolina, in 1866. He was educated at South Carolina and at various universities, including Harvard, Yale, Brown and Columbia. He was a graduate student in political science at Harvard from 1891 to 1894, and became professor at the University of Texas in the same year. He was president of that university in 1902 and after service in other professorships went to St. Louis as chancellor of Washington University and there held that position until 1908, part of the time in conjunction with his position here as Secretary of Agriculture.

During the war Mr. Houston was a member of the Federal Council of National Defense, and he is now a member of the National Forest Reservation Commission, and chairman of the Federal Board for Vocational Education.

Others have been considered prominent for the treasury portfolio. Mr. Glass was named by the governor of Virginia, to succeed Senator Martin. In the year that is left of the term of Mr. Wilson, the Secretary of the Treasury will have one of the most important Cabinet posts to fill. The problems that have come to the fore as a consequence of the ending of the war have been solved. The treasury is facing a reduction in revenue without being able to bring about any material cut in the estimates for appropriations. In the next year Congress is expected to get under way the budget system, and if it does the part of the Secretary of the treasury in making it a success will be important.

TO HANDLE PROHIBITION.

The treasury has the operation of one of the most important and powerful of the governmental bureaus, including the War Risk Insurance bureau and the Bureau of Internal Revenue, which just now has its hands full in enforcing the prohibition law.

Four years ago there was considerable talk about the possibility of Mr. Houston being a candidate for President if Mr. Wilson did not take the nomination himself. Whether there will be a serious renewal of such talk, now that he has been promoted from a Cabinet position, where he had little or no limelight, into one where the light will shine exceedingly bright, is something which will cause much keen interest here.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Edwin T. Meredith of Iowa, editor of Successful Farming, named Secretary of Agriculture, to succeed Secretary Houston, from Miami, Fla., telegraphed the White House today accepting the office. He is 54 years old, and his home is in Des Moines.

Before starting Successful Farming he was the publisher of the Farmers' Tribune. He was a candidate for the United States Senate in 1914, and for Governor of Iowa in 1916.

LANE'S SUCCESSOR NEXT CHANGE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. — Two changes in President Wilson's Cabinet were made today and a third is expected soon.

Beyond Cabinet change expected with the appointment of a successor of the Interior to succeed Franklin K. Lane, who desires to return to private life, Mr. Lane's successor has not yet been selected. Cabinet officials generally would not even hazard a guess as to whom it would be.

When Secretary Lane leaves the Cabinet only four of the President's official family will remain. They are Mr. Houston, they are Secretary Daniels of the Navy Department, Secretary Wilson of the Labor Department and Postmaster-General Burleson.

Mr. Wilson has had two secretaries of state—William J. Bryan and Robert Lansing; two secretaries of War, Lindley M. Garrison and Newton D. Baker; three attorneys-general — James C. McReynolds, now an associate justice of the Supreme Court, Thomas Watt Gregory and A. Mitchell Palmer; two secretaries of commerce — William C. Redfield and Joshua W. Alexander, and three secretaries of the treasury —William G. McAdoo, Carter Glass and David F. Houston.

She Knew Her Son Would be Great Man

Edwin T. Meredith, Named as Secretary of Agriculture, And his mother, Mrs. Minerva Meredith of Des Moines, who is in Los Angeles and refuses to be surprised at the honor the President has conferred upon her son.

APPOINTMENT FAILS TO SURPRISE MOTHER.

"PSHAW, I HAVE SEVEN CHILDREN FIT FOR THE CABINET," SAYS MRS. MEREDITH.

Waving aside a shower of congratulations which she received when news came yesterday that her son, Edwin T. Meredith, had been nominated Secretary of Agriculture to succeed David F. Houston, Mrs. Minerva Meredith of Des Moines, Iowa, who is spending the winter at 1710 West Sixth street, Los Angeles, said:

"Pshaw, the same thing might have happened to any one of my seven children. I have six sons and a daughter, and they're all secretaries of agriculture in my estimation."

Mrs. Meredith says she is mighty proud of Edwin, but his appointment was no surprise to her.

"Why, they offered him an appointment as Assistant Secretary four years ago, and he refused it," she declared with some emphasis. "He'll make a good Secretary of Agriculture, but look at my son, P. C. Meredith." Up at Buhl, Idaho, he is putting in a dam and developing an irrigation project that will make 30,000 arid acres productive."

And so she went on talking about her sons and her daughters, with the sort of pride every mother feels who is secure in the thought that she has raised a fine family and is content to step aside and let their light shine.

"Edwin and I only disagree about one thing," she asserted. "He insists upon wintering in Miami, Fla., while I come to Los Angeles every winter. He says it is cold here, and that's where we can't agree."

Mrs. Meredith says her distinguished son was raised on a farm near Avoca, where he was born forty-two years ago, but that he left the farm to enter the office of his grandfather's newspaper, the Farmer's Tribune, in Des Moines, a publication he two years later transformed into Successful Farming, which is now one of the leading agricultural publications of the Middle West.

During the war he was a member of the excess profits board. Since then he was appointed member of the President's Labor Conference Committee. He is still the Iowa representative of the Federal Reserve Bank in Chicago.

Her children are Edwin T. Meredith, now Secretary of Agriculture; J. A. and P. C. Meredith of Buhl, Idaho; Harry B. Meredith, president of the Federal Manufacturing Company in Des Moines, Iowa; E. W. Meredith, a farmer in Polk county, Iowa; Owen Meredith, a student at the University of Iowa, and Miss Isabel Meredith, who with her mother and sister-in-law, Mrs. P. C. Meredith, is stopping at 1710 West Sixth street. Mrs. Meredith and her daughter reside at 4018 Kingman boulevard, Des Moines.

Mrs. Meredith is deeply interested in politics, but she says that politics need renovating.

"What we need is more efficiency and less wire pulling," is the way she puts it. "Now I'm for Herbert Hoover for our next President. I believe he is the best man in the country for that job. Of course, I am a Democrat. It pleases me to see Democratic and Republican papers alike supporting him for the candidacy."

Asked what she would do if the Republicans claim Hoover and run him for President, she replied: "I'd vote for Herbert Hoover, you bet your boots. I vote for the right man for the right place, regardless of party. Personally I think Hoover should run as an independent candidate."

QUICK MARKETS MEREDITH'S AIM.

"Too Much Lost Motion," Says Newly-Named Secretary of Agriculture.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MIAMI (Fla.) Jan. 27.—Edwin T. Meredith, who is the newly-appointed Secretary of Agriculture, said today that he hoped to work out some solution of the problem of getting crops to market "without too much lost motion." In his opinion this is the "basis in fact of all permanent prosperity."

Mr. Meredith was a member of the labor mission sent abroad during the war, of the Excess Profits Board of the Treasury Department, and of the public group at the Industrial Conference last October. He has been a director of the Federal Reserve Bank at Chicago since its organization, and is president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

MILLIONAIRES DRIFT ASHORE IN SEAPLANE.

Those aboard the seaplane, the message said, were Rodman Wanamaker, II, of Philadelphia; Gurnee Mann of Washington, Phil Boyer, Caleb Bragg and David H. McCulloch.

The six-passenger seaplane, said to be owned by Wanamaker, left the Bahama Islands yesterday afternoon to return to Florida, and when it was sixteen hours overdue a general alarm was sent out along the Florida coast and eleven planes and several naval vessels took up the search.

ULTIMATUM ON TREATY.

Hitchcock Warns of Floor Fight.

Bipartisan Compromise Conference is on Verge of Disruption.

Democrats Claim Giving All Possible Concession on Article Ten.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Notice was served on Republican leaders of the Senate today by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the administration spokesman, that unless compromise negotiations on the peace treaty were continued he would carry the fight to the Senate floor by moving to take the treaty up there.

The notice was given in the reply of the informal Democratic compromise committee to the refusal of the Republicans to compromise on Article X of the League of Nations covenant. Out of the discussion which followed came an agreement for the bipartisan committees to meet again on Thursday. Thus, the door to compromise was not entirely closed.

Before he went to the conference Senator Hitchcock was in communication with the White House, but it did not develop how far the President might be in accord with the proposed compromise reservation as made public by Senator Hitchcock.

SUITS MILD RESERVATIONISTS.

Senators of the irreconcilable group indicated today that they would support any move to bring the treaty up for debate, declaring discussion would strengthen their case before the country. The mild reservation Republicans also have evinced a desire to get the treaty into the Senate again should the compromise negotiations fail.

The Democratic members of this conference have considered the announcement made by Senator Lodge, that he and his associates are not willing to consider any compromise on the Lodge reservation concerning Article X, nor on that relating to the Monroe Doctrine," said Senator Hitchcock in the Democratic reply to the Republican ultimatum.

"In reply, we desire to say that we entered upon this conference without any reservations or restrictions in the hope that we could compromise differences not only on Article X, but on all other reservations. We assumed that the other side of this conference had the same purpose.

INTERRUPTION A SURPRISE.

"The unexpected interruption of the conference and the decision to refuse any compromise on Article X is all the more surprising because it seemed from expressions on both sides of the table that we were close to a possible compromise on this very important reservation by means of the following draft, prepared by several Senators, and already assented to by most of the members of the conference on both sides of the table before the interruption:

"'The United States assumes no obligation to employ its military or naval forces or the economic boycott to preserve the territorial integrity or political independence of any other country under the provisions of Article X, or to employ the military or naval forces of the United States under any article of the treaty for any purpose, unless in any particular case the Congress, which, under the Constitution, has the sole power to declare war or authorize the employment of the military or naval forces of the United States, shall by act or joint resolution provide. Nothing herein shall be deemed to impair the obligation in Article XVI concerning the economic boycott.'"

Later two of the Republican conferees, Senators Kellogg of Minnesota, and Lenroot of Wisconsin, issued a joint statement denying that anyone had agreed to the reservation quoted, and to this declaration Senators Lodge, Massachusetts, and New of Indiana, the other two Republicans on the bi-partisan conference, gave their assent.

PRIVATE CONFERENCES.

Private conferences on both sides followed, with the leaders feeling out sentiment carefully as they approached the final showdown that may come at Thursday's meeting. In some quarters it was believed that in the interval President Wilson would take a hand to stiffen the resistance of the Democrats, but White House officials were silent and Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the acting Democratic leader of the Senate, declared he was proceeding without knowledge of the President's views on the specific compromise reservations discussed in the conference.

During the day a plea for immediate ratification, either with or without reservations, was presented to Senators Wadsworth and Calder of New York, by a delegation from New York City, headed by William Church Osborne, and representing the League to Enforce Peace, the League of Nations Association, the New York Federation of Churches, farm organizations, the State Chamber of Commerce of New York and Daughters of the American Revolution. Spokesmen for the delegation expressed the belief that the time was ripe for composition of differences over the treaty.

Failure of the Senate to ratify the peace treaty at its last session caused great rejoicing in China, Paul Reinsch, formerly American Minister to that country, told the House Judiciary Committee today.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—Sir George Paish, British financier, conferred today with Chicago bankers in regard to the European loan he is said to be seeking in this country.

Following the conference, James B. Forgan, chairman of the board of directors of the First National Bank, said:

"Sir George did not talk of such an absurd loan as was reported from the East. Such an impossible figure as either $12,000,000,000 and $34,000,000,000 was not mentioned. Money conditions are not favorable for such a loan to Great Britain or Europe at this time. So long as American securities are selling at prices that yield 6 and 7 per cent., it will be hard to attract money abroad."

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Jan. 27.—The Hungarian delegation has asked for an extension of time—until February 12—for delivery of its observations on the Allied peace conditions. The request is based chiefly on the fact that the National Assembly will not meet until February 7, and the delegates, who for the most part are members of the Assembly, desire to participate in the proceedings in order to explain the situation to their colleagues.

WOULD LIFT LABOR BAN

Mexicans Needed in Cotton Fields.

Witnesses Tell House that Immigration Law on Border is Too Strict.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Suggestions for extension of the Monroe Doctrine to apply to the movement of individuals on the American continent were submitted to Congress today by witnesses appearing in support of the Sheppard-Hudspeth bill, providing for changes in immigration policy relating to Mexican labor. The proposal contained propositions to apply exclusion features to orientals and Europeans only.

The leading advocate of the proposition is J. H. Davis of Laredo, Tex., a cotton planter, who appeared before the House Immigration Committee urging suspension of immigration laws relating to contract labor and head tax of $8. It was his contention that border States were in need of Mexican laborers. He claimed that the Mexican population was practically the same proposition in Southern California as in Texas. Davis said Mexicans comprised 75 per cent. of voters in Laredo, which was one of the best-governed American cities.

The bill now under consideration by the Senate and the House committees is not a repeal of immigration laws dealing with Mexican labor. It merely provides a suspension of restrictive provisions for a year, to relieve labor conditions. While certain proponents of the measure are anxious for a repeal, they frankly acknowledge such legislation impossible, and content themselves with temporary relief. It is a well-known fact that the head tax, while comparatively small, has had a marked effect in deterring Mexican laborers from coming into the United States.

ANNAPOLIS (Md.) Jan. 27.—The government wireless plant on the Severn River, across from the Naval Academy, has been practically out of commission since the latter part of last week owing to the heavy sleet storms. To relieve the situation a forty-foot captive balloon is being sent to Annapolis from Cape May and an aviator will come from Washington tomorrow.

NEW YORK SLEETBOUND.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—A film of ice covered the city today, glazing rails, streets and sidewalks, demoralizing traffic on all electric lines and causing tens of thousands to be late for work. Railway officials said it was the worst storm of the kind since 1902. Scores of people were injured by falls on slippery sidewalks. Long processions of pedestrians, forced to walk because the storm had tied up the transportation systems, forsook the walks and took to the streets.

Irregular service prevailed upon all transportation lines and in many instances was suspended for several hours. Steam railroads reported little difficulty in moving trains, but long delays occurred on the high-powered electric lines.

AMBASSADOR FLETCHER OUT

Convinced Efforts to Bring United States and Mexico Into Accord Futile.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Henry P. Fletcher has resigned as U. S. Ambassador to Mexico, to take effect in the course of the next few weeks. Those who know the reason for Mr. Fletcher's decision say that he was convinced that a continuation of the efforts he has made during the four years in which he has held this important post to bring the Carranza government into accord with the United States government on the many irritating issues which have arisen, involving the protection of American lives and property rights, would be futile. He terminates eighteen years of service in the diplomatic branch of the government with great regret and without any particular plans for his own future, but feels certain he can no longer be helpful in cultivating proper relations with Mexico as long as President Carranza remains in control there.

Mr. Fletcher's resignation was not hastily determined upon. Last summer he sought to terminate his relations with the State Department, but owing to the state of public business and the illness of some of the highest officials of the department he was induced to remain in Washington to act as adviser to the Secretary in matters relating, not only to Mexico, but to all Latin America.

State Department officials tonight did not offer any confirmation to the reported resignation and Mr. Fletcher himself is absent from Washington.

Mr. Fletcher was appointed Ambassador to Mexico in February, 1916, but did not go to Mexico City until the February of the following year, having come to the United States from Chile, where he was the American Ambassador, for a long series of conferences.

made in an official announcement in Mexico City, according to a dispatch to Orientacion, a Hermosillo newspaper.

DR. ATL DENIES.

An El Paso dispatch of the Associated Press, dated January 24, published in The Times the next day, stated:

"A man going under the name of Lenine and posing as a cousin of Nikolai Lenine, Premier of Soviet Russia, has been spreading Bolshevik propaganda in the State of Sonora, Mex., according to reports received tonight by government officials on the border. Lenine is said to be doing the work by a Dr. Atl, whose real name is Turido Murillo, known as a radical labor leader of Sonora, according to the reports received here. It was said here tonight that evidence relating to the alleged activities of Lenine and Atl would be laid before the Senate subcommittee investigating Mexican affairs. Considerable attention will be given to alleged Bolshevik propaganda in Mexico by the committee, it was predicted."

The Times yesterday received a telegram signed "Dr. Atl," declaring that he never has been engaged in Bolshevik propaganda, and that he does not know Lenine. "Please deny categorically the untrue statements in the dispatch," the telegram reads. "I have never engaged in Bolshevik propaganda and never known that such a man as this Lenine exists."

EXILED REDS IN PETROGRAD

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The 249 radicals recently deported to soviet Russia by the United States government have reached Petrograd and are quartered at Smolny Institute, according to a cablegram from Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, the leaders of the deported party, to "a friend" in New York. The message was made public here tonight by Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, soviet "ambassador," who was instructed by Maxim Litvinoff, assistant people's commissioner for foreign affairs at Copenhagen, to transmit the cablegram. The message said:

"We were met at the soviet border and at Petrograd with tremendous enthusiasm. Our reception was inspiring. Enjoying the hospitality of Petrograd, the deportees are quartered at Smolny Institute. They will be sent to work whenever they desire. The people here are cold and hungry, but their spirit and devotion are marvelous. After two weeks we will go to Moscow."

MANY RADICALS BAILED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Of the 323 extremists sent to Ellis Island to await deportation proceedings following Federal raids on Communist quarters here a month ago, only 275 are still held here, it was announced today. The others are out on bail. An average of six a day are released on bail.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The Senate Investigating Committee before which Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, "Ambassador" from Soviet Russia, has been testifying as to his activities in the United States, adjourned its sessions until Thursday. Adjournment was taken primarily to permit Martens to examine his records, with the view of submitting to the committee, copies of instructions from the Russian Soviet Government, under which he was operating.

MORE GRIEF FOR "ALL-AMERICAN"

Definite Split in Imperial Canal Committee.

New Bill Seals Fate of Localized Legislation.

General Bill for Western Projects Favored.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The split between the committee from the Imperial Valley sent here to secure legislation is complete. Thomas C. Yager and Mark Rose have secured the introduction of a new bill for the reclamation of parts of the Coachella and Imperial Valleys, by which the unwatered land is to be sold by public auction to the highest bidder. This bill, introduced by Congressman Smith, of Idaho, at their request and sent to the Committee on Irrigation, is designed to offset and displace the bill giving soldiers the preference right to buy, under homestead entry, this land at $1.25 per acre, engineered by Walter B. Kibby, and Arthur M. Nelson, the two members of the Imperial Valley Committee, whose special mission was to secure preference rights for the soldiers. Nelson has gone back to California in a disgruntled frame of mind, due to the action of some other members of the committee, and it is said that Kibby will follow shortly.

NEW BILL INADVISABLE.

This new bill has further complicated the fight for an all-American canal, and will probably result in the reporting by the committee of a general bill for the development of the Colorado and all western rivers as indicated in The Times recently. The first section of the new bill provides for the sale of the lands at auction, and only gives soldiers and sailors, their widows or dependants, a preference right at the same bid as made by others not in the military service. The money derived from the sale of lands and assessments on present irrigating systems, including the Imperial Irrigation District and others, which assessment is to be raised by the sale of new bond issues, is to be used to connect with the Laguna dam and build the much-vaunted but impracticable all-American canal.

The bill abandons the bond plan objected to by all of the government departments, but retains as the chief engineering scheme the all-American canal through the shifting sandhills, and is for that reason as undesirable to engineers and bond houses as all of the other plans proposed by Mark Rose and his associates. The new measure has been submitted to the Secretary of the Interior and the other departments and is certain to receive unfavorable comment from some of them, if not all.

The committee was to have met tomorrow to consider the amended Kettner bill which has been referred back by the subcommittee with the State Department and Interior Department amendments without recommendation. This meeting has been postponed for a week, however, in order to have a report on the Smith bill, and also some information on the general plan for harnessing the Colorado.

Dr. Elwood Mead has arrived here and appears to be authorized to represent the Imperial Valley, or at least some portions of it in favor of some plan for additional reclamation. He expects to appear at an early date before the committee.

The confusion of bills and the evident split between the local representatives from the Imperial Valley is slowly sapping the little vitality the all-American project had.

erably further out in the lake. She was blowing her distress siren and evidently is in a bad way. A shift in the wind broke up the ice floes and cut loose the island in which she is locked, sending it out into the lake.

No trace is had of the six men who started out to the boat late Sunday afternoon. There was also a photographer for an eastern concern who started out by himself to secure a number of views, but who has not since been heard from. Loaded down with impedimenta, his chances for getting out and back over the small mountains of ice with treacherous air holes at every step are considered slight. The four members of the crew who came ashore and went back are known to have reached the boat as they were seen climbing aboard by means of a powerful marine glass. But considerable anxiety is felt for the six adventurers and the photographer.

It is known the Neff is very short of fuel. If she is not injured there are hopes she will break out of the ice and reach Milwaukee or Racine. Attempts were made today to send out airplanes and tugs but both were compelled to turn back after disastrous experiences with the grinding ice.

Son of ex-Governor a Suicide.

PHOENIX, January 27. — James Franklin, son of former Gov. Franklin, committed suicide this evening by hanging. He had been ill for years.

SPRING FASHIONS AMID SNOW; VOODOOISM AMONG THE ELITE; AUTHORS EXHUME WASHINGTON

BY HARRY CARR.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—New York women are wading knee-deep in the snow to look through shop windows at summer clothes. Nothing is to be seen since Christmas in the big dry goods store windows, except the flimsiest and thinnest of summer frocks. Winter clothes have been cut down in price to a mere king's ransom.

The New York Times has compiled some staggering figures to show the comparative prices in women's clothes. The outfit for a young girl which in 1914 cost $193.75 now costs $486.

This is partly due to the normal increase of prices—partly due to the fact that the women of America are drunk with extravagance.

New York shopkeepers find an easy remedy for goods that will not sell. Articles that are a drug on the market at $30 will go like hot cakes by the simple expedient of raising the price to $50. Many women of means pay $250 without a murmur for a pair of beaded stockings. One New York store is displaying a rose white blouse for $2500 and coats costing from $50,000 to $65,000 are by no means uncommon.

The "crown" sables which formerly were never sent out of Siberia, but were saved for the royal families, now come almost exclusively to America. The natives get such big prices from American buyers that the whole output of these sable skins comes here.

There will have to be a reckoning some day. It is unthinkable that America can go along losing enormous fortunes at a poker game with a shrug of the shoulders, or that fat old janes can waddle in $250 stockings, while Europe continues to starve. One of these days when the French factories are running; when the ships are bringing Australian and Argentine wheat to hungry Europe; when the fields of Galicia and Rumania, and southern Russia are waving again with grain; then we will find ourselves facing a vast overproduction, and a monumental day of reckoning.

We will awaken from the wildest debauch of extravagance ever seen in the whole history of the world. Only last week, a plain, half-starved looking woman of middle age went into a famous jeweler's shop on the avenue and paid $500,000 for a pearl necklace. She was the wife of a Texas oil millionaire. Until two years ago she and her husband had been starvation poor all their lives. She had come to New York on her first shopping tour. All she got was one necklace. She didn't buy a stitch of any kind of clothes. She went home, a shabby, scrawny, plain-looking little figure with a half-million-dollar necklace. Heaven only knows what she will ever do with it. She said she always did like necklaces. Can you imagine that poor soul bursting into the Wednesday evening church sociable with the wealth of the Indies dangling around her neck.

In spite of the fact that the Pulitzer prize fund has barred G. Washington, it is evident that there is a literary revival of illustrious Americans about due.

Following the immense success of Mr. Drinkwater's great play, "Abraham Lincoln," they say half the able-bodied authors in America are furiously at work resurrecting George Washington. Mr. Drinkwater, himself, is going to dramatize Gen. Robert E. Lee. They will have some difficulty with Washington, it is to be feared. The late G. W. did his job well, but he was a painfully commonplace Virginia gentleman after all. At any rate the Pulitzer fund, through Columbia University, has offered, among many other projects, $1000 for the best American biography on any patriot, Lincoln and Washington being barred.

In the light of the present terrific price paid for literary work, the Pulitzer prizes do not promise a very mad competition. One thousand dollars is the prize, for instance, offered for the best American play, and the movie companies are paying that much for the crudest ideas from which a scenario is afterward to be built. It is not unusual for movie magnates to pay $25,000 for the right to make a book into a play, said book having already earned its just reward for its author. The prize for the best American novel is also $1000.

Among other idiosyncrasies of the most foolish town in the world, New York is turning back to a belief in witchcraft. Mrs. May Jennings Bennett, who is in the New York Tombs for alleged swindling, lays all her grief and troubles to a divine psychologist who, she says, bewitched her, and she says he cast her under a spell and made her do things she knew she ought not to.

The negro, Frank Kelly, who murdered a servant girl on Long Island, has confessed, and laid the blame on a colored woman who bewitched him. He said she laid her hand on his forehead. After that he was unable to resist her slightest wish.

Even Maeterlinck has hinted very strongly of something very like witchcraft. A great many New Yorkers have been to the West Indies this year. They all bring back the strangest and weirdest tales about white people who have taken to voodooism; about queer debauches and strange dances of the negroes. The world seems to be slipping into a grand emotional jag.

The birth rate in New York has shown a curious drop in the past year. On the other hand, there has been a drop also in the death rate. Nearly 10,000 fewer babies were born in 1919 than in 1918, but fewer died. Probably one was the cause of the other.

New York is overcrowded to a point where life will soon become insupportable. This narrow strip of land upon which the city is built is jammed to the limit of human endurance. It is an anthill; human, individual effort is no longer possible. The individual sinks to the level of a gnat, counting for absolutely nothing—just one of an interminable procession of units. It will not be long until all the cities of this country are similarly overcrowded. Then life will be nothing but a struggle to keep from being suffocated in the rush.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES HAVE SALARY FIXING RIGHTS.

WEBB RULES THAT STATE BOARD IS WITHOUT REVIEW PREROGATIVES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 27.—Sole power to fix salaries of normal school faculty members lies with the school trustees, and the State Board of Control is without authority power of review in the matter, State Attorney-General Webb held in an opinion today.

The opinion upheld an increase of pay granted to Frederick Burk, president of the San Francisco State Normal School. Clyde Seavey, a member of the Board of Control, said the board had sought only to keep the normal trustees from exceeding budget allowances.

BERKELEY, Jan. 27.—Educational leaders from Sacramento, Oakland, Stockton, Vallejo, Chico and other cities in Alameda, San Joaquin, Contra Costa, Yolo and adjacent counties are in session here today discussing details for the employment and training of 700 teachers elected to be necessary when the new State law making compulsory part-time education for minors becomes effective, next July. It is estimated that 50,000 children, now for the most part in the industrial world, will be added to the school enrollment when the act becomes effective.

WOMEN TO PLAN HOOVER SUPPORT

California Leaders Prepare to go Over the Top.

Stanford President Denies Citizenship Canard.

Former Food Wizard's Home at the University.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—Plans for a Californian organization of women, who will urge Herbert Hoover to become a candidate for President, are awaiting the word of leaders in women's activities throughout the State concerning their attitude, it was said here today by Mrs. James Ellis Tucker.

This following a meeting of San Francisco women yesterday, at which it was urged that women throughout the country organize and appeal to Hoover to accept the candidacy.

A meeting here February 9 will determine steps of organization.

DR. WILBUR DENIES CANARD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PALO ALTO, Jan. 27.—Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford University, has issued a statement defending the Americanism of Herbert Hoover from what he described as a "campaign of lies." He explains that he considers it his duty, as Mr. Hoover's "most intimate friend," to state the truth, that the public might not be misled by the "renewal of the former deliberate attempt to attack his nationality, citizenship and Americanism."

"I have maintained close contact with Hoover throughout his career," Dr. Wilbur said, "and know intimately of his comings and goings . . . Iowa, Oregon and California were his only residences, except for his work on the geological survey of Arkansas. . . . During the period of some twelve years prior to the war, when he enjoyed an international practice as an engineer, no calendar year ever went by, with the exception of 1898 and 1907, in which he was not for some portion of the year a resident in the United States.

"On these two occasions of considerable absence he was engaged in engineering constructive work in Australia. His engineering practice has taken him into every country in the world . . . In such work it is within my knowledge that the total period that Hoover could have been in England did not exceed an aggregate of more than three or four years out of the total of the forty-six of his life, although at times he left his family there when he was obliged to journey to Russia and other parts of Europe on professional business.

"He has been actively connected with Stanford University . . . for over twelve years. He has maintained for his family a home either in San Francisco or at the university during this entire time."

DENY LORD GREY STATEMENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The British Consul in New York today made public the following cable message from the British government:

"It is entirely untrue that Lord Grey, while in America, ever took any action in support of any candidacy for the Presidency, or ever expressed any preference for any one candidate over any other."

ROULETTE WHEEL AND FILM PEOPLE TAKEN.

WELL-KNOWN FOLKS ARRESTED IN POLICE RAID UPON AUTHOR'S RESIDENCE.

Police officers late last night raided the home of William Parker, an author, and formerly a well-known newspaperman, who lives at 1146 Arapahoe street, and found a roulette wheel being run by F. H. Finer, an insurance broker, of 2207 West Eleventh street. Men and women, a gay party, were betting on the movements of the elusive little ball, the police charge. The roulette wheel, chips and money, were seized as evidence, and the members of the party were taken to Central Police Station. Later they were released on their own recognizance.

Mr. Finer was charged with conducting a gambling game. The others were charged with violation of the State Gambling Act. Besides Mr. Finer and Mr. Parker, those arrested are: Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Finer, King Vidor, proprietor of the Vidor Film Company, who lives at 1514 Sierra Bonita street, Hollywood; Charles Vidor, his brother, who lives with him; I. H. Morgan, a cameraman for the Vidor Film Company, living at 7933 Norton avenue, and Mrs. Morgan.

A mysterious "tip" led to the raid. Some unknown person left a slip of paper at Central Station on which was written, "There is a roulette game going on in 1146 Arapahoe street almost every night, and keeping the neighborhood awake."

Sergt. Gifford and Officers McAfee, Sanders and Bernascoin of the "purity squad" motored out to the house, entered by an unlocked rear door and stopped the game.

CHINA DEFERS REPLY TO JAP PEACE NOTE.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PEKING, Thursday, Jan. 22 (Delayed)—China's reply to the proposal of the Japanese government to open negotiations for the return of Kiao-Chow has been deferred, pending the arrival in Peking from Paris of Foreign Minister Lou Tsend-Shiang. The Minister is due to reach Shanghai tomorrow. Yukichi Obata, the Japanese Minister, presented the proposal January 19. It was understood that it suggests a Chino-Japanese commission to discuss the issues involved.

The Foreign Office reports the receipt of numerous telegrams from the provinces opposing any discussion and favoring the submission of the question to the League of Nations. This is urged on the ground that the holding of negotiations would signify a tacit recognition of the peace treaty.

LINK SOCIALIST CREED TO SOVIET

Unseated New York Assemblymen Aided Martens.

Damaging Evidence Introduced at Albany Trial.

Shows Goal of Party is "Class Dictatorship."

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ALBANY (N. Y.) Jan. 27.—Tactics adopted today by the prosecution at the trial of the five suspended Socialist Assemblymen charged with disloyalty served to substantiate the report that counsel for the Assembly Judiciary Committee will seek to prove the Socialists unfit to serve because they took their oaths of office with "mental reservations."

Without comment and simply by introduction of evidence, John L. Stanchfield, committee counsel, drove into the record the following:

"That although the five Assemblymen, by a clause in their party constitution, faced expulsion if they voted appropriations for military or naval purposes, they nevertheless had sworn to uphold the constitution of this State, which places upon the Legislature the duty of providing funds for maintenance of militia."

This evidence was sandwiched between reading of a radical document which asserted that "Socialists seek to enter into the government to be near the doors of the chambers where dictatorship sits and to hinder the dictatorial work in any way possible," and the manifesto adopted by the Socialists at their national convention in Chicago last year which was termed by the prosecution a pledge of support to Lenine and Trotzky to aid in organization of a third internationale.

LINKED TO MARTENS.

Committee counsel, which has charged that American Socialists were agents of an "invisible empire projecting itself as a revolutionary force into other countries," then introduced speeches made at a celebration in New York of the second anniversary of the Russian revolution and a letter purporting to have been written by the Socialist organization in the Eighth Assembly District in New York, pledging support to Ludwig Martens, self-styled Russian soviet "ambassador" to the United States, and approving establishment in America of the soviet form of government. This district is represented by Assemblyman Louis Waldman, a defendant, one of whose speeches in defense of soviet Russia also was introduced.

Only two new witnesses took the stand today. Four other witnesses were recalled. All six were used by the prosecution to produce documentary evidence, none was subjected to lengthy examination.

MANIFESTO READ.

Most of the afternoon session was occupied by reading of the manifesto adopted at the Congress of the Communist Internationale at Moscow, on March 26, 1919, signed by Lenine and Trotzky and calling for civil war to place "the working class in the saddle."

ERZBERGER WOUND SERIOU

Shooting is Part of a Monarchist Plot Which Included an Uprising.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BERLIN, Jan. 27.—An X-ray examination of the wound suffered by Mathias Erzberger, Vice-Premier and Minister of Finance, who was shot yesterday by Oltwig von Hirschfeld as he was leaving the Cabinet building, shows that the bullet splintered part of Erzberger's shoulder blade, where it is firmly lodged. The wound is extremely painful, but much bleeding. Erzberger has no fever, but is very weak.

Hirschfeld, in the course of his examination today expressed the opinion that Germany must be freed of Erzberger. He attended the Erzberger-Helfferich trial, he declared, to get a clear view of Erzberger's activities and convinced himself that Erzberger was pursuing selfish aims in placing the interest of the empire in second place. Therefore, he decided to carry a long-considered plan of making the Minister "harmless." The prisoner denied that he intended to kill Erzberger and declared that he intentionally had aimed at the Minister's breast instead of his head.

Continuing, Hirschfeld said his parents had no knowledge of his intention to shoot Erzberger, but that he wrote them after his arrest, saying:

"I succeeded in shooting Minister Erzberger with the hope that he would retire from the government. My life is at an end, but I depart with the consciousness of having been of use to my people. Hearty greetings."

Heavy patrols of soldiers guarded the government buildings during the past night and stopped all traffic over streets in that neighborhood, where barricades were thrown up by the troops before nightfall. Rumors were heard during the evening that monarchists had planned an uprising today, which is the birthday of former Emperor William, and that Gustav Noske, Minister of Defense, had massed troops as a precautionary measure.

While government officials denied any knowledge of an attempted insurrection, and the attack on Mathias Erzberger, Minister of Finance, yesterday, presaged the mobilization of forces, it is declared the authorities sought to take action of the part of the monarchists of the Imperial regime. It was reported last night that attacks against the Independent Socialists and radicals were planned as the first step in the monarchist coup.

Deep indignation over the shooting on Herr Erzberger was expressed in a proclamation issued last night, which attempted assassination being declared "a criminal excess of class warfare."

KILL 20 IN EGYPTIAN RIO

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CAIRO, Jan. 28 (Via London, Jan. 28.)—A total of twenty Egyptians have been killed and fifty wounded in a series of Nationalist riots in the Cairo suburb of Tanta. The riots started last Wednesday. On that day four Egyptian Nationalists were killed and six wounded. One British subject was killed during this demonstration.

Following patriotic speeches in the mosque, the Egyptians paraded the streets, shouting: "Egypt for the Egyptians! Long live the delegation! Down with Milner!"

They were met by two British soldiers who fired into the mob with revolvers. The Egyptians retaliated with sticks and stones, which they showered on the two men and the numerous others who came to their assistance. Soon armored cars rushed to the scene.

After the Egyptians dispersed, a state of siege was proclaimed in the town and the citizens were forbidden to leave their homes between 3 o'clock in the afternoon and 4 o'clock the next morning.

The Egyptians quieted the restrictions until late on the following night, when a stubborn resistance against the military patrols was kept up until morning at one point in the suburb.

The Egyptians assault the British Indian troops of operating in the besieged city without permission.

Four British soldiers were reported wounded in the last fighting. Tanta has 50,000 inhabitants.

LOSS CLAIMS OF RAILROADS CUT.

Counsel Underwood's Report Indicates Progress.

Compensation Contracts Cancel 71 Per Cent. of Rental.

During Year 133 Co-operative Contracts Were Made.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Compensation contracts between the Railroad Administration and 232 railroads under government control had been signed on January 1, last, E. Marvin Underwood, general counsel of the Railroad Administration, stated today in his annual report to Director-General Hines. These involved $717,153,182, or 71 per cent. of the total annual rental of $917,000,000 paid by the government to the companies.

Claims for special compensation in addition to the standard return had been filed by 124 roads, the aggregate being $92,318,789. Thirty-five of these had been allowed in part, the total being $7,493,618, while sixty-seven, totaling $45,686,276, had been denied, and eight, totaling $553,754, had been withdrawn, leaving still pending fourteen, totaling $9,224,288.

Mr. Underwood said negotiations with the railroad corporations as to many additional compensation contracts for the standard return were being actively pushed. He said also that in addition to the standard contracts, there had been 133 co-operative contracts executed between the Railroad Administration and smaller roads.

LOSS CLAIMS CUT.

Describing the work of the claims and property protection section, Mr. Underwood declared gratifying progress had been made in avoiding loss and damage claims presented. He asserted that for all railroads under Federal control the number of unsettled claims on hand had decreased from 806,707 on April 1, 1919, to 465,722 on November 1, 1919.

In connection with alleged fraudulent claims, Mr. Underwood reported that the claims of fifty-one individuals, firms and corporations, had been investigated, and indictments obtained in five cases. Twenty-nine are under further investigation and seventeen have been found legitimate.

Continuance of government control of the railroads for at least two years was asked of President Wilson again today by representatives of farmers' organizations, the American Federation of Labor and the four big brotherhoods. A large delegation, composed of many of the same persons who called at the White House last December 17, went to the executive offices with a letter for the President.

FOR FEDERAL OPERATION.

Sentiment in favor of government operation, the letter said, has increased during the six weeks since the first request was made, "until we can accurately state that this is the preponderate desire of the farmers and of organized labor forces of most of the States of the Union."

The return of the roads, the letter declared, would involve an increase in freight rates of 25 to 40 per cent., "since an additional revenue of close to a billion dollars will be needed," which would mean, it was added, "an increase in the cost of living, as estimated by your Director-General of Railroads, of at least four billion dollars a year."

Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, representing President Gompers, presented the views of the American Federation of Labor and gave detailed data of the cost of living.

At the conclusion of the conference Secretary Tumulty said he would present the matter to the President.

TIGHT WAISTS ARE TO COME IN, RUMOR.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Jan. 27.—Whispers are heard in circles of fashion that small waists are to "come in" again next season. Strictest secrecy is being maintained in professional quarters in accordance with a decision by great dressmaking establishments here not to make premature revelations, but it is said gowns designed after the new mode have been seen and admired. Authorities in the dressmaking trade, however, deny tight lacing is to return, one of them saying: "The wasp waist is as obsolete as the stage coach.

QUARTERMASTER STORE HAS RUSHING BUSINESS.

FARMERS OF THE SACRAMENTO VALLEY ATTRACTED BY MILITARY SUPPLIES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 27.—A branch store of the United States Army quartermaster's department opened here today for distribution of surplus army stocks, did a rushing business. Blankets, articles of men's wear and tinned foodstuffs were the principal commodities on sale, and these were offered at prices, in most instances, below the prevailing retail rate elsewhere. Ranchers, some of them coming from far out of town, were prominent among today's customers.

BAKED BEAN MEN SORE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CLEVELAND, Jan. 27.—The government was severely criticised for unloading its surplus stocks of canned goods on the market "at a critical period" by delegates of the tomato and baked bean industry attending the joint convention of three national canners' associations here today.

"The tomato product has been selling at figures far below the cost of production for the past six months," D. H. Stevenson of Baltimore declared, "and the one dominant factor has been the government's inexcusable method of disposing of its surplus stocks of canned tomatoes, although the canning industry came nobly to the front during the war in assisting the government to supply food to the army and navy." The government sold below cost, Mr. Stevenson said.

CALIFORNIA LEADS.

California and Middle Western States have displaced Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey as the tomato-producing States of the country, Stevenson said. Before the war the tri-States produced 60 per cent. of the canned tomato trade. Last year they yielded barely one-fourth of the entire trade, while Middle Western States and California showed a corresponding increase.

Today's sessions were divided into sections, each discussing problems of its particular industry. Problems affecting the home, kitchen and servants in particular were discussed.

An educational campaign for the benefit of housewives, with home economics teachers in all parts of the country, is to be inaugurated soon, Frank W. Correll, secretary-treasurer of the National Canners' Association, declared.

CONFLICTING VIEWS ON WAGES FOR MINERS.

OPERATORS AND UNION MEN IN SAME OLD WORD BATTLE BEFORE COMMISSION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Coal miners and coal-mine operators presented conflicting conclusions on the subject of wages in the industry at the resumption of hearings today by the coal strike settlement commission.

Don Rose of Pittsburgh, spokesman for the operators in Freeport field, asserted that the 14 per cent. increase already granted gave the miners a potential earning power greater than that of any other class of American labor.

Presenting statistics, Van H. Bittner, statistician for the United Mine Workers of America, told the commission that in present purchasing power the pay of miners was 35 to 40 per cent. lower than pre-war standards, and insufficient to maintain the standard of living.

During the discussion Mr. Rose suggested that the thirty-hour week was un-American, thereby arousing the ire of John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers.

"I do not intend to remain quiet while this challenge of our Americanism is repeated by operators' counsel," Mr. Lewis declared, addressing the commission.

"The mine workers yield to no one in their allegiance to American institutions, government and flag."

President Robinson of the commission ruled afterward that advocates on both sides should refrain from personalities, but commented that the commission had been pleased by the moderation shown to date.

Summarizing figures prepared for the War Labor Board, Bittner said that a family income today sufficient to meet bare cost of living should be $2242.

The figures on the operators' profits, he added, demonstrated that wages could be advanced without increasing coal prices. The hearings will continue tomorrow.

CENTRALIA TRIAL DOGGED CONTEST

Armistice Day I.W.W. Murder Cases Hard Fought.

Only Two Temporary Jurors Passed in Two Days.

Judge Denies Defense Plea for Change of Venue.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MONTESANO (Wash.) Jan. 27.—Renewal of defense request for a change of venue in the case of eleven alleged I.W.W. on trial here for the murder of Warren O. Grimm during an Armistice Day parade at Centralia, Wash., November 11, 1919, was made just before adjournment today. The motion was denied.

More than a dozen talesmen have been examined and only two jurors have been accepted temporarily, George F. Vanderveer, attorney for the defense, said in making his motion. He argued that this was another indication of what he alleged to be prejudicial conditions, and declared that it was an indication that it would be almost impossible to secure a fair trial in this county. After the court had denied the motion, Vanderveer announced that he intended making the motion for a change of venue from time to time during the trial.

Elmer Smith, one of the eleven defendants, will act as his own counsel, it was announced in court today. Smith is charged with being an accessory before the fact. He is an attorney and a former student at the University of Minnesota.

The defense and prosecution passed one juror today. He was S. A. Youngs, a laborer of Montesano.

Passing of Youngs as a temporary juror kept the total of temporary jurors in the box at two, the same number that had been accepted at the close of the opening day of the trial. Timothy Martin, passed temporarily on Monday, was challenged for cause today.

EXAMINATION DRAGS.

Only three talesmen were examined. Under examination by the defense Youngs said he had no prejudice against the I.W.W. which would prevent him from joining them but stated he would not join the organization unless he knew more about it than he now did. He said he was not a member of any labor organization, that he simply did not care to join them. He believed in labor's right to strike, however, he said. Youngs knew little about the Centralia affair, he said, for his work made it impossible for him to read much of the tragedy as it was told in the newspapers. He examined numerous newspaper articles submitted by the defense, which told of events following the shooting of four former service men, but declared he had read but few of them.

"Not enough to form an opinion," he said.

A special venire of 300 talesmen reported in Superior Court this morning. Following answer of a roll-call the court allowed those having excuses for not serving to present them, close to 100 of the venire appealing for discharge.

Women who have a legal exemption because of their sex were excused upon request.

READS RED BIBLE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TACOMA (Wash.) Jan. 27.—Prosecutor W. D. Askren read from I.W.W. publications today in the trial of thirty-nine alleged members of that organization who are charged under the State syndicalism law.

In his effort to prove that the I.W.W. is attempting to overthrow the government, Mr. Askren cited the following quotations, among many others, which he read from radical pamphlets:

"The proletarian learns that school, church and press have as their primary object lulling him into quietude. The methods of the ballot box are the methods of the mob. The proletarians sole attitude is that of opposition—he is all revolutionary against all the customs of modern life—and the point of attack against them is the workshop, where he meets the enemy daily.

"We are not satisfied with a fair day's salary for a fair day's work. Labor produces all wealth; labor should own all wealth. Modern government is but a shadow and not a substance."

SOCIETY RED ON TRIAL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OAKLAND, Jan. 27.—Miss Anita Whitney came to trial on a charge of criminal syndicalism in Judge James G. Quinn's court today, and by the noon recess three jurors had been temporarily passed. The fourth was passed at the resumption of examination this afternoon.

The greatest crowd that has yet tried to find places for itself in the meager space that Department Five affords sought to attend the hearing today.

The opening of Miss Whitney's trial follows the Supreme Court ruling against her attorney's plea for a writ of prohibition to prevent the court proceeding with the case.

Miss Whitney is charged only in general terms. She was held to answer for a violation of the criminal syndicalism act on the grounds that she had assisted in organizing a group. This was the Communist Labor party, the local of which Miss Whitney is said to have assisted in organizing last fall.

FRAUDS AT NITRO MAY BRING FEDERAL PROSECUTIONS, SAYS GRAHAM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHARLESTON (W. Va.) Jan. 27.—Congress will be asked to take criminal action against those responsible for waste of material and money in connection with the construction of the government powder plant at Nitro, W. Va., near here, declared W. J. Graham, chariman of the Congressional subcommittee which closed its investigation late today.

A conspiracy to defraud the government existed, and "somebody ought to be indicted," said the chairman. "While our boys were fighting and the people were giving their money to support them in it," he added, "twice as much money as was needed was being wasted at Nitro.

"We have found similar conditions at other places the committee has visited, but nowhere have they shown up so bad as they have here. One reason for this, I might say, is that the witnesses we have examined are more straightforward in giving their testimony, and do not attempt to withhold the facts.

"There is no doubt about it," he concluded. "There was a purpose to waste the government's money at Nitro, and it was wasted."

R. D. Spaulding of Charleston, who was foreman of all teams used at Nitro, was called as a witness by the committee late today. He testified that young boys were employed as timekeepers and that workmen who had remained away from the plant for a whole week would tell the boys they had worked and their vouchers would be so punched.

Drivers at Nitro would "choose the worst roads, stall their wagons and then "shoot craps," Spaulding told the committee.

Restricting Legislation Subject of Convention.

Senator Kendrick Reviews Fight of Four Years.

Murdock Mackenzie Defends Meat Baron's Stand.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SPOKANE (Wash.,) Jan. 27.—Discussion of legislation providing for government regulation of the meat-packing industry occupied much of the time of the American National Livestock Association at the opening day's sessions of its twenty-third annual convention here today.

However, the subject, regarding which some division of opinion has become evident among the livestock men in attendance from practically the entire Western United States, was not carried to the floor of the convention for discussion, and whatever contest may eventually develop over the matter is not expected to be brought to a head tomorrow.

The attitude of the association's market committee, which for four years has been conducting a fight for Federal regulation of the packers, was presented today by U. S. Senator John B. Kendrick of Wyoming, president of the association, and joint author of the Kendrick-Kenyon bill in the Senate, providing for the joint creation of a Federal livestock commission, in an address, and by E. L. Burke of Omaha, Neb., vice-chairman of the market committee, in the committee's report.

The opposition was represented on today's programme by Murdock Mackenzie of Chicago, a representative of Wilson and Company, packers who declared that passage of the proposed legislation would not be for the best interest of the livestock industry of the nation.

KENDRICK SCORES PACKERS.

Discussion of legislation to curb the activities of the big meat packers, was launched by U. S. Senator John B. Kendrick of Wyoming, president of the association.

Senator Kendrick, author of a bill in Congress, intended to circumscribe the business activities of the packers, presented the affirmative side of the argument for restriction.

"It is a question of the ultimate food of the entire nation, and there is not a hungry child in the humblest home in America who is not vitally concerned in the solution of this problem," he said.

He traced the development of the fight conducted by the American National Livestock Association for the last four years for more desirable marketing conditions, from the appointment of a market committee at the El Paso convention in 1916 to the U. S. Attorney-General's agreement with packers, whereby the latter consented to withdraw from all activities not having strictly to do with the meat packing business.

This agreement, he declared, was a product of the work of the association's market committee, because it was the committee that had persuaded Congress to order an investigation of the meat-packing industry.

SUPERVISION BENEFICENT.

Citing an unprecedented increase during the past four years in the number of independent packing-houses, to which he said the packers representative testified before a Senate investigating committee as an evidence of a beginning of a revival of competition accompanying the efforts of the association for changed market conditions, Senator Kendrick declared the government supervision of the industry through the Food Administration and the Department of Agriculture had exercised a beneficial rather than a detrimental effect, as had been predicted.

"No man need fear the results of the legislation that we ask," he declared. "We offer no radical experiment. We propose no revolutionary change. Our plan is the very essence of conservatism, for it aims only at the restoration in the American stock market of the free and unfettered law of supply and demand."

An appeal to pass the Kendrick-Kenyon bill in Congress providing for regulation of the meat-packing industry was made by the association's market committee, submitted by Edward L. Burke of Omaha, vice-chairman.

After having recounted its activities since its appointment at the El Paso convention four years ago, and especially in connection with government investigation of the packing industry and the Attorney-General's agreement for the packers withdrawal from "sides lines," the report declares:

FACING A CRISIS.

"You are facing the supreme crisis in your affairs. It is inconceivable at this turning point that you should not measure up to your opportunity and make a half-won victory a complete victory. First, you ought to make clear to the Attorney-General and to the country the tremendous interest of the livestock producers in making his decree effective . . . Second, you ought, with renewed vigor, to continue the fight for legislation."

Declaring that "the problem we have been attempting to solve is . . . whether this democracy shall permit a few men of unlimited power and unlimited wealth to stand between the producers of foodstuffs on the one hand and consumers on the other and dictate the terms on which we shall live," the report charges the packers with having conducted a "great campaign of misrepresentation and with having attempted to prevent live-stock associations from indorsing the bills for their regulation."

DEMAND LEGISLATION.

"The fruits of victory can only be made secure by legislation," the report continues, "which will not only provide an efficient agency, clothed with authority to make the decree of the court effective, but which will provide for those other things without which the markets cannot be free, namely, government regulation, publicity, uniform accounting, refrigerator-car service, which all together mean equal opportunity.

"We demand a clear, open system of production, manufacture and distribution, free from dark passages concealing the real beneficiaries of the consumers' dollar."

Railroad legislation, control of public lands and administration of national forest preserves, scheduled for discussion tomorrow and Thursday, are taking second place in point of interest to the packer legislation, and are not expected to develop so marked a difference of opinion among the delegates.

ENGLAND MAY BOOST FIXED PETROL PRICE.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Jan. 27.—Unofficial reports have been current lately that the government intends to drop the tax of 6 per cent. a gallon on petrol and largely increase the tax on motor vehicles. These reports were accompanied by threats to increase the price of petrol by 8d per gallon.

A committee under the profiteering act has investigated the question and, according to a forecast published in the Herald, will report in favor of fixing the price of petrol at 31d per gallon. The present price is 26d.

At the same time the government will be urged to invite the League of Nations to take similar means in all countries to prevent the exploitation of petrol by producing companies.

INDIAN BILL REPORTED OUT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The first of the annual appropriation bills to reach the Senate was reported favorably today by the Indian Committee. It was the Indian supply measure carrying $12,740,897, a decrease of approximately $128,000 under the total in the House bill.

OFFICERS' WIVES IN POVERTY GRIP

Army Households Hit by Living Costs.

Officers Paid More Money than are Surgeons.

Wadsworth Pleads for Salary Increase.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—After debate had failed to produce a vote the senate adjourned today after a night of discussion of the measure reported by the Military Affairs committee providing for an appropriation of approximately $59,000,000 for increased pay for officers and men of the army, navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard and public health services. Consideration of the measure will be resumed tomorrow.

In presenting the bill, Senator Wadsworth, Republican, New York, chairman of the Military Committee, said that "the wives of army officers are actually selling their household linen and other articles to obtain money enough to make both ends meet, and neither commissioned nor noncommissioned officers can maintain their families decently on present rates of pay."

Declaring that 2200 officers of the Regular Army, or approximately 20 per cent. of the total, had resigned in the last eight months, Senator Wadsworth told the Senate that it must either pay the increased cost proposed in the measure or find itself "without any army or navy within one or two years."

Bricklayers at the Walter Reed Army Hospital in this city, Senator Wadsworth declared, were drawing $9 a day from the government, while army surgeons at the same institution were receiving $6.50 a day.

MEDAL QUERY COMING.

Investigation of award of decorations in the army during the war will be begun next week by a House war investigating committee, its chairman, Representative Johnson, Republican, South Dakota, announced today.

In general it was said by committee men, the inquiry would determine the advisability of asking Congress to enact legislation authorizing the bestowal of badges of merit on former enlisted men for distinguished service during the war.

Representative Bland declared that information obtained by the committee showed that the Distinguished Service Medal could be conferred only upon those who occupied places of great responsibility and that a private could not come within that class under War Department rulings; that the Distinguished Service Cross could be given only to officers and men who were in actual contact with the enemy and that the Congressional Medal of Honor was for extraordinary conduct beyond the call of duty.

PLEADS FOR WOUNDED.

Sick and wounded soldiers are not receiving the treatment "guaranteed them by law," Representative Johnson, Republican, South Dakota, who served in the A.E.F., declared today, in telling the House of his recent visits to government hospitals.

"Because of ignorance or negligence, or because of the wilful disregard of the law by Carter Glass, Secretary of the Treasury, or Rupert Blue, Surgeon-General of the United States," said Johnson, "sick and wounded soldiers are receiving treatment that cannot be justified by anyone who has any regard for the well being of the men who fought to preserve the country.

"In Chicago, January 15, American soldiers who had been seriously wounded, and who had been and ought to be receiving treatment for their wounds, were requested to leave the hospital and discontinue treatment in order that other men, in more serious conditions, might take their beds in the hospital.

"In these same hospitals, men who have been gassed are quartered in dark hallways where no ray of sunlight can penetrate, or ever will be, permitted to enter, and this, in spite of the fact that since March 3, 1919, $9,500,000 has been available and could, and should have been used.

"If this condition is permitted to exist for a few months more, there will be thousands of wounded and sick American soldiers who need treatment and will be unable to get it.

"In my opinion thousands will die, and the persons responsible for those deaths will be the men I have mentioned or some of them, because Congress has performed its duty in appropriating the necessary funds while they have not performed theirs in expending them."

UNIVERSAL TRAINING SPLIT.

Variance between Republican leaders of the Senate and House on enactment of universal military training legislation came out today into the open.

Closely following incorporation yesterday of a universal training provision in the army reorganization bill by the Senate Military Committee, Representative Mondell, Wyoming, Republican leader in the House, declared that leaders of the party responsible for inauguration of such legislation would be cast into political oblivion.

The government, Representative Mondell told the House, would be compelled to spend $1,000,000,000 and to raise the money by a bond issue to put the universal training plan into operation. Senator Wadsworth of New York, chairman of the Military Committee, yesterday estimated that adoption of four months' training for all youths between the ages of 18 and 21 inclusive, would enable a reduction in the Regular Army establishment so as to cut the present annual expenditure of $1,100,000,000 to approximately $500,000,000.

Selection of Mr. Harreld by the Committee on Committees, to fill the committee vacancy resulting from the resignation of Representative La Guardia of New York, had brought objections from House Republicans favoring universal training, and the Oklahoma representative in his letter of resignation to Republican Leader Mondell, said he "did not desire to be the center of a controversy."

LEAGUE TO GET AT VITAL WORK.

London Conference in February First Actual Meeting.

To Take up International Court of Justice.

This is Matter Pressed by the United States.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The second meeting of the Council of the League of Nations, which in reality will be the first actual business meeting, will be held in London probably February 10, according to advices received here today.

At this meeting the Council plans to enter upon consideration of one of the most important subjects with which it has been charged under the treaty of peace, namely, the constitution of the permanent court of international justice. The first meeting of the Council held in Paris January 16, confined itself to matters of organization necessary to meet contingencies that had arisen under the treaty, such as the appointment of the Saar Valley boundary commission, which had to be named within 15 days after the ratification of the treaty.

It is learned that the launching of the permanent court of international justice has been decided upon after great hesitation because this was one of the features of the peace programme in which the United States had taken the greatest interest, in fact having originated the project as one of the best means of preventing wars by resort to judical processes. The United States, it was pointed out in the Council's meeting, had given this plan of settlement of international disputes its original impetus at the first and second Hague conferences, and also at the London prize court conference.

TO SELECT JURISTS.

The Council, it is now learned, has finally decided to go ahead with the plans already made by the secretariat of the League for launching the court. While these plans are not understood to be at all detailed, it is known that they contemplate the approval by the Council of an organizing committee of seven or eight of the most eminent jurists in the world to amplify the whole structure of the court.

Elihu Root, former secretary of State of the United States, is known to have been selected as the American member of the commission, but it is not yet certain that the Council will feel free to offer him the actual appointment in advance of America's ratification of the treaty.

Quite apart from all else that Mr. Root has done in stressing the need of an international court, his instructions to the American delegates to the second Hague conference, in 1907, are accepted as a landmark in the history of the subject.

ROOT'S ADVICE.

After a detailed analysis of the possibilities of arbitration, he concluded:

"It should be your effort to bring about in the second conference a development of The Hague tribunal into a permanent tribunal composed of judges who are judicial officers and nothing else; who are paid adequate salaries; who have no other occupation and who will devote their entire time to the trial and decision of international cases by judicial methods and under a sense of judicial responsibility."

The organizing committee is expected to have a most difficult and complex task. The plan for an international court has been one of the most discussed of all the League of Nations provisions and suggestions for its constitution have poured in from all sides. Both the Germans and the Austrians submitted a most detailed programme in their counter-proposals to the Allied and associated powers at the Peace Conference; the three Scandinavian countries, Norway, Sweden and Denmark, in long meetings last summer agreed upon a joint plan to be pressed before the League; and Switzerland also has worked out an elaborate mechanism which was presented at the conference between representatives of the neutral states and of the League of Nations commission in Paris last spring.

A COMPLEX TASK.

All these plans laid principal stress upon the method of the appointment of judges, which has proved to be the rock on which The Hague conferences broke. The small nations stand united for the principle of the equality of states and consequently of the equal voting power of states in the selection of judges. The big powers, however, have refused to entrust their interests to a court where they are not assured proportionate representation. All the plans at present submitted avoid this difficulty by ingenious variation of the panel system, assuring first, the choice of the world's most famous international jurists, regardless of nationality; second, the presence of not over one or, at most, two members of the same nation on the roster; third, the disqualification of any judge in any case in which his own nation is involved, and fourth, the right of challenge by any nation involved of a certain number of the judges elected for a particular case, with their consequent replacement by lot from other judges on the panel.

EPISCOPALIAN WOMEN GET VOTE IN MISSOURI

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 27. — The Protestant Episcopal diocese of Eastern Missouri, at its annual convention here today unanimously passed a resolution giving deaconesses the privilege of voting in diocesan conventions on the same basis as the clergy. So far as Episcopalians here know, this is the first diocese in the United States to take such action.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America announced today that it made an error in its statement last night announcing a decrease of 2,500,000 in Sunday-school membership since the last church census in 1916. Revised figures show that the loss was approximately 500,000 scholars.

GERMANS AGAIN SEEK TO PROTECT CRIMINALS

SAYS SURRENDER OF ACCUSED WILL CAUSE POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC TROUBLE.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Jan. 27.—The German government has sent a note to Paris trying once more to induce the Allies to renounce execution of Article CCXXVIII of the peace treaty, dealing with the surrender of persons accused of acts in violation of the laws and customs of war.

The note affirms that the execution of Article CCXXVIII would infallibly cause political and economic troubles, which would have a serious effect on the production of the nation, particularly in the case of mines.

The German government again proposes that the trial of such persons be held in Germany, with the participation of Allied representatives.

PLEBISCITE DECISION.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

FLENSBURG (Schleswig) Monday, Jan. 26.—The text of the treaty which concerns the provisions of plebiscite areas, concluded between the inter-Allied commission and the German government, shows that the Germans must keep the Schleswig territory supplied with coal, sugar and cement. In return, the communes where the plebiscite will be taken are to deliver a certain quantity of cattle every week to Germany.

KIEL REFLECTS DEFEAT.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The Reuter correspondent with the international naval commission at Kiel says the commission inspected the dockyards there Saturday and left Monday for Berlin. There was virtually no activity around the harbor. All types of German warships were in the harbor. Only two cruisers and four destroyers were in commission.

The whole scene in the dockyards and harbor, says the writer, gave a most vivid idea of the complete submission and defeat of the German navy.

WILSON TO URGE LOAN FOR EUROPEAN RELIEF.

WILL SEND LETTER TO CONGRESS ASKING AUTHORIZATION AS EMERGENCY.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Congress will be asked by President Wilson to authorize a loan of $150,000,000 to Austria, Poland and other European countries and Armenia for food relief, as requested by Secretary Glass. At the White House today it was said the President had taken "a deep interest" in the proposed loan, and that within a few days he would write a letter on the subject to the leaders in Congress.

Secretary Glass was before the Republican Steering Committee of the House today to explain the needs of the European countries, and to discuss the general financial situation in this country. Extensive hearings on the loan bill have been held by a House committee, and the Steering Committee expected to pass upon the authorization after hearing the Secretary.

Mr. Glass told the committee the loan was necessary to prevent actual starvation in Austria, Poland and Armenia, and urged prompt action. His discussion of the domestic financial situation was cut short, so he might attend the regular Cabinet meeting. Gov. Harding of the Federal Reserve Board took up the discussion where the Secretary left it.

NAB PLATINUM SWINDLERS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

GENEVA, Thursday, Jan. 27.—A band of international swindlers were arrested yesterday at Lindau while selling small blocks of alleged platinum at 250,000 marks per block. They had victimized many in the principal towns of German Austria while correspondence seized at their hotels shows that London and New York dealers had offered to buy some of the "precious" metal. The blocks were of lead, covered with a thin layer of platinum.

BASKETERS ARE HARD AT WORK.

L.A.A.C. Crack Team Preparing for Eastern Invasion.

Have Held Championship for Last Three Years.

Manager Horne has Trouble Scheduling Games.

BY PAUD LOWRY.

With but three weeks remaining before they start their proposed tour of the country, which will end with the playing of the national basketball championships at Atlanta, Ga., the Los Angeles Athletic Club basket shooters are hard at work.

Cliff Horne, the demon manager, is busy as a mother hen with its chickens trying to hatch a schedule that will keep the men in shape and at the same time net enough money to defray the expenses of the travelers.

He has had no trouble to date lining up games in California. The universities of California, Stanford, Santa Clara, St. Ignatius and St. Mary's all want to take a crack at the national champs.

TROUBLES BEGIN.

But outside of the State Horne's troubles begin. He has a tentative engagement lined up with a club quintette at Salt Lake, but from there on his petitions for games have been received much like poisoned olives.

The middle western colleges and universities all have their schedules filled, according to the letters received by Horne. In Kansas, however, he has received offers to stage contests at several places that he has been unable to find on the map.

The L.A.A.C. boys have held the casaba title of Southern California for three years, 1917, 1918 and 1919. Altogether they have played something like fifty games in that period, and have won all.

Harry Cooper, who for four years played a running guard on the Oregon Agricultural team, is captain, guard and coach of the local club five. He was chosen for a place on the mythical All-Northwest team for two years.

"Skeeter" Swan, who plays a bit of a forward, is also an alumnus of the Oregon Aggies. The diminutive ball cager is one of the niftiest in the business.

ONE OF STARS.

Classed as one of the effulgent stars of the L.A.A.C. outfit, Forward "Red" Wilson has few equals when it comes to sneaking the ball down the floor and ringing baskets. He is a splendid dribbler. Wilson was a former Poly High player.

Fred Olney, the tall young man who does the centering for the team, may not take the Georgia journey. He has business interests that may keep him at home. Olney is so tall that he doesn't need a stepladder to put the ball into the iron ring.

Aubrey Kincaid, at guard, is a comer. He appears to be one of the best bets that has been developed in the South at the basket game for a long time.

Slaughter, former captain of the team, is trying out for one of the guard positions, as is Tate, a former University of Chicago player.

Maynard Laswell, Ed Small and "Speed" Rock, an old Penn player, are possibilities at the forward positions.

HOME-RUN BAKER IS TO QUIT BASEBALL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Americans, announced today that J. Franklin Baker, the hard-hitting third baseman of the Yankees, has probably played his last big league ball.

Baker has told Huggins his business interests in Maryland require him to stay there. "Though Baker will be very welcome if he should change his mind, I shall make plans for the coming season without considering him for third base," Huggins said.

FRENCH PUGILIST LOSES A HAND.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Jan. 27.—The pugilistic career of Luis de Ponthieu, featherweight champion of France, ended yesterday when surgeons amputated his left hand to save the fighter's life. He met Tancy Lee, the British champion, in this city on Christmas Day and though he knocked out his opponent in the seventeenth round of their bout, he injured his hand and blood poisoning developed.

OLD MAN LEWIS SMEARS GEORGE

Semi-Windup Turns Out to be a Sad Failure.

Sammy Gordon Gives Wierd and Quaint Exhibition.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

The ghosts of King James and Big Chief stalked around the ring in the first round of the Danny Edwards-Sammy Gordon bout at Jack Doyle's last night and the crowd welcomed the old offenders with a salvo of jeers. The big farce continued until the middle of the fourth round and was so palpably rotten that Referee Frank Holborrow made the hit of his life by declaring the travesty a no-contest. Gordon appeared to have left all he ever knew in a safety deposit vault.

Young George shot his bolt as an attraction at the pavilion by getting an artistic trimming from Perry Lewis in the main event. For two rounds the men milled even. Then in the beginning of the third round Perry began showing his superiority. He plugged the youngster with lefts to the nose and rights to the body and continued the cannonading all through the final round, taking all the "might" out of Dynamite. George was a pitiful sight as the gong sounded. It should be a long time before George is able to reinstate himself with the rank and file of fandom.

The draws were Louie Garcia vs. Young Papke; George Moss vs. Rex Morris; Tommy O'Brien vs. Jack Papke; Ralph Pena vs. Sl. Williams. Battling Frankie whipped Dummy O'Brien.

REDLANDS LEADS IN BASKETBALL LEAGUE.

Team—	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Redlands	4	0	1.000
California	4	1	.800
Pomona	3	2	.600
Whittier	2	3	.400
Occidental	1	3	.250
Throop	1	4	.200

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Jan. 27.—With half of the college conference basketball schedule in the discard, the University of Redlands quintet is leading. The team which won the championship last year, has an excellent opportunity of repeating.

Redlands has defeated California, Pomona, Whittier and Throop by good scores. The Bulldogs have not yet played Occidental, but it is believed that the Tigers will not be able to stop the winning streak of the local men.

Redlands last win was over Throop at Pasadena. The Toilers scored seven points before the Redlands men got going, but after that it was a walkaway for Redlands.

The south branch of the University of California, is crowding Redlands close, and has lost but one game, and that, the one on the local court. Redlands must play California at Los Angeles soon and will no doubt have difficulty in beating them.

POETS RAP SAGE HENS TO TUNE OF 28-20.

Whittier smeared Pomona last night in a conference basketball game, 28 to 20. At the end of the first half the score was ten all, and in the middle of the second frame the Sage Hens went into the lead. But the Quakers were right on the job to the finish and snaked the bacon out of the fire.

The game was rough and many penalties were inflicted.

THROOP SQUELCHED.

The U. C. (southern branch) basketball squad put Throop away last night, 36 to 25. At the end of the first period the Cubs led, 18 to 12. Woodard, for U. C., made the most points of the game with a total of 15.

LONG BEACH WINS TWO.

Long Beach defeated the Whittier High unlimited basketball team, 34 to 25, yesterday. The Seaside lightweights also turned in a victory, trimming the Poet town lads of the same weight, 34 to 9.

ALGERIA VS. ARCADIA.

"Shorty" Arias, former manager of the Algeria ball club, has taken charge of the team again, and will send his charges against the Arcadia nine at Arcadia next Sunday.

LAUNCH NEW PACIFIC BASEBALL LEAGUE.

ORGANIZATION OF FOUR CITIES AND A FIFTH IS TO ENTER SOON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TACOMA (Wash.) Jan. 26.—A new Pacific International Baseball League was born tonight after an all-day session of leading Northwest baseball men. Four cities, Vancouver, B. C., Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane, were formally granted franchises, and a fifth city, Astoria, Ore., was given two weeks to accept or reject a franchise. It is thought that the Oregon city will enter.

The organization will be a class B, with an 18-week schedule planned, opening about May 1, and running until Labor Day. Fourteen players will be allowed each team with practically every representative announcing his intention of using a playing manager.

HOERNIG IS WINNER OF 220 SKATE TITLE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SARANAC LAKE (N. Y.,) Jan. 27.—John Hoernig, of Cleveland, won the 220-yard event, and W. Murphy of New York, the mile event, in the national skating championships, which began here today. The ice was in excellent condition. The races were marred by spills, which eliminated two of the fastest contenders, Leslie Boyd, of New York, and Roy McWhirter of Chicago, in the semi-final of the 220-yard race. McWhirter and Joe Moore, of Lake Placid, fell in the mile race. Moore was disqualified in the 220-yard race for cutting a corner. Summaries:

220-yard—John Hoernig, Cleveland, first; William Steinmetz, Chicago, second; B. Herne, New York, third. Time: 21 1-5s.

Mile—W. Murphy, New York, won; Russell Demerse, Saranac Lake, second; Russell Wheeler, Montreal, third. Time: 3m. 11 2-5s.

BEAN AND GIFFEN ON TOP IN COURT TILT.

Bean and Giffen defeated Retzer and Golding by a score of 49-35, in their handball match in the Ruggles round robin doubles tourney, at the Los Angeles Athletic Club yesterday.

The victors took the first game rather easily, 21-15, but the second game was a rip snorter, Bean and Giffen barely managing to come out on top, 21-20.

The results of basketball games played yesterday in the Bay League follow: Heavyweights—Santa Monica 25, Venice 21; Compton 42, Gardena 16; Huntington Park 13, Inglewood 8.

Lightweights, Venice 16, Santa Monica 13, Compton 27, Gardena 21; Huntington Park 17, Inglewood 15.

WILL TRY TO STOP BETTING.

Coast League Officials to Get After Gamblers.

Greatest Danger to Game is Downtown Wagering.

Almost Impossible Entirely to Eradicate Evil.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Baseball and the betting gentry are getting ready to go to the mat. With the National Commission pledging itself to take drastic action against the gamblers and President McCarthy of the Coast League empowered to bar bettors from any park in the Coast circuit, men connected with the game seem to have awakened to this danger from the outside.

However, league officials cannot hope to prevent betting on ball games. Their best efforts, at the most, will merely succeed in reducing the number of rather flagrant cases which have been observed at some of the parks the past two or three years. More recently the betting, which once largely was done under cover, became open and above board. There was no mystery about the "betting ring" at Washington Park, and the same condition is said to have prevailed in other cities.

IN PLAIN VIEW.

Wagers, some of them running into the hundreds of dollars, were laid in plain view. This sort of thing can be stopped. However, despite any steps which are taken, scores of small silent bets, and a good many big ones, will be made at the parks, both before and during the games. Then there will be a continuance of the downtown betting, where the heaviest wages are laid, and wherein lies the greatest danger to the honesty of baseball. This is beyond the reach of baseball officials, and city authorities never have evolved a way to prevent it, and never will.

These downtown operations are simple. The man desiring to lay a bet has a representative at the park early. This representative learns in advance who the batteries will be, and seeks to ascertain through conversations with players or others the condition of the pitchers, especially. Also, he watches the pitchers warm up. He knows baseball, and can tell when a pitcher is warming up whether or not he has his usual "stuff." Then he telephones his information to a confederate downtown, or a group of confederates, whereupon the odds are fixed and wagers laid when takers can be found.

TAKING A CHANCE.

Frequently, the "scout" or "tout" at the park is not recognized as such. Sometimes he is a business man with sporting proclivities, or a mania for taking a chance. Again, he may be known only as a baseball enthusiast, and not suspected of being a professional bettor. As the former, he may have entree to the club offices or a wide acquaintance among the players. Thus, he is in a position by casual conversation to get early information in regard to the probable pitchers, and whether the man selected to work had on the night before hit the hay early or remained up to see the lights go out. Before the country went dry these seekers after information played the bars and cafes in an effort to ascertain who among the baseball athletes was lapping up the firewater.

WHERE DANGER LIES.

Baseball's greatest danger lies in the heavy downtown betting which the league officials are impotent to reach. Little or no harm is likely to result from the wagering done at the park by the average "bug." As a rule he is just an average citizen with the inbred willingness of the average American to take a chance. He would not think of attempting to tamper with a player, and is willing to back his frequently-erroneous judgment with a few dollars.

HARD LOSERS.

However, harmless though this sort of wagering may be in so far as it is not likely to affect the honesty of baseball, there is an ugly angle to it. Some of the small bettors are hard losers, and if they have a bad run of luck are inclined to take it out on the players. The most flagrant examples of "riding" the players at the park last season were by "tinhorn" gamblers. This became to obnoxious toward the close of the season that is was with difficulty some of the players were prevented from climbing into the stand and administering the "slug cure."

REDS TO TURN SEMI-PROS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—From world's champions to the garden variety of semi-pro ball players, is the course members of the Cincinnati Red team threaten to take, unless Garry Herrmann listens to their pleas for more gold.

Furthermore, they will go through their semi-pro motions right in Redland and offer competition to Herrmann's National League club. Just who is the prime mover in this new deal is not known, but the plan leaked out several days ago, when the new Industrial League comprising teams from big manufacturing plants in the Middle West, was formed here. One of the delegates let the cat out of the bag when, while speaking of the unrest among ball players in general, he told of the movement among the champions.

According to this individual, several players who have not obtained what they think is proper, recompense for the coming season, met and agreed to organize a semi-pro team of their own. The idea is to be very bolshevik in nature, a sort of socialist arrangement, in which all the athletes will share, and share alike, unless some Cincinnati concern is induced to put up the necessary backing.

SAN DIEGO FRANCHISE GETS COOL.

Nothing definite has been reached in regard to giving San Diego Coast League baseball at the beginning and close of the 1921 season, it was announced by President William H. McCarthy on his return from that city yesterday morning.

McCarthy and Dr. Strub met the Mayor of the city and later attended a meeting in the City Hall attended by fifty officials and business men. The meeting resulted in nothing concrete, but showed baseball enthusiasm to be at a high level.

Those attending the meeting were told that it would be necessary for them to provide a suitable park, offer guarantees that the clubs would make as much money there as in the Northwest, and then submit a definite proposition to the league which would be acted on.

President McCarthy stated before leaving for San Francisco last night that he will be here the opening week of the season.

"Puritas" Distilled Water
"Drink it every day to keep disease away!"

It Depends Upon Your Resistance!

WHETHER you shall keep well during possible seasonal epidemics depends very much upon your general condition and your strength to resist disease. Read what Dr. E. M. Spates says about drinking water:

"Three-fourths of your body is fluid. All proper processes of the body and elimination of the poisons which are constantly formed in life's processes is, to a very great degree, dependent upon the amount of pure distilled water taken into the body, and as 95% of all illness is due to the retention of poisons, you can understand the wisdom and necessity of drinking large quantities of 'Puritas' Distilled Water."

Thus, you see, it is of utmost importance to keep your system cleansed, and, as Dr. Spates recommends, to eliminate the poisons and impurities by drinking liberally of "Puritas" Distilled Water.

On Saturday afternoons every other week, fill the storage battery on your automobile with "Puritas." Every battery expert will tell you distilled water is necessary to the battery's life.

SOCCER LEAGUE TANGLE.

Agitation has been started to have a post season game between the United soccer team and the Los Angeles Athletic Club eleven because of the recent unsatisfactory ending of the Southern California Soccer League.

The United team was awarded the league championship, but certain of the United players are said to be not quite sure that they came by the title honestly.

It seems that early in the season a contest between the club team and the Uniteds went to the latter by forfeit because the Mercury players failed to show up.

If this contest were thrown out of the records, and L.A.A.C. players claim it should be, the Uniteds would not be the league leaders, but would be tied with the Mercurylites.

Previous to the forfeited combat the L.A.A.C. manager tried to reach the league president and secretary in order to get it postponed because some of the players could not be on hand.

Failing in this he got in touch with the United manager, it is said, and found the latter agreeable to a postponement. However, the United team showed up at Exposition Park on the day of the game, and the game was forfeited to them.

This was not done in accordance with the soccer rules, which stats that a team must take the field and put one goal into the net in order to win a forfeited game.

The league officials have so far refused to act on the matter, it is said.

RESULTS OF GOLF PLAY AT BRENTWOOD.

The weekly golf sweepstakes at the Brentwood Country Club last Saturday resulted as follows: Class A, Thomas McCall and J. D. Horan tied, 4 down; class B, H. J. Borde won, 3 down, with H. P. Gates and J. A. Henjum in a tie for second, 4 down.

In the regular Sunday sweepstake (class A) Thomas McCall and M. C. Crane tied for first, 1 down. In class B, H. J. Borde and J. J. Jenkins tied for first, 4 down.

The handicap mixed foursomes for cups presented by the club will be played next Sunday.

This Laxative Is Now in Half a Million Homes

They regulate their health with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

WHERE there are women and young children and elderly people it is always well to have a mild, gentle-acting laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin handy. This is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin which does all that is required in constipation and does it with safety and comfort. It is free from narcotics and may be given to babies. Half a million mothers have it in as many good American homes, and these families are healthier for it. Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, there being over 6 million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not yet used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 511 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

POMONA STARTS IN ON BASEBALL PRACTICE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, Jan. 27.—Spring baseball practice started in earnest at the high school today when a goodly bunch of the veterans and aspirants were out on the diamond. There will be two afternoons of baseball practice and three of track practice and with the beginning of the following week the baseball team will be out regularly each afternoon. The boys are greatly encouraged over the 9 to 3 defeat administered to the Sherman Indians here on Christmas afternoon when they had had very little practice and Coach Leonard has reasons to believe that he will get a winning aggregation this season.

BOB MARTIN IN HANDS OF BONESETTER REESE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

YOUNGSTOWN (O.) Jan. 27.—Bob Martin, American Expeditionary Force champion, placed his injured right hand in the hands of "Bonesetter" Reese here today. After an examination Reese announced he found no broken bones, although the hand is badly jammed. Martin was advised to rest the hand for three weeks, which will necessitate cancellation of several engagements. Martin injured his hand in the first round of his fight with Ray Smith in Cleveland, last night.

MRS. INGLE CORONADO GOLF TOURNEY VICTOR

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 27.—Mrs. J. H. Ingle of New York, won the mid-week handicap golf play for women, held at the Coronado Country Club this afternoon with a net score of 77. Mrs. Ingle played with the ease of a veteran. Mrs. D. Skarfo of Chicago finished escond with a net score of 80. More than fifteen women were entered.

PATTERSON TO HOOK UP WITH WATERS.

Leo Patterson will box Howard Waters at 135 pounds in the main event of the Gate City Athletic Club at San Bernardino tomorrow night.

The other bouts scheduled are as follows: Danny Edwards vs. Kid Mende, Tet Titus vs. Dummy O'Brien, Frankie Lander vs. Tony Flores. Vic Mack vs. Young Joe.

BASEBALL NOTES.

President Lane of the Bees by accepting the worst of the schedule, probably sacrificed something financially, but he made Salt Lake's position in the league stronger. By his sportsmanlike stand, Lane is believed to have won a lot of support in the league, which will lessen the likelihood of that city being dropped from the circuit.

Lane and Ernie Johnson, new manager of the Salt Lake club, recently reached a final understanding with Walter Leverenz at Paso Robles. It had been planned to ship the southpaw out of the league because of his indifferent showing last season. He put up such a strong plea that it was decided to retain him. Leverenz pitched great ball in 1918, and asked that he be given an opportunity to prove that he could duplicate it.

Wallace Hood, former Vernon player, drafted by Brooklyn from Kansas City, is a holdout. That is rather a chronic condition on the Brooklyn club, especially among the youngsters. With these it is an old complaint that they are seldom offered much more their first year than they received in the minors.

San Francisco expects to get Charley Pick, third baseman, and Lefty O'Doul from the majors. Peck, who is with the Braves, probably will go to Pittsburgh by the waiver route, and with three other players may be turned over to San Francisco in return for an option on that club. O'Doul, who is with the New York Americans, like Pick, formerly played with the Seals.

Stage fright is said to account for O'Doul to perform up to his reputation with the Yankees. He is said to have lost his confidence when he landed in the big town, and confidence is the only thing in which he fell short of big league standards.

Sam Lewis, a right-hander, has accepted the terms of the San Francisco club, Lewis, last season pitched for Shreveport.

Buck Weaver opines that winter golf is great stuff to put a baseball athlete in condition. That being the case with quite a flock of the athletes.

In San Diego, Dr. Charles H. Strub, owner of the Seals, was approached by a young pitcher. It seems that the pitcher had a contract from the Los Angeles club which he had not yet signed. He told Strub that he intended to go where he could get the most money, and asked San Francisco to put in a bid. "You've got the wrong idea," said Strub, "What you want is the opportunity. Then if you make good you can demand and get the big money. We will not try to outbid Los Angeles or any other club in a case of this kind."

President McCarthy and Dr. Strub passed the afternoon on the San Gabriel links with George Cline. Both were sadly out of form, and showed a tendency to "knock the ball over the fence," to quote their own words.

There are 12 fine livable rooms; 5 master bedrooms; 2 baths and maid's room and bath; billiard room and excellent library or den. The finish of the lower floor is in solid mahogany and the walls are of silk tapestry. The hardware and electric fixtures are the best and of artistic design, and the entire establishment is in excellent condition. There is a garage of two car capacity, with chauffeur's room and bath. The grounds are improved with fruits and shrubs.

FOR SALE—
BYRON A. BEARCE,
FIG GARDENS.

The demand for these fig gardens has made probable an early shortage of nursery stock.

We cannot hope to plant but the limited holdings remaining of the present subdivision.

Our contract, carrying care and cultivation and marketing for five years, or ten years, and the certainty of fig crops, which are credited to the purchase price, is a great help to buyers, and insures the success of our undertaking.

You only pay a small portion of the purchase price, and then easy payments for a short period, the crops of growing trees take care of the balance of the obligation.

During five years' of contract, your crops should pay out every dollar of cost of your Fig Garden.

At the end of your five years of contract, your Fig Garden is worth $2000.00 per acre, and has not cost you a cent.

Write us for the details of this splendid offer—California's greatest Land-Investment Opportunity.

FOR SALE—
"CARLSBAD BY THE SEA."
ACTUAL SALES SINCE JANUARY FIRST
$93,000.

Carlsbad's winter climate is like summer elsewhere, which makes possible our wonderful production of vegetables and fruits, and at a time when other districts are too cold. This is why one man made from one crop of peas this season. Records of $500 an acre returns are plentiful.

CARLSBAD PEAS NEVER FREEZE.

Planting of Kentucky Wonder beans for the early market will begin very soon. These bring returns equal to the peas. Carlsbad produces almonds, lemons, figs, peas, string beans, cucumbers, summer squash, green peppers, etc., all big money-makers.

Government records for 5 years show a minimum temperature of 24 deg. and a maximum of 96 deg. Where can you find such climatic conditions except at Carlsbad? Situated 85 miles south of Los Angeles, 35 miles north of San Diego—on Santa Fe Ry. and State Highway. Has schools, churches, stores, hotels, electricity, phones, Union High School 3 miles from Carlsbad, pure water supply, beautiful trees line streets and roads and the ocean borders the property. Such ideal conditions seem unattainable outside of Paradise, but they go to make up CARLSBAD.

This land is being sold in tracts of 5 acres and up at $600 an acre. Terms are one-fourth cash—the balance easy.

One share of stock in the Oceanside Mutual Water Company goes with each acre of land, the water company delivering pure water under pressure for irrigating and domestic purposes at cost.

Prices will soon be advanced. Make your investigation now.

Nowhere can you equal CARLSBAD.

WETS DEFEATED IN FIRST FIGHT.

Habeas Corpus Denied in Wine Men's Test Action.

Judge Rudkin Upholds Validity of Amendment.

Declares Action of Ohio Antis has no Bearing.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—California wine interests late today lost the first skirmish in their legal fight against the Eighteenth Constitutional Amendment when Judge Rudkin of the U. S. District Court denied a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of J. J. Dillon, a truck driver, arrested while transporting liquor here on January 16.

This was said to be the first test of the national prohibition amendment in the country.

"I am of the opinion," said Judge Rudkin, in ruling in the case, "that the amendment in form and substance was entirely within the competency of Congress and the several States to propose and ratify; and that both the amendment and the National Prohibition Act were in full force and effect on the day in question."

The action was brought by Theodore A. Bell, San Francisco, attorney for the wine interests. He contended that an amendment to the Constitution must change some part of the Constitution rather than add a new article to it. He further held that the amendment would not go into effect, if it were valid, until January 29.

Judge Rudkin ruled against both of these contentions, holding that Article V of the Constitution gave Congress and the States the necessary authority for adding the amendment.

Ohio's referendum election to overturn the amendment in that State, which went in favor of the anti-prohibitionists, has no effect on the amendment, Judge Rudkin held. The Constitution is not subject to local referendum or initiative actions, and an amendment can be overturned only by the employment of the same machinery that made it operative, according to the decision.

PROFITEERING BARRED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—Maj. A. V. Dalrymple, head of prohibition forces in the central division, today warned druggists against profiteering in whisky sold for medicinal purposes.

"I have received numerous complaints that druggists are charging from $6 to $10 a pint for whisky in filling prescriptions," he said. "These reports are being investigated, and if I find that the charges are true, steps may be taken to establish dispensaries for distribution of liquor at reasonable prices under government supervision."

EXTEND INVENTORY TIME.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Commissioner Roper of the bureau of internal revenue tonight instructed internal revenue collectors to continue, under certain conditions, to accept reports of inventories of liquor stocks until February 10. Time for filing these reports originally expired today, but the bureau was unable to prepare all of the forms required.

RAID SMUGGLERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—A raid of revenue officers on two small boats moored to the side of the Black Star liner Yarmouth today uncovered fifty-six bottles of whisky and brought to light the operations of the "Red Hook Junkers," a gang believed to have been smuggling liquor ashore from vessels anchored in the harbor.

STRKERS PARALIZE SUGAR PLANTATIONS.

JAPANESE AND FILIPINOS TIE UP OPERATIONS IN HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

HONOLULU (T. H.) Jan. 27.—The strike of sugar plantation workers already has tied up five plantations on the Island of Oahu. The two other plantations on the island have not been affected by the walkout of Filipino and Japanese workers, which began January 20. Leaders of the Japanese and Filipino strikers assert both races are in perfect accord on the strike issues.

According to semi-official figures the number of workers out are, Filipinos, 2300; Japanese, 5238, and several hundred of other races. There are 11,800 Filipinos employed on all the islands. Last year's Hawaiian sugar crop totaled 603,000 tons.

The planters have made no statement of their attitude regarding the strike, but it is reported in sugar circles that the planters' association is prepared to put up a finish fight.

STATE ROAD BOND SALE PLAN IS DISAPPROVED.

PURCHASE BY INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENT COMMISSION NOT THOUGHT WISE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 27.—A proposal favored by some State officials, providing for the purchase by the State Industrial Accident Commission, through its compensation insurance fund, of State highway bonds in order to furnish funds for State highway construction today was disapproved by Will J. French, chairman of the commission, and C. W. Fellows, manager of the insurance fund, when the matter was discussed at a conference with the State Board of Control.

The plan provided for the purchase of bonds at par by the State Industrial Accident Commission, to be disposed of by them to outside parties at a discount. Fellows declared that such procedure would result in a loss in excess of $500,000, and added that "the commission could not take a chance on the next Legislature reimbursing the compensation fund."

The present condition of the bond market practically precludes the sale of any portion of the $40,000,000 of 4½ per cent of highway bonds voted last July at par, and the State law forbids selling the bonds at a discount.

It is contemplated by the State Highway Commission to expend $1,000,000 per month during the current year in highway construction. This plan must be abandoned, said Marshall de Motte, chairman of the State Board of Control, unless some new plan is devised to float the bonds.

BIG BOND ISSUE AUTHORIZED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—The San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation was empowered by the State Railroad Commission here today to issue $3,500,000 in stock for extensions and improvements. The company is building a 45,000-horse power hydroelectric plant on the San Joaquin River, and a $950,000 steam unit at Bakersfield. It expects to expend $2,500,000 on its Kings River project.

THE YOUNG LADY ACROSS THE WAY

The young lady across the way says it would be wiser for the railroads to turn at least part of the $646,000,000 deficit the government has earned for them back into the property than to pay it all right out in dividends.

M. AND M. HEAD SHOWS TRIUMPH OF OPEN SHOP.

Annual Report of President Rice Also Urges Industrial Relations Board to Aid This and Sister Cities.

The annual report of President I. H. Rice of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, made public yesterday, deals with one of the most interesting periods in the city's industrial history. It is in part as follows:

Outstanding among the kaleidoscopic developments of the past year, and noteworthy as an evidence of the final sound judgment of the American people, has been the swift and remarkable change in the sentiment of the public toward the relations between labor and business. It should be a matter of great pride to the members of this association that the cause for which we have worked and fought during a quarter of a century is now so entirely justified by public opinion throughout our country. The soundness and true Americanism of the principle of the open shop is being recognized by rapidly increasing numbers of the people, and you, men of Los Angeles, may take to yourselves no small proportion of the credit as among the pioneers in the struggle for industrial freedom and law and order. This sentiment is taking such firm hold that reference to the open shop in the press now is frequently in the words "American System."

A gratifying feature of this growing recognition of the rights of the employer is its effect as a deterrent to strikes. The more conservative labor leaders are quick to see the folly of butting against the wall of adverse public opinion and are counseling steadily against strike agitations. The result of this attitude will be a clearing of decks of the paraphernalia of battle and an opening of the way for real constructive work in the field of industrial relations.

YEAR OF UNREST.

The past year has been a period of the greatest unrest in industrial history and the losses to labor and business, when contemplated only in dollars and cents, have been appalling. But even though the year was the most strenuous in the twenty-five years existence of this association, it is a fact that the disturbances in this section have been less in proportion to the balance of the country—undoubtedly due to the firm position of this association, backed by the citizens of the city.

It is also true that Los Angeles has been the special mark of the radicals in their activities for unrest and revolutionary agitation, and it has been necessary to expend many thousands of dollars from our special fund in fighting the Reds in this section. The result of our work in this direction has been shown by the numerous arrests effected and by a noticeable lessening in the number of their rendezvous and the frequency of their meetings. It is a pleasure to hereby acknowledge the hearty co-operation of the District Attorney's office in this work.

LOS ANGELES STRIKES.

The most serious strikes with which we have had to deal were those of the street railway men, the bakers and the tailors. These strikes resulted in absolute failure to the unions, and especially in the case of the street-car strikes, the members of this association and the citizens of this city owe unstinted appreciation to the officials of the companies who stood fast under most trying and forceful pressure.

The merchant tailors of Los Angeles are yet struggling under the handicap of a shortage of labor, but are well past the possibility of failure, with the original membership of their organization intact.

ADVERTISING FOR LABOR.

During the extreme labor shortage of last fall your association undertook an advertising campaign to remedy the situation. Plans were made to secure the attention of about 2500 mechanics. Small advertisements were placed in some thirty newspapers over the country and an illustrated booklet prepared as a follow-up. The result has been astonishing: more than 16,000 replies having been received to date.

... interesting development appears in the forms of application for positions returned, in which more than 90 per cent. request to be placed in open shops. This effort has not only brought a number of competent workmen and women to our industries, but has demonstrated the fact that there are many thousands who desire to come to this Southland and work under the banner of freedom—the open shop.

MEMBERSHIP.

Not the least important item of the year's work has been the increase in membership, amounting to nearly 30 per cent. over the total of a year ago. With just a little interest on the part of each member, there is no doubt but that the total can easily be doubled the coming year.

MISREPRESENTATION.

The department of advertising patrol has demonstrated its worth in the handling of a surprising number of cases for the small amount of money subscribed to that fund, with the following results:

Number of complaints received	427
Number of complaints investigated	302
Number of arrests	1
Number of convictions	1
Concerns forced out of business	7
Number of advertisements corrected	49
Number of misrepresentations corrected	208
Number of people who had their money refunded	200
Amount of money refunded by merchants as ordered	$2,641.97

The conviction of a tailor in the police court has had a salutary effect on others whose business largely depends on fooling the gullible.

THE LICENSE TAX.

During the year your board of directors has been in close touch with every public movement of interest to the members. Many questions have come under the deliberations of the board, and suitable committees have met with the City Council, various city commissions and civic bodies, lending their best judgment and advice in the solution of the problems. Most important among these matters was the consideration of the business license tax that became effective January 1. In the opinion of the board, this measure was an unfortunate necessity, and while possibly not mathematically perfect, was the creditable result of unusual labor on the part of the City Council Finance Committee and other city officials. Through resolutions the board of directors is pledged to the support of this vitally necessary tax, and particularly on account of the temporary nature of the ordinance, urges that every member of this association recognize the importance of thus providing a living wage for city employees and to accept the burden in the spirit that has made Los Angeles famous.

It is gratifying to note that the betterment of the City Jail, which has been a subject of considerable discussion by the board of directors, is being taken up by the City Council, with the probable conclusion of most satisfactory improvements.

PLANS FOR THE FUTURE.

For the future, your board sees a great field for a programme of constructive work on the part of this association. The developments in the world of manufacture and business as relating to labor problems has been such that the day is not far distant when the position of militancy with a war chest at hand will be superseded by the broader, more effective and permanent accomplishments of the study and detail working at the causes of industrial unrest. To that end is urged the immediate establishment of an industrial relations department of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, to be administered on scientific and practical lines. In that very desirable movement we are fortunate to have the services of C. A. Fultz, who was elected manager of the association some three months since. Mr. Fultz enjoyed a valuable experience during the war in the industrial relations organization of the government, notably at Hog Island and other points of great concentrations of labor. Many points of detail were during that time solved to a scientific degree, and a digest of the proposed plan

PERIGORD DARES CHURCH WRATH.

Excommunication Won't Stop Wedding, Says War Hero.

Ex-Priest Claims Right to Keep His Own Beliefs.

Will not Attempt to Escape Dire Religious Penalty.

In the face of a declaration yesterday by Roman Catholic churchmen at St. Paul, Minn., that his forthcoming marriage to Miss Emily McBride of Pasadena will mean excommunication from the church, Capt. Paul Perigord, conspicuous war hero, French High Commissioner, officer of the French army and instructor at Throop College of Technology, declared yesterday that the imminent papal ban will make no difference in his plans.

The excommunication question has arisen because Capt. Perigord was ordained a Catholic priest at St. Paul, and the dictum of the church is: "Once a priest, always a priest." It is answered by Capt. Perigord with the statement that, during the war, he voluntarily severed all connection with the Catholic church, because of honest intellectual differences. Archbishop Dowling of St. Paul declares that no priest can voluntarily quit the church.

Wired advices from St. Paul yesterday set forth that excommunication proceedings would be started at Rome with action by the Vatican. Local Catholic churchmen stated, however, that in cases such as the present it is ordinarily considered that the act of marriage accomplishes the excommunication, which is thereafter in effect without a formal charge.

It is natural enough, Capt. Perigord said yesterday, that under the laws of the church he should be excommunicated. However, he added, he must maintain his right to his own honest opinions and beliefs. These have led him, in performing his duty as he saw it, to sever all bonds with the Catholic church, he declared, and no action that church may take will call forth any defense or influence his plans.

Excommunication will mean that he will be cut off from all communion with the church in which he was reared. It is an extreme penalty that is closely linked with stirring events in the church since early Christian times. It was formerly often invoked against heedless and defiant kings, notably Henry VIII of England. Some of the strongest monarchs of mediaeval times feared it greatly, and once excommunicated, humbled themselves to get back within the pale of the church. It is still the most formidable penalty that can be inflicted on a person who subscribes to the tenets of Catholicism.

FREED AS MURDERER WOULD STAY IN JAIL.

PERMIT GRANTED JAPANESE; SAYS LIFE IMPERILED BY HIS ENEMIES.

Though O. Kaneda was acquitted yesterday in Judge Craig's court of a charge of murdering T. Nakamura on August 6 last, he surprised court and jury by asking that he be permitted to stay in the County Jail for a while.

The trial was bitterly fought for a week, with M. G. Phillips and John S. Cooper as attorneys for the accused Japanese, and Deputy District Attorney Randall representing the State.

When the jury brought in the verdict of not guilty, Mr. Cooper said his client wishes to stay in jail until he can leave town secretly for, "though he was acquitted, he feels that his life is in danger from Japanese enemies here, who are now hanging around the courtroom."

The court permitted Kaneda to return to the boarders' tank in jail, upon agreement with Sheriff Cline, until he can leave the city.

The jury was out nearly four hours before reaching a verdict. Nakamura and P. Demizu were killed in a fight in which Kaneda was injured. The fight occurred in front of a so-called Japanese gambling place.

FUNERAL DELAYED.

Await Arrival of Mrs. Engstrum's Son from South Carolina.

Pending the arrival of a son from South Carolina, the funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth E. Engstrum, wife of F. O. Engstrum, Los Angeles contractor, probably will not be held until early next week, according to an announcement yesterday by members of the family. Mrs. Engstrum, who was 65 years old, died Monday morning at the family residence, 601 South Kenmore avenue, following a lingering illness. Frederick Engstrum, the absent son, will not arrive until Saturday. Another son, Paul Engstrum, and a daughter, Mrs. Hugh W. Bryson, also survive her. The Engstrum family has resided in Los Angeles for more than thirty-five years.

TAKEN FOR AUTO THEFT.

Upon information furnished by Deputy Sheriffs Wright and Strong, Charles Witman and H. Burns were arrested yesterday at Yuma, within twenty-four hours of the time they are alleged to have stolen an automobile from Mrs. C. W. Nelson, of 1507 North Lake street, Pasadena.

FIND :: SCHOOL :: FOR :: SHOPLIFTERS.

Nab Whole Family; Wife Accuses Mate; Girls Used as Blinds.

A SHOPLIFTERS' school in which George Sutton, 40 years of age, a switchman, was instructing his wife and two daughters to steal from the local department stores was uncovered yesterday afternoon, police and Nick Harris detectives say, when Sutton, his wife, Mrs. Elsie L. Sutton, 37 years of age, and their daughters, Dessie, aged 18, and Doretta, 19 years, were taken into custody at Seventh street and Broadway. Hidden beneath Sutton's clothing the police found silk underwear and stockings valued at about $150.

At Central Police Station where the family was taken by Police Detectives Taylor and Winn, Sutton confessed to stealing the goods from department store counters and said his family needed the expensive clothing. He told the authorities that he came from Sacramento four days ago and intended going to work for the Pacific Electric within a few days.

USED AS "BLINDS."

Mrs. Sutton and her two daughters who were locked up with Sutton on grand larceny charges denied any part in the stealing. The woman told officers that her husband insisted that she and the two girls stand near the department store counters where he was operating. The three denied ever assisting in the thefts, but admitted they often wore clothing stolen by Sutton.

According to the detectives Sutton always operated with his family. The three women, the police say, were used as "blinds" by Sutton, and also assisted him in escaping if his actions aroused suspicion.

From what the police were able to learn, Sutton after entering a department store would send his wife and two daughters to a silk counter with instructions to price and examine the goods on display. While the three women attracted the attention of the clerks to one end of the counter, Sutton, the police say, would snatch any article within reach from the other end. Although Sutton and his wife both stated that the two girls had never been allowed to take anything from the counters, and Sutton asserted that although his family was at present when he "lifted" anything he alone did the stealing, the police believe the two girls were receiving instructions in shoplifting.

ACCUSES HUSBAND.

In a statement to the police Mrs. Sutton declared that her husband first started to steal from department stores about four years ago. "We lived in Pueblo, Colo.," said Mrs. Sutton. "My husband, who is the step-father of the two girls, first started to steal two years after we were married. I begged him to give it up as I knew that sooner or later he would be arrested. We left Pueblo a couple of years ago and have lived in Salt Lake, Denver and several Pacific Coast cities. We came to Los Angeles four days ago and George was going to work for the Pacific Electric. Now we are all in jail and our lives are ruined."

Sutton, when questioned by the police after Mrs. Sutton made her statement, denied that he had stolen anything before his arrest here.

EMBEZZLEMENT IS CHARGED

Dual Life Also Imputed by Police to ex-Broker, Here Under Alias.

Charged with having swindled his business partner, A. P. Myers, of 1402 East Washington street, out of $3400, R. H. Roe, who the police say has posed here as W. R. Sullivan, manager of the Sullivan-Myers Commercial Illustrating Company, was arrested in the company's offices in the American Bank Building, last night, by Detective Sergeants Shy and Hurt, on a charge of embezzlement.

After Roe's arrest, the detectives declare, they learned that although he has a wife, known as Mrs. W. R. Sullivan, living at 312 Maple avenue, Glendale, whom he married about six years ago and who has a baby, Roe married a Miss Woodman of 417 Magnolia avenue, Long Beach, in Orange, on January 15 last. Recently, the officers say, Roe has lived with the supposed second wife at the Willard George Hotel, at Seventh and Hope streets, until midnight, and then has gone to his Glendale establishment. Mrs. Sullivan No. 2 is prostrated by the arrest and revelations. She is at the home of her brother-in-law, a well-known attorney of this city.

Roe said that he was a well-known broker in New York before he came to this city, about six years ago, but that he became involved in financial difficulties in connection with a $50,000 speculation in stocks in Wall street eight years ago.

Then Roe adopted the name of Sullivan, and came to this city, according to the police and the Pinkertons. He came here and married again, his first wife having died in the east. He obtained work as a newspaper cartoonist for a time.

About six months ago he met Myers and induced him to become a partner with him in a commercial illustrating concern, Myers told the police. Roe was to furnish the experience and Myers the money, according to the latter.

Roe told Myers that he had big contracts with Cecil B. DeMille, and the Lasky motion picture firm, according to Myers. After his arrest, a bill was found by the detectives for $6131 for services rendered to the Lasky corporation. Mr. DeMille and the Lasky offices both stated last night that they did not know either "Sullivan" or Roe, and that they had no contracts with him nor his firm.

Myers said that he furnished Roe with sums totaling $3400. Of this amount, Roe obtained $500 to buy some furniture with and $1200 to pay off a mortgage on some lots in Hollywood, Myers says. Myers declared that he found out later that Roe had not bought the furniture, and did not own any lots in Hollywood.

For the past three days Roe had not been at his office, Myers said, and this caused him alarm. He telephoned to Roe that he had just disposed of some real estate that he owned in the east and that he had another $1000 available for the firm. On this ruse, he arranged a meeting with Roe, and caused his arrest.

Roe refused to comment on the charges.

BARNETTES ARE DIVORCED.

First White Woman in Tanana Wins Decree from Los Angeles Captain.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—Mrs. Isabelle Barnette, 247 Twenty-eighth avenue, first white woman to penetrate the Tanana district of Alaska in the gold rush days, was granted a final decree of divorce today by Superior Judge E. P. McGan, from Capt. E. T. Barnette, founder of Fairbanks, organizer of the First Alaskan Bank at Fairbanks, millionaire mine owner and Alaskan pioneer.

With her final decree Mrs. Barnette was given the custody of her daughters, Virginia, aged 14, and Phyllis, 8 years of age. She sued on statutory grounds, but the other woman's name was not revealed. Capt. Barnette resides in Los Angeles. His wife said the act occurred in November, 1911, but she did not discover her husband's infidelity until 1918.

The court retained jurisdiction over the husband in order that he might order Capt. Barnette to contribute to his family's support should it become necessary. There has been a property settlement, however, and Mrs. Barnette is said to be worth more than $500.000 in her own right.

In the early 90's Mrs. Barnette accompanied her husband to Alaska, with a load of merchandise on a scow. They proceeded up the Yukon to establish a trading post, then turned into the Tanana River. The scow was wrecked and the goods taken ashore. From this small be-

STOCKMEN BACK BIG ENTERPRISE.

Join Commerce Chamber in Union Yards Project.

Important Plans to be Told at Friday Luncheon.

Success Means Vast Jump in Meat Business Here.

Union stock yards of sufficient capacity to handle the live stock of all Southern California, will be established in Los Angeles, if tentative plans made by officials of the Chamber of Commerce are given the active support of packers and livestock men. That this support will be forthcoming is indicated by the results of a canvass made yesterday by members of the committee. Arrangements are in charge of Dr. George P. Clements, director of agriculture of the Chamber of Commerce.

A luncheon will be held Friday at the Chamber of Commerce, for the purpose of perfecting the plans. About fifty meat packers and livestock men will attend. Charles O. Robinson, of Clay, Robinson Company, Chicago, one of the largest handlers of live stock in the United States, will speak on the necessity for the establishment here of adequate yard facilities, and will show what the construction of stock yards has done for other cities.

At the present time the packing industries of Los Angeles represent an annual turnover of about $10,000,000. The establishment of modern stockyards here, it is believed, will greatly increase the amount of business transacted, and in addition, make Los Angeles the center for the selling of feeder cattle. Through the establishment of large yards in Los Angeles, the small livestock dealer would be enabled to handle his stock at a minimum of cost, and this, it is pointed out, will greatly increase production, which, during the past few years has been steadily decreasing. The fact that the large ranches are being broken up into smaller units has tended to decrease the available supply of live stock, and if steps are not taken to stimulate production, it will be only a question of time, local packers declare, when the consumption will greatly exceed the supply, and the demands of the city will have to be filled by drawing upon the middle western markets.

Many local meat packers and livestock men have pledged active support to the movement. Among them are R. L. Bliss of the California Dressed Beef Company; Julius Hauser, president of the Hauser Packing Company; Thomas Brasila of the Standard Packing Company, and Roderick Scott, manager of the Cudahy Packing Company. At the meeting on Friday, it is expected, a committee will be formed to work with Dr. Clements, to carry on the campaign toward gaining the support and co-operation of meat packers and livestock men of Southern California, and the selection of a suitable site.

LIFE'S TRAGEDY READ TO COURT.

Letter a History of Wife's Love, Hopes, Despair.

Deserted, She Pours Vials of Wrath on Soldier.

He Denies Wanderlust Charge, but She Gets Divorce.

A letter by Mrs. Wilhelmina Hough to her husband, Fred Hough, an exhibit in her divorce suit before Judge Crail yesterday, told the story of a young wife's misplaced trust. Mr. Hough received the letter while he was in the army. He had it with him in court and was asked to produce it. Judge Crail, in granting Mrs. Hough a divorce and alimony of $12 a week, remarked:

"This case needs no comment. The story of this woman's tragedy is told in this letter. Let it become a part of the record."

Mr. Hough denied, as charged by his wife, that he was a victim of the wanderlust.

Mrs. Hough wrote her husband

"My reason for suggesting that we live together was because every one said if there was any manliness in you, the war would bring it out, but I see that you are unable to be a man. It's true that you were supposed to have done one act of bravery while in the war, but I honestly believe you were twisted in your directions, and supposed you were fleeing from the Germans. You saw a bit of suffering there.

DESERTION.

"During that time, did you ever think of the wife you deserted six weeks after marriage, leaving her without a cent?

"The woman you promised to protect was forced to work in an office up to the day your baby was born.

"You are right about you being too old to re-marry. But I am not. I am still in my twenties and have a bright future ahead of me still.

"It seems that your running away is chronic, that it began when you were 14. Your excuses for not being able to tie yourself down to married life are rich. It just burns me up when I think of my wasted years. But our child. I do hope she never grows up to draw a mate like her father to cloud her life. You are just a little crumb of dust.

"Marriage is a lottery, and I certainly feel I got nothing. It seems strange that after loving you all these years, how my love can turn to hate as strong as I feel now. The trouble is that I never showed my pep.

FORGIVENESS VAIN.

"I shall get a divorce. You will not dare to face the truth. The only blemish in my past is that I married you. My love was enduring. I forgave you just like a mother forgives her children for what you did, but now hate has crept in and I loathe the thought of my wasted years of waiting for you to change.

"You said you never could be happy in this world. Take care. Enjoy this world all you can, for I doubt if the next will be as good to you. You can't start a minute too soon to make yourself right in this world. You will live your selfish life, and when you are gone, you will never be missed, only that some one might make use of your allotted place.

"Don't ever come back to me. I will never waste one good thought on you again. You are bad from the core out.

"I just looked up now and saw the trunk of a boy going down the sidewalk, two legs gone and one arm—and you with all your body in good condition, saturated with sin, were not harmed. I do not understand—the world to me is still Wonderland, with people always striving to understand."

COURTESY COPS ON STREET CARS.

"Plain Clothes" Officers will Report Politeness of Crews.

The Los Angeles Railway Corporation will adopt a system of "plain clothes" inspectors the first of February, to ride on the street cars and make reports on the courtesy of car crews toward passengers. This is one of the results from a conference just held by members of the Board of Public Utilities and E. L. Lewis, superintendent of the Los Angeles Railway, at which various subjects for betterment of service were discussed.

BONDS ARE BURNED.

Mayor Presides at Official Fire to Destroy Securities.

Beautifully engraved bond paper representing $918,000 went up in smoke and ashes yesterday at the city incinerator on Lesard street. It was an official fire superintended by Mayor Snyder, City Clerk Wilde and City Treasurer Powell. Today they will make formal certification that they have destroyed these bonds, and this will be filed away in the city's archives.

The paper thus destroyed represented a portion of the second issue of the Hollywood water bonds, the complete issue of which was for $1,020,000. The bonds as originally printed carried 5 per cent. interest. Then the war period came on and bonds with this rate of interest were unsaleable; so a new issue was printed, bearing 5½ per cent. interest, and a portion of these were sold. Then came the close of the war, the bond market improved, and it was found that these bonds could be sold bearing only 5 per cent. interest, and it was the remainder of the 5½ per cent. certificates which were burned.

CLOTHING THEFT ADMITTED.

Charged with being a burglar Douglas Truinett, 16 years of age, of 1837 South Hoover street, was arrested in his home yesterday by juvenile authorities. According to the police, the boy confessed to burglarizing the home of S. R. Blake, 3421 South Hope street, on January 26, and stealing some clothing. Part of the loot was recovered by the arresting officers.

AIR DEVIL WILL HELP LIFT DEBT.

Lieut. Locklear to Fly for the Lark Ellen Home.

Thrilling Stunts to Include Daring Aerial Jumps.

Performance will Outdo Any Previous Circus Here.

Lieut. Ormer Locklear, famous for his daring jumps from one airplane to another in mid-air, will stage a thrilling programme Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Chaplin Airdrome, on behalf of the Lark Ellen Home for Boys, which still needs funds to remove the $5000 mortgage. With the assistance of Lieuts. Shirley Short and Milton Elliott, pilots, he promises to give an aerial circus which will outdo anything of the kind previously attempted locally. He will not only repeatedly jump from one plane to another, but will walk around the wings without holding, stand on his head, and straddle the tail. The stunts will be done within 200 feet from the ground, so as to be easily seen. In order to aid the home, the Sid Chaplin Aircraft Corporation has placed its field at the disposal of the "sky devil."

At the airdrome, which is at Wilshire boulevard and Crescent avenue, plenty of space will be provided for parking cars. The Pacific Electric Railway passes the field. Children, accompanied by parents, will be admitted free; for others the fee will be 50 cents. The directors of the home, of which Ellen Beach Yaw is honorary president and Mrs. E. R. Hibbard president, have been working strenuously to raise money to pay the mortage and they yesterday expressed the hope that the public will give them a liberal response Sunday.

TO START SMITH COLLEGE CAMPAIGN.

The Smith College Club of Southern California opened its new club rooms and headquarters for the $4,000,000 endowment fund drive in the Hertel Building, Colorado street and Euclid avenue, Pasadena, yesterday, with a tea in honor of Miss Nellie Olesen of Springfield, Mass., and Dr. and Mrs. W. C. T. Rhoads of Brooklyn, N. Y. Miss Olesen, one of the directors of the Alumnae Association, is in California this winter working for the community service. Dr. Rhoads, who is president of the Vassar Board of Trustees, is a celebrated Brooklyn clergyman, and his wife is a graduate of Smith College. Dr. and Mrs. Rhoads and Miss Olesen spoke in the interest of the fund.

SOCIETY.

BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

Miss Murrieta a Bride.

The marriage this morning of Miss Lita Murrieta and Mr. S. O. Houghton is claiming attention of a large circle of friends in the Southland, where both families are pioneers. The ceremony will take place at 11:30 o'clock at the home of Miss Murrieta's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Murrieta, of 827 South Kenmore avenue. Father Conaty will perform the marriage ceremony in the presence of relatives.

Miss Murrieta will wear a gown of white satin, beautifully draped and combined with some priceless old lace—an heirloom in the Murrieta family. Her long tulle veil will be crowned with orange blossoms and her shower bouquet will be of white orchids. Two darling tots, Betty Murrieta and Elizabeth Houghton are to be flower girls and the only attendants. They are to wear frocks of white organdie sashed in pale green. They will carry little old-fashioned tight bouquets, and will wear wreathes of flowers in their hair.

The house is decorated in multi-colored spring blooms, arranged with palms and ferns. The bridal couple will plight their troth before an altar of these flowers. A wedding breakfast will follow the ceremony. After a honeymoon trip, the couple will reside at Mr. Houghton's country place at Van Nuys. He is the son of Mrs. Eliza Donner Houghton, one of the few survivors of the Donner party, that crossed in 1849. Miss Murrieta is a sister of Dr. Jack Murrieta, who recently returned from overseas service. Her family settled here in 1849 also.

Schiek also told the police that he has been arrested many times in other cities on burglary charges. His record is being investigated.

BUSNIESS MEN WILL HONOR MRS. DORSEY.

FEDERAL TREASURY EXPERT TO ADDRESS THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE LUNCHEON.

The education of Los Angeles children and a lesson in finance for business men will be the mental menu provided by the Chamber of Commerce at its luncheon, Saturday noon, at the Alexandria Hotel, in honor of Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, newly-elected superintendent of schools.

Arrangements were completed yesterday by the chamber for the appearance at the luncheon of Orrin Lester, associate director of the savings division of the U. S. Treasury Department, who will arrive in Los Angeles Saturday morning to give a talk to business men. He will tell what the Treasury Department sees beneath the surface of the present business conditions. He has been touring the Northwest, carrying his financial message to business men.

Secretary Frank Wiggins announced yesterday that because of the interest in the selection of Mrs. Dorsey to lead the school system of Los Angeles women of the city will be welcome at the luncheon. Reservations may be made at the chamber, and the usual custom of first come first served will be observed.

LONG BEACH VOTES BONDS.

At an election in Long Beach yesterday in which but a small percentage of the electors participated two out of five bond issue proposals carried.

As a result of the election city securities amounting to $500,000 will be issued to provide repairs and extension to the municipal water works system. It has become a necessity, owing to the recent growth of the city, to extend the mains, drill more wells and enlarge the pumping facilities.

Growth of the town has also increased the fire hazard to such a degree that the voters favored issuing bonds for $75,000 to provide additional fire stations, the location of which are to be decided by the department of public safety.

A proposition to bond the city in the sum of $240,000 for a civic center; $75,000 to purchase lands for public parks, and $25,000 for repairs to the Pine-avenue pier, lost by small margins.

NOT AN EPIDEMIC.

Seems as if they were trying to make an epidemic of influenza out of waste paper. Out of 1800 cases reported at Camp Grant there was but one death. A thousand cases of almost anything from hangnails to cold feet would develop more fatalities than that.

AFTER THE KAISER.

Now that this business of extraditing the Kaiser has developed into a letter-writing contest it seems too bad that our noble President cannot be in the thick of it. Whether ill or well he still wields a most pregnant and potent pen. He almost made Carranza behave and there is no telling what he might be able to do with a Dutch queen.

LOOKING BACKWARD.

It is only a couple of seasons back that Hiram Johnson declared that any association of a Progressive with the dead Republican party was a covenant with hell. Now he is trying to make that covenant himself, but is bitterly opposed to the one of the League of Nations for which the great majority is clamoring. As a political prophet Hiram is a third-rate blacksmith. Some of his words should make fine eating.

ONLY ONE SIDE.

Organized labor consolidates its forces upon the principle of collective bargaining. There is no serious objection to or remonstrance against the idea, but there is a demand that a bargain be something more than an idle word. Where is the union that has kept its oath and contract inviolate? An employer must be expected to keep his agreements and does so, but a union is not incorporated, has no responsibility and its obligations are mere scraps of paper. That is the reason why any collective bargain made through a union is a one-sided one and lacks the elements of justice. The record made by the unions is against them.

THE SHRINKING VIOLETS.

The Bolshevik Ambassador declares that Lenine has dropped the idea of taking over the world in his programme of revolution and is willing to let America alone. He says that soviet Russia can defy the rest of the world, anyhow, and therefore it is not longer necessary for the revolutionists to take over the rest of the universe. This is an unusual exhibition of modesty and forbearance on the part of Lenine. Presently he will be allowing Wall street to loan him money, although he says he has enough to tide him over till spring. If he can give a good bond to keep all his revolutions in Russia some attention might be paid him, but there is always a question about the quality and endurance of his backing.

U. S. SALARIES ABROAD.

Secretary Lansing's request for increases in the salaries of ambassadors, ministers and consular service abroad was scarcely timely in view of the slump in all foreign exchange. The American dollar may have depreciated in purchasing power at home, but it can buy nearly twice as much as other money abroad.

For instance, for all the food rationing and other discomforts, good servants are still to be had in plenty for $15 and $20 a month in England, and these wages are deplored as "high" at that.

And, although staple foods are scarce, the Food Control Board sees to it that there is no profiteering in the essentials at any rate. A measure to send private stocks of food to United States representatives abroad in lieu of part of their salaries would be much more reasonable at this time. In the matter of mere money they are better off abroad than they would be at home on the same income.

A GRASPING GENERATION.

Most of the profiteering in the apartment-houses is due to a new crop of landlords. Many of those who had to carry the houses through the lean years learned to value a tenant and to treat one with consideration. But when there came a demand for apartment-houses they sold their holdings or leases to others. They really wanted to get out from under and when they were paid prices that seemed to offer a chance they took it. Now there is a stiff speculation in this class of property and the investors imbibe the get-rich-quick spirit. The first thing a new landlord does is to boost the rent of his tenants or devise some new schedule of special charges. There is no possible service in certain apartment-houses for which an extra charge is not now made, although only a few seasons back tenants not only had their water, light and heat included in their rent, but their ice and laundry work as well. Now there is a special charge for almost everything imaginable and tenants are required to pay it whether they use it ir not. There is a new class of landlords—a class which seems devoid of heart and conscience and apparently determined to pay for their holdings or leases in the profits of a single season. The old-time owners are not so greedy.

HOOVER THE MAN.

FOR the first time in American political history a young Lochinvar has come out of the West, big enough, able enough and popular enough to shatter eastern prejudice against a western product, and be elected President. This year California has a favorite son whose renown is so great that two political parties are rivals for the honor of naming him as their candidate. That man is Herbert C. Hoover.

Tom Reed once said that a statesman was a successful politician, who was dead. Honor has come to Herbert Hoover during his lifetime. In America his name has become a household word; while he is regarded in the capitals of our Allies as the greatest man that the war produced. He is not a politician, never has been and never will be; but he possesses the economic understanding necessary to reorganize the industries of the country, to inject efficiency into government departments, to reduce the expenses of the Federal government and to dispel the unrest in the country, due in a large part to faulty administration of government institutions.

Hoover is not the candidate of the politicians. If he receives the Republican nomination it will be because the sentiment of the Republican voters is so strong for him that the politicians will be powerless to defeat him. It is well to keep in mind that a Republican convention is a truly representative assemblage. The electors of the different States select their own delegates; and if they have a decided preference for President, the delegates by their votes give expression to it. And Herbert Hoover is a Republican. Despite the attempts of the Democrats to abduct him, The Times is in position to state authoritatively that he would not consider a nomination by any other party.

Hoover is a staunch supporter of Republican policies. His activities as a mining engineer and as an organizer of great enterprises have forced him to spend much of his time in recent years abroad; but he began voting the Republican ticket when McKinley was a candidate for President and has not since departed from that faith. His certificate of membership in the New York Republican Club should set at rest all doubts concerning his party preference.

Democrats are seeking to claim him by reason of his association with the Democratic administration during the war. Hoover is one of the few Republicans whom President Wilson called to his aid. But it must be remembered that the President also drafted Elihu Root; and none would care to argue that Root renounced his Republican faith when he became the head of the mission to Russia. The President also drafted Mr. Charles E. Hughes and Mr. Schwab and a number of other leading Republicans. While head of one of the most important government departments, it must be remembered that Mr. Hoover served as a dollar-a-year man and resigned as soon as war activities ceased. That was the act of neither a Democrat nor a politician.

Hoover is as much the man of the hour in 1920 as was Abraham Lincoln in 1860. The two have many traits in common. Both worked with their hands; both educated themselves; both cared much for the essential and little for the superfluous; and both live in the hearts of the common people. Hoover lives in an economic age, in an industrial era; and it is largely to his economic understanding that he owes his present popularity.

No other department was handled so well during the war as the food administration. When the war began it was regarded as a kind of accessory to the Department of Agriculture. But before Hoover had been long at its head the possibilities of the food administration became apparent. It was through his organization that France was enabled to send a million men from her farms to the front and into war industries. It was the food administration that cared for the refugees from the battle area, that kept alive the spark of resistance in Belgian breasts, that supplied food for the workers in the French and British munition factories, that fed the soldiers on all fronts, that saved millions of women and children from death by starvation. And it was all done with so little friction that the average citizen was hardly aware that it was taking place. The Red Cross units which have returned from Europe can perhaps give the best testimony as to the service the food administration rendered.

Hoover was the one department head who never failed, who was never found wanting. He organized the food administrations for the British and French governments; he fed our Allies during the armistice; he organized relief for more than 2,000,000 children who, but for his efficient service, would have died of cold and hunger. Is it any wonder that the great mass of American voters, regardless of party affiliations, look upon Mr. Hoover as the one man who, in the fullest sense, measures up to the Presidency?

Partisan candidates are certain to fare badly this year. The people have had enough of purely partisan politics. They are seeking a President who will be above class and political domination. The Times believes Herbert Hoover is that man. A caustic Democratic politician in the East has already observed that Hoover would undoubtedly be the choice of the women and children of the country, but that women and children do not elect Presidents. For such politicians a rude awakening is in store. More than 20,000,000 will be eligible to vote in the November election, and a politician who fails to reckon with that vote is certain to be badly fooled in his calculations.

In California alone more than half a million women will be registered; and a great majority of those women know Hoover through his work, and have confidence in him. No politician will be able to win them from him. Indeed, representative women of California are taking a leading part in the organization of Hoover-for-President clubs throughout the State.

Hoover has made his residence in California since boyhood. He came here from Iowa in early youth and graduated from Stanford University. He has carried with him in all his great enterprises the enthusiasm and the broad, independent vision of the Far West; and that enthusiasm has caught the country. On January 21 the New York World, regarded as the ablest Democratic paper in the country, threw party ties to the winds and announced that it was for Hoover on any ticket. Admitting that Hoover's record showed him to be a Republican, the World expressed a doubt whether a Republican convention would nominate him, because of his association with Wilson during the war, and declared that it was the duty of the Democratic party to secure Hoover as its leader, with the least possible delay. But the World announced that: "We would not hesitate to support him (Hoover) as the Republican candidate on a platform representing the kind of government Mr. Hoover has exemplified in his public career."

But The Times is of the opinion that Mr. Hoover will have been already nominated by the Republican National Convention and his campaign will be well under way when the Democratic National Convention meets. It will do no harm, however, for the politicians in the Republican party to know that Hoover is the choice of the Democratic party, as well as of their own. As far as California is concerned, her sons and daughters will esteem it an honor to name a delegation to the Republican convention composed of loyal supporters of Herbert Hoover.

FALSE PROPHETS.

Dr. Sherer gave voice to wisdom in his patriotic speech at the Pershing banquet. Almost as many crimes are being committed in the name of Americanism as have been in the name of liberty. Dr. Sherer says there are at least four false prophets abroad in the land wearing the mask and lisping the shibboleth of Americanism. They are the plausible internationalist, the selfish isolationist, the impudent anarchist and the insolent profiteer. All false prophets may quote scripture to serve their errant purpose. The internationalist proclaims that if America would become chief among nations let her become less than them all. The isolationist brazenly asks the age-old question of Cain: "Am I my brother's keeper?" The anarchist cometh as one who brings not peace, but a sword. The profiteer would not let the right hand know what the left hand doeth—or whom it doeth—for the left is in your pocket while the right is industriously waving the flag. He also exemplifies the text: "To him that hath shall be given," or as interpreted by the old lady: "Him that's got gits." Dr. Scherer might have added the colors under which the false prophets march. There is the white of the internationalist, the yellow of the isolationist, the red of the anarchist and the black flag of the profiteer—who has become the privateer of trade. Dr. Scherer said that he heartily approved the government's efforts in deporting the Reds, but if we would put half as many profiteers in jail we would be in far less danger of contracting the red flu of Bolshevism. One of our greatest present dangers is that of anarchistic greed right here at home. We have made 18,000 brand new millionaires in the last three years and many have had cause for suffering and discontent in the making.

It is a fact that most of the restlessness and agitation has been founded upon notorious examples of profiteering that are vividly brought to the public mind. When people are being confronted by a curtain of steadily rising prices and realize that they are being gouged for exorbitant and unnatural profits they soon begin to see red.

Of the four false prophets indicated the home-grown profiteer is perhaps the most perilous of the lot to the future welfare of the republic, yet he is apt to hold himself as one of the safe and sane citizens, who lives in an atmosphere of civic and private virtue, who prates potently of patriotism and thanks his God that he is not as other men are.

NOT WORTH IT.

Too much attention is paid by the newspapers to the utterances of William J. Bryan, the man who deserted his post in the Cabinet at an hour of great trial. Bryan would have been politically dead years ago but for the publicity given him by the daily press. He is striving desperately to come back in his old role of candidate for the Presidency. With the keen eye of a press agent he recognizes a good story and contrives to be in it. Gov. Edwards of New Jersey created such a story when he promised to make that State as wet as the Atlantic Ocean. Immediately the great publicity-seeker forced himself in as a character. The news purveyors helped him. To the mind of the writer they showed poor judgment. They ought to recognize that, politically speaking, Bryan is moribund. He depends on them for the breath of life. They should refuse to give it. In this Bryan-made controversy over Gov. Edwards one would think that William speaks for Nebraska. But, does he? The papers of that State are arguing whether or not he has forfeited his right to be classed as a Nebraskan. They say he has accumulated so many homes it keeps him busy visiting them all. The New York Daughters of Nebraska evidently share the belief that he no longer belongs to the State. One of the women of the society was asked the other day if it was planned to give Mr. Bryan a reception when he visited New York. "I haven't heard that he is coming and I hope that I don't," was the chilling reply. Mr. Bryan has been acting of late as if he were the leader of the Democratic party. He removed himself from consideration by all parties when he played into Germany's hands at the time of the Lusitania outrage. Remember the Lusitania when you remember Bryan—and that means forget Bryan as a Presidential possibility.

It used to be a favorite expression of the late J. Pierpont Morgan that "character was the basis of all credit." With that as an argument we don't see where Germany comes in as a borrower of American money.

However, we hear nothing about Georges Clemenceau going into the movies. There is the example of William Gibbs McAdoo.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

WINTERLESS.

Some countries have no weather embracing ice and snow; for twelve long months together the balmy breezes blow; and sometimes when I'm weary of sullen skies and dreary and chill winds, sad and eerie, I to such lands would go. I'd dodge the wintry rigors and atmospheric crimes; but then I think of chiggers, which haunt the sunny climes; and there the skeeters carry their drills and raise Old Harry, and I resolve to tarry at home and write my rhymes. In summertime I'm lazy and have no pep or vim; and I feel tired and crazy and weak in every limb; I spend the long day resting, flies in my whiskers nesting, and all my soul's protesting when I must write a hymn. If I were camped where breezes are always soft and mild my verses would be cheeses and readers would be riled; for he who'd do some trilling and earn an honest shilling must feel his pulse thrilling with pep and vigor wild.
The winter winds are wailing throughout the bitter night, and chunks of snow are sailing around me as I write; but cold is stimulating; with zeal that's unabating my deathless pomes I'm crating; my energy's a sight. WALT MASON.

Ain't It Just So?

Last Sunday I went to church with
A Baptist friend, although I am a Methodist, and I had a rising in My head and couldn't hear very Well from where we sat, and at
The end of the services the preacher said something and my friend
Jumped up and I jumped up, too,
And he said, "No, sit down, he
Is asking the Baptists only to Stand up," and I sat down and
Then pretty soon the preacher
Motioned with his hand again,
And my friend said, "Now you may Stand up," and I did, and the book
I had on my knee fell and made Quite a bit of noise and every-Body looked at me, and I sat
Down, and then my friend got up
Again and I was going to remain
Seated, but he said, "Get on up,"
And the book fell again, and I
Said it myself: "I'll be on time Next time," and as soon as the Preacher made the rising motion
I sprang up. Alas, he was asking
For volunteers to donate $1000
To the New Church Fund! I don't Believe I like to go to churches

Prof. Dink Beeson says it's a pity that good things seldom last long and that the State of Tennessee was originally organized under the name of the State of Franklin and that coon skins and whisky were legal tender.

A gallon of whisky was valued at a shilling, and a first-class coon skin ditto.

All the State taxes and the salaries of the State officials were to be paid in this tender.

Sir Thomas More's dream of Utopia, and the Utopia of Friends Lenine and Trotzky were mere nothings compared to the dream of the founders of the State of Franklin.

They have been advertised so much, too, pro and con, while one has to delve in the mustiest tomes of the Public Library to find any mention of the latter.

Ben Franklin invented so many things to which posterity owes him gratitude, like lightning rods and heating stoves and Daylight Saving.

It was peculiarly fitting that this happy land where a penniless man could take a shotgun and go to the woods.

Or a bushel of yellow corn and go to the creek bottoms and, with the proper perseverance and skill, provide himself with the necessities of life.

Should have been named in his honor.

Red Cross Director Brings Story of Suffering.

Widow of "Times" Explosion Victim in War Work.

Urges Quick Ratification of Treaty as it Stands.

Everything possible is being done by the people of France to help themselves, but there is still great need of America's assistance, especially in the lines of medical supplies and agricultural implements, so is the statement made yesterday by Mrs. Katherine L. Llewellyn, who after more than a year spent as director of the American Red Cross, District of the Marne, arrived in Los Angeles, yesterday, en route to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Loney, at Pomona.

Mrs. Llewellyn, whose husband was a victim of the wholesale assassination by the McNamara gang of The Times Building was dynamited in 1910, has been working in the devastated region of the Marne since January, 1919, although for several months previously she had been in Red Cross work in other parts of France. The district presided over by Mrs. Llewellyn is about [illegible] square miles in area, with headquarters at Chalons.

"When the Red Cross first reached the devastated region, conditions were terrible," said Mrs. Llewellyn. "Desolation and ruin were everywhere evident. Not a building remained intact and the suffering of the people was appalling. Conditions have improved considerably, thanks to the help of the Allies and the indomitable courage of the French people, but there is much yet to be done. The greatest need at present, I believe, is for hospitals and medical supplies, especially since tuberculosis has begun to make such ravages among the chil-

While at Chalons, Mrs. Llewellyn met several Los Angeles people, among them being L. N. Brunswig, who was there in August, 1919, and Miss Mary Agnes Kelly, who was connected with the Red Cross department of the Aisne and who is now teaching at the Franklin High [illegible]

Speaking of the League of Nations, Mrs. Llewellyn declared, "I am certainly in favor of the immediate ratification of the treaty, with-[illegible] reservations. We must keep faith with our Allies. COLLECTIONS JUMP.

Effect of New License Law Seen in Notable Increase.

A statement issued by the City Auditor's office yesterday shows that while the city license collections for the quarter ending December 31, 1919, amounted to $119,494.42, those under the new license tax ordinance, for the period from January 1 to January 27 amounted to $174,168.51, or an increase of $54,672.89 over the entire license receipts for the previous quarter.

Should the payments for the remainder of the present quarter continue in like ratio, it is expected the total will run close to the estimate of the Finance Committee of the Council; but as a certain proportion of the payments are for yearly licenses, it is too early to determine what may be expected.

Unpaid license taxes will be come delinquent next Saturday, and penalties will be added thereafter.

TO DO WORK FOR BOTH THE CITY AND COUNTY.

Mayor Snyder yesterday sent to the City Council the appointment of Percival E. Edouart to succeed B. R. Jones as horticultural commissioner for the city. The Council's action on confirmation was laid over one week, under the rule usually applied by that body in the case of appointments. Mr. Edouart is county horticultural inspector, and this office also handles tree inspection within the city, so it was thought best to combine the positions.

If you want to know how much easier it is to quit the habit with Nicotol than without it, go twenty-four hours without tobacco and note what an effort it costs you, then begin using it as usual and take Nicotol tablets. At the end of a week discontinue smoking or chewing for a day, and it is probable you will have no desire to resume. At least your desire will be greatly diminished and another week or two should make it not only possible, but a pleasure, to quit.

NOTE: Dr. Conner, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital, under whose advice Nicotol has often been used, said when this statement was shown to him, "I have known Nicotol to conquer the tobacco habit in less than ten days' time and I can therefore recommend it highly." When the doctor's statement was shown to one of our leading druggists he said: "Nicotol is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit, way ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol is sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists, including The Owl Drug Stores.—[Advertisement.

QUERY ROUSES BORAX MAGNATE

Action Indicates Desire to Punish Wife's Lawyer.

Spectators Thrill at Vision of Court Fisticuffs.

Thorkildsen Says He is Much Poorer Since Marriage.

Drawing an inference from a remark addressed to him by Attorney P. I. Manson of San Francisco, of counsel for Mrs. Selina Livingston Thorkildsen, suing in Judge Works's court for divorce on sensational charges, Thomas Thorkildsen, borax king, yesterday afternoon changed color and made a move as though to get out of the witness stand. It was a thrilling moment for the spectators in the crowded courtroom yesterday afternoon, as it looked as though Mr. Thorkildsen, a rugged man, was purposing to advance on Attorney Manson. Believing that Mr. Thorkildsen was ill, Judge Works immediately adjourned court until this morning.

Mr. Manson was questioning Mr. Thorkildsen with reference to deeding to his sister, Miss Corrine Thorkildsen, a house in Oxford street after his marriage.

"Is your sister married?" he asked.

"No," was the reply.

"Then she has no family?" queried Mr. Manson.

Attorneys for Mrs. Thorkildsen say that the remark merely meant that being a single woman with no one depending upon her, they wanted to know why Mr. Thorkildsen deeded his sister the house. The court stated he saw no harm in the question.

MINES AND WINES.

Mr. Thorkildsen was called to the stand by his wife's attorneys to ascertain his financial standing. He was thoroughly examined by Mr. Manson as to his business connections, salary as manager for the Sterling borax mines and dividends he received. Mr. Thorkildsen's answers were brief. He was then questioned as to his purchases of wines and other liquors for the purpose of showing, it was stated, that he had spent considerable money in buying these refreshments. He was asked if he did not have a large stock in his Canyon-drive home and replied there was a case of Scotch whisky in the basement and a couple of bottles in his private bar in the famous amusement room. He denied that the new stone structure recently built was a storage room for liquor.

The examination developed that Mr. Thorkildsen had entertained one evening, Dalton Bolton, the Los Angeles automobile man, who subsequently was accidentally drowned in the Thorkildsen bathing pool, and two girl friends. Mr. Bolton had taken to the house. Mr. Bolton, he said, got sick, and one of the girls volunteered to remain. Witness said he took the other girl home.

This, Mrs. Thorkildsen's attorneys claim, is only a link in the evidence on the line of misconduct.

WEALTH DECREASES.

Under the examination of Attorney Shannon, Mr. Thorkildsen testified he was worth about $500,000, at the time of his marriage to the plaintiff. When the divorce suit was filed, he said he was worth about $400,000. Questioned as to how he spent his portion of the $650,000 dividends from the Thorkildsen-Mather Company of Chicago, declared in 1916-17, Mr. Thorkildsen replied that he invested $80,000 through Oliver Mitchell, secretary of the company, in a moving picture company; nearly $100,000 in the Manganese Association; $20,000 in other ventures, living expenses and automobiles. His examination along these lines will be concluded this morning.

SON OF LLOYD'S HEAD ARRESTED

last fall, and have nothing but a lot of memories to show for it. When that money ran out I took what I thought was the easiest way, writing checks.

"I returned from France in October, 1918. I have never done any work in my life, except a little in motion pictures. It's the easiest thing in the world to spend $200 or $300 a day, if you buy clothes for women, diamonds, jewelry and give big parties. But I have been a pure fool. It was all drink, but, gosh, I wish I had a drink now."

Becker said that he has always had plenty of money, and went with the sons of rich men, always holding up his share of expenses at parties.

"My father took me to hotels in San Francisco and told them not to cash checks for me, but after he did that I needed $200 to pay for a party and they cashed it without trouble.

"My father would say, 'No.'

"I would say, Yes.

"I never thought he meant it, and he never thought I meant it, but it looks like he meant it this time and like I'll be in this jail for some time. I always thought, because my father was a man of influence, he could, and would help me out in the end. I guess it will all come out right."

Becker was attired in fine clothes, and wore silk socks and a silk shirt yesterday, while eating the meals given in the "boarder's tank."

On January 12, according to information given the court, Becker rented a limousine, chauffeur and all, in San Francisco and took a leisurely trip down the coast, stopping at Del Monte, the Ambassador Hotel, Santa Barbara where he says he passed a fictitious check for $175, and winding up at the Ship Cafe, Venice, where he got $50. He said he did not know how many other checks he cashed, but there were many, he asserted.

A week ago he met the girl he says he was to marry. He declined to give her name, but said she was a student at the University of Michigan, and is an eastern girl. She is 21. Becker said he took a year's course in the agriculture school of Stanford University, but couldn't stand it any longer. He was a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

CHIROPRACTIC IS NEARLY 25 YEARS OLD

First Treatment Given in This Country on September 18, 1895.

Since September eighteenth, 1895, there have been hundreds of thousands of cases benefited.

The clinical records show that there is hardly a recognized form of disease which has not been benefited at some time or another.

The treatments are given with the bare hands which removes the pressure on the nerve which is generally the cause of the ailment. A Chiropractor does not use medicines or drugs of any kind and yet his record of achievement measures up most favorably with the results obtained by any other profession that treats human ailments.

Any good Chiropractor can give you a long list of cases where he has been able to relieve the condition.

Chiropractic is coming into its own due entirely to the results it has given, in many cases where other methods have failed.—[Advertisement.

1,938 students in 57 educational courses.
7,017 boys and men in 375 Bible classes.
131,745 boys and men attend all religious meetings.
4,716 young men strange to Los Angeles aided in finding good rooming accommodations.

GROWERS DEMAND BETTER SERVICE.

WANT ROADS RETURNED TO PRIVATE OWNERS—BOY ADVENTURER.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, Jan. 27.—Orange county citrus growers claim they had better shipping service before the government took over the rail lines than at present, and have started a telegraphic bombardment of California representatives in Washington, asking return of the railroads to private ownership.

Two telegrams were forwarded today by the Tustin Lemon Association, and the Golden West Citrus Association of Tustin, protesting against the Plumb plan and government operation, and asking a return to private rail operation at as early a date as possible.

BOY ADVENTURER.

The vivid imagination of a 15-year-old boy run wild, which caused alarm several weeks ago when he claimed to have been the victim of two criminal attacks, today caused the boy to "disappear" under mysterious circumstances, and his deception to be discovered. The lad is Frank Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnson, of 814 South Main street. The boy disappeared from his home during the night, and a note, written in hobo characters, intimated kidnaping and a forthcoming demand for ransom. At 2 o'clock this morning his absence was discovered by his parents and officers notified.

The boy had taken his bicycle, and this afternoon it was found in the hills above Orange County Park. He is unusually bright for his years and a craving for excitement is believed to have led him to dupe his parents and friends with his disappearance and his former hair-raising stories of brutal attacks.

CALEXICO, Jan. 27.—Five gunny-sacks containing five cases of half-pint bottles of whisky are now in charge of Customs Inspector E. R. Brown, and Immigration Inspector Morris, who apprehended an automobile with two men coming across the line. There were 220 bottles, and the loot was valued at approximately $1100, basing it on prices for which it would sell.

WOMAN'S CLUB HITS AT H.C.L.

Organization at Pasadena Puts Ban on Spuds.

Crown City to Entertain Gen. John J. Pershing.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Jan. 27. — The Shakespeare Club, the leading women's organization of Pasadena, and one of the strongest in the State, has boycotted the purchase of potatoes until the price becomes reasonable. This action was taken today at a meeting of the club, and the stand of the club is likely to receive the indorsement of the Women's Civic League at its next meeting.

The Shakespeare Club, through the cost of living committee, will urge all women's organizations of the city to boycott potatoes as long as the price continues high. All women who will pledge themselves to refrain from the purchase of potatoes have been requested to register with members of the cost of living committee of the Shakespeare Club. The members of the committee are: Mrs. W. D. Crocker, wife of a retired banker; Mrs. Calvin Hartwell, wife of the County Coroner; Mrs. Leo G. MacLaughlin, wife of a prominent realty dealer and clubman; Mrs. J. H. Woodworth, wife of a pioneer realty dealer and builder, and Miss Mida Webb, prominent in club circles.

In recommending the boycott, the committee showed that one year ago local potato prices were $3.25 per 100 pounds at credit groceries, and $2.80 at cash groceries, and today were $6.75 and $7 per 100 pounds, while some fancy potatoes in the local market are selling as high as $8.33 per 100.

TO WELCOME PERSHING.

Pasadena will tender a welcome to Gen. John J. Pershing Thursday, when the commander of the American Expeditionary Forces is to be the guest of the Crown City. The plan of entertainment includes an automobile drive about the city, a visit to the American Legion headquarters, where he will be the guest of the Pasadena Post, a municipal picnic at Brookside Park, where Gen. Pershing will give a short address, and a visit to Gen. W. A. Kobbe's residenc, 116 South Grand avenue, to call on his former comrade in arms in the Philippine campaigns.

TO GET BETTER SALARY.

After serving two months as a Pasadena patrolman at $150 per month, C. S. Langstaff has given up his position on the force to become a brick mason. He has a five-year contract with a building concern in Texas at $11 per day, and lost no time in taking the first train for Texas.

PROMINENT CANADIAN HERE.

George Lane, one of the greatest farmers and stockmen of Canada arrived in Pasadena today to remain for the winter months. Mr. Lane is regarded as the greatest Percheron horse breeder on the western continent. On his big farms in Alberta last year he produced 350,000 bushels of wheat and is now engaged in building a flour mill having a capacity of 8000 barrels daily. Mr. Lane believes that horses are coming back despite the increase of automobiles. He believes that the animals will always be used, although not to such an extent as in the past.

ENGINEER TO LEAVE.

Having been elected City Manager of South Pasadena, Robert V. Orbison, City Engineer of Pasadena, is planning to resign. He is to take up his new duties the first of the month. Orbison was named for the position by the South Pasadena Council and is to receive a salary of $275 per month. He recently completed the survey for the proposed municipal railway between Pasadena and Los Angeles.

JAIL SENTENCE ENDS HIGH SCHOOL PRANK.

ONTARIO YOUTH PLEADS GUILTY IN JUSTICE OF THE PEACE COURT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ONTARIO, Jan. 27.—Melville Wing, aged 20, Chaffey High School senior, was this afternoon sentenced to a fine of $10 and ten days in the County Jail when he pleaded guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace. The complaint grew out of an attack on William Manker, Chaffey junior, who was pulled from a motor car in which he was driving Miss Calina Magill to a class party and forced to submit to a crude partial haircut.

Wing paid the fine and the jail sentence was suspended so long as he refrains from further alleged hazings.

Alex Matlin, 17, who was arrested with Wing and turned over to the Juvenile Court, was dismissed by Judge Rex B. Goodcell, who told the youth to warn all other Chaffey students that similar offenses would be severely dealt with in future.

The youths were arrested upon complaint of E. A. Magill, wealthy rancher and member of the Board of Education, after his daughter, who was Manker's companion at the time of the attack, had been brought home in a state of collapse as a result of the affair. Merton E. Hill, Chaffey High School principal, has promised a searching investigation into other reported hazing activities.

CROP SHOWS PROFIT.

Tulare County Grapes Bring Grower $1000 an Acre.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 27. — Returns which are coming in now for Emperor grapes held in storage and shipped to the late eastern markets, indicate the highest net profits in the history of the district.

H. Sanderson, business man of this place, reports net profits of slightly more than $1000 per acre for all of his vineyard in bearing. Three carloads of the last shipments made by him of grapes packed in drums, brought $6 per drum—nearly twice the quotations for last year—or at the rate of over $3000 per car, net.

Due to this record a large area of the Woodville district lands will be prepared for planting to vines this spring.

ORDER FROM DANIELS STOPS JACKIES' FUN.

SAILOR BOYS NOT ALLOWED TO VISIT RACES AT TIA JUANA.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Jan. 27.—Sailors as well as commissioned officers from the Submarine Base and the superdreadnaughts in port were disappointed today when an order was received from Secretary Daniels prohibiting all navy men in uniform from crossing the border into Tia Juana.

Many of the men had planned to spend possible furloughs in the Mexican city, from where glowing reports are received which describe the city as replica of one of the California cities of the early days, with horse racing and gambling going on full force.

The order from Secretary Daniels, however, does not prohibit officers or men traveling on the San Diego and Arizona Railroad, which crosses the international boundary for a short distance. No delay outside the United States will be permitted.

Officers and men wearing the United States Army uniforms will not be barred from Tia Juana, according to present advices. Maj. S. W. Stanley, adjutant at Fort MacArthur, stated today that no orders have been received which would prohibit soldiers from going to Tia Juana.

BONDS BRING PREMIUM.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CALEXICO, Jan. 27.—Bonds recently authorized at a special election for civic improvement sold at par, accrued interest and a premium of $4,476, on a $113,000 issue in the face of a rugged bond market, City Clerk Paul Steindorf reported to the City Council last evening. A San Francisco firm was the highest bidder.

"The bid is considered highly satisfactory, and from the city's point of view, was larger than the commissioners had anticipated," he said.

FOR INDUSTRIAL COUNCIL.

...Stability and accountability ...community rest squarely and equally upon the shoulders of employers and employees. Each should therefore be fair with the other in order that they may both be fair with the community, which supports them.

CHANGE IN SPIRIT.

Trade unionism had its birth in intolerable conditions. Its father was the unfair American employer. In its childhood and young manhood, trade unionism usually sought only fairness. In its full-grown manhood, trade unionism seems to have inherited some of the vices of the father, and has become more or less radical and unfair. In some instances it has been badly advised by un-American counsellors. At times, too, it has shown a rather alarming tendency toward unfairness, and the violation of the law.

The majority of American employers have long since seen the light, and today they are very sincere in wanting to be fair. The majority of American employees have also seen the light, and they are equally sincere in wanting to be fair.

Actually to accomplish the desired results, procedure must be along the lines of progressive conservatism. Radicalism, undue selfishness, minority domination, fighting and intolerance can have no place. They are destructive and un-American things and result only in hardships for everyone.

A far-visioned, broad-gauged, thoroughly sound and constructive American programme, based upon exact knowledge and fairness, must be instituted, and it is felt that in no better way can this association serve its members and the community than by seeking to lay the foundation for this work by establishing an industrial relations department.

DETAILS OF PLAN.

The scope and the work of this proposed industrial relations department is tentatively as follows:

(1.) To establish a competent industrial relations council, which will be thoroughly representative of the employers of Los Angeles.

(2.) Through this council to set up an effective clearinghouse of industrial relations information.

(3.) To make a thorough survey of industrial relations, working conditions, and general terms of employment in Los Angeles.

(4.) To gather from employers, employees and all other available sources, data, constructive criticism and statistics covering the subject.

(5.) To establish a bureau of information covering various phases of industrial relations and including a library of literature upon the subject.

(6.) To publish and distribute, as occasion may arise, bulletins covering interesting developments and helpful plans in the field of industrial relations.

(7.) In short, this department will seek to supply the equipment for carrying on constructive programmes in matters of industrial relations. Its object will be to try to help in solving one of the most vital problems of the day in a practical, common-sense, business-like way.

TO HELP NEIGHBORS.

A condition that is not pleasant to contemplate is the labor condition of many of our neighboring cities, in some of which the industrial and commercial life is being all but throttled by the arrogant and selfish policy of radical labor bodies. It is obvious that the status of the open shop will be difficult to maintain in this city if our distributing territory comes under the weapons of boycott and sabotage, and it is, therefore, necessary that we undertake in at least a directing way, the work of alignment of the business interests of our sister cities. Active effort is now under way to assist the employers and merchants of these cities to organize effectively to combat these aggressions, and this work will form a considerable part of the broader programme of effort for the ensuing year.

OUR SECRETARY.

This report would be sadly incomplete without reference to the faithful and tireless efforts of our secretary, F. J. Zeehandelaar. While far from a well man, our "Zee" has stuck to his job early and late, and the writer can testify on many occasions to seeing him performing the duties of his office while suffering most excruciating pain. In recognition of his valuable and tireless services for nearly twenty-five years, and in view of the larger programme of usefulness planned for the association, the office of manager has been created to take over the executive responsibilities of the association. Mr. Zeehandelaar, of course, retains his position of secretary, that the association may lose none of the vast experience and knowledge gained by him in a generation of application.

In conclusion, let it be impressed upon the members not to be too well satisfied with the indicated accomplishments. It is one of the striking faults in human nature to easily accept what has been done, with too little resolution for the labors of the future. Our work has just begun. Your whole-hearted cooperation is necessary in the furthering of our plans, and every effort you may put into this association will bring its reward at least in the great satisfaction of having done your part.

NOW LEVY FEE ON "EXHIBITS."

Government Includes Cafes and Dance Halls in its Newest List.

Proprietors of public exhibitions, in which is included cafes and dance halls, will hereafter have to pay an annual fee of $15 to the government, under a ruling received here yesterday by Internal Revenue Collector Carter.

How cafes and dance halls happened to get in the exhibition list isn't explained, unless the itching palm of the average cafe waiter and the catch-as-catch-can of the dance hall may be classed as "exhibits."

WIFE-SHOOTER IS HELD.

After an all-day hearing in Justice Palmer's court, Raymond C. Potter was held to answer yesterday on three charges of assault with a deadly weapon upon his wife, Mrs. Wilda E. Potter, and on Barbara E. Williams and Orin Fitzwater. Mrs. Potter, who was shot through the right eye and has been in a hospital until recently, appeared to testify against her husband. Her face was bandaged and it was said she will probably lose one eye.

In spite of the fact that Potter admits he fired the shots on a crowded Venice electric train, no eye-witnesses have been found. Deputy District Attorney Hill criticised the police at Venice for not obtaining names of witnesses.

In court Mrs. Potter carried her seventeen-months-old baby, Margaret. She said Potter was cruel to her and that he asserted the child was not his. She declared that charge is false and also denied that she went out with other men. Bail was fixed at $10,000, and Potter was returned to the County Jail.

NAVY GUNS ROAR TODAY.

The 14-inch guns of the superdreadnaughts New Mexico and Idaho and the 10-inch guns of the battleships Texas and Mississippi, will be fired today for the first time since the coming of the Pacific Fleet to western waters, if the dense fog, which has hovered over the Catalina channel for several days, lifts this morning. The four vessels will hold initial target practice between the islands of Catalina and San Clemente.

For several days the battleships have been holding preliminary practice a short distance outside Los Angeles Harbor, the crews going through the detail work of firing the big guns, with the exception of touching off the charges. Instead, 1-pounders adjusted to the big guns, were discharged.

The four ships will fire for three days, starting today. All shipping concerns that ply along the Southern California coast have been warned to keep well outside the danger zone, as the range from the ships to the targets will aggregate about 35,000 yards.

ELIGIBLE FOR DIOCESE POST.

Nominees for Coadjutor to be Named Today.

Dean MacCormack is Favored for Office Here.

Women Have Second Day of Episcopal Convention.

Dean William MacCormack of Los Angeles, Dr. George Craig Stewart of Evanston, Ill., Dean Hughell E. W. Fosbroke of New York, Dr. Z. H. Phillips of St. Louis, Dr. James Freeman of Minneapolis, and Dr. George Davidson of Los Angeles—these are the candidates who, in all probability, will be nominated this morning as candidates for coadjutor bishop of the diocese of Los Angeles at the convention of the diocese in session here, according to local church officials yesterday.

The election will not be held until tomorrow morning when it is expected that about 150 votes will be cast, since eighty out of the eighty-nine clergymen of the diocese are expected to be present and the seventy parishes and missions will send delegations which will be entitled to one vote, each.

The issue of the election does not seem to lie so much between "High Church" and "Low Church" as between the proposition to elect to the important office an eastern clergyman instead of a Californian.

It was indicated yesterday that Dr. Stewart, who is rector of St. Luke's Church at Evanston, Dean Fosbroke of the General Theological Seminary, Dr. Davidson and Dr. MacCormack are leading in the support of the delegates. Dean MacCormack is strongly supported.

The second day of the convention, yesterday was in charge of the Women's Auxiliary. Officers for the coming year were appointed and reports of the work of the year just closed were read. Women's part in the follow-up of the nation-wide campaign was discussed.

The officers of the auxiliary for the coming year are Mrs. Philip C. Hubert, president; Mrs. Josiah Evans Coles, vice-president at large; Miss Helen G. Magill, vice-president; Mrs. G. A. Hansen, vice-president; Mrs. H. W. Sinclair, vice-president; Miss Jane Rouse, vice-president; Mrs. Franklin D. Simons, recording secretary; Mrs. Paige Brown, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Arthur C. Stilson, assistant corresponding secretary; Mrs. B. Marshall Wotkyns, secretary box work; Mrs. Abriel Leonard, treasurer; Mrs. Joseph H. Johnson, honorary directoress; Mrs. Arthur Geans, secretary Junior Auxiliary; Miss Evelyn F. Adams, secretary, Little Helpers; Mrs. F. W. Stockton, treasurer of the United Offering fund; Miss Rebekah L. Hibbard, educational secretary; Miss Laura G. Smith, correspondent of the Los Angeles Churchman; Miss Josephine E. Wheelock, correspondent of the Church Periodical Club.

At the morning session, reports were read and pledges for the coming year were made. Rev. A. L. Fletcher addressed the meeting. It was decided to hold the meetings of the auxiliary monthly, instead of quarterly, as previously. Mrs. Coles read the report of the annual convention at Detroit in October and reviewed the work done by the organization throughout the country.

Last night the Girl's Friendly Society gave "A Pageant of Girlhood," in the Parish House. It was given as one of the mystery plays that the church has instituted in a number of places to take the place of the Sunday evening services. The play is not meant to take the place of the service each week, but is used to stimulate attendance occasionally. The characters were all denicted by young women of the church.

GET TWENTY THOUSAND.

First Three Hours in Y.M.C.A. Dollar Drive Show Good Results.

The barometer of dollars in the campaign of the Y.M.C.A., which opened yesterday in Los Angeles, Hollywood and San Pedro, jumped past the $20,000 mark at the end of the first three hours of the drive, according to reports made by division leaders.

A report luncheon was held at noon yesterday in the central Y.M.C.A. Building, at which all team and division leaders, with the exception of San Pedro, reported the progress of the campaign for the first three hours.

The total for the canvass from 9 a.m., when the drive opened, until the noon luncheon, was $20,792.

The goal of the drive has been set at $750,000, which, it is expected, will be raised before the close of the campaign, Friday, February 6, at midnight.

LAWYERS QUIT.

So the Case Against Promoter Accused of Fraud is Continued.

Because counsel gave notice that they desired to withdraw from the case, J. Monroe Flowers, president of the so-called "Automobile Club of America, International," accused of obtaining money by false pretenses from Richard Rinker, did not plead to the charge in Judge Willis's court yesterday. The time for entry of plea went over until Friday. The attorneys who wish to withdraw are W. T. Helms, Fred Spring and Frank Allender.

MUTE TAKES WATCH.

Deaf and Dumb Man Robs Jewelry Store on Fourth Street.

After indicating with his fingers that he was deaf and dumb, a well-dressed young man late yesterday afternoon picked a $50 gold watch from a tray of watches in the Gem Jewelry Company store at 212 West Fourth street and walked out before B. Winstin, the clerk, discovered the watch was missing.

According to Winstin the deaf and dumb man pointed to a tray of watches and after looking over the timepieces shook his head and walked out, shortly afterwards the disappearance of one of the watches was discovered.

General Pershing Honors Page Military Academy

The cadet battalion of Page Military Academy was drawn up in line Monday afternoon to greet General Pershing. As the General approached, he sighted the little fellows standing at attention, and, raising his right arm as a signal to those behind him, he said: "We stop right here." With the rapidity that characterizes all his movements, he opened the door of his machine and stepped out. He was plainly astonished. Here were two hundred youthful cadets many of them only 6 to 7 years old, their captains only 12 to 14 years of age, yet so well disciplined that General Pershing remarked, "Every one a good soldier."

Shaking hands with the youthful captains, General Pershing said, "This is the finest sight I ever saw." He congratulated Major Schouten on the splendid appearance of his battalion, and remarked, "I would like to hug every one of them."

While General Pershing was inspecting the battalion the school band was playing, its harmony adding much to the gala occasion. After the General had returned to his automobile, as he ran his eye along the soldierly line he remarked, "This is worth seeing," and so he drove away.

SEEK DONATIONS.

Children's Hospital Salvage Department Issues an Appeal.

An appeal to all friends and supporters of the salvage department of the Children's Hospital to donate salable articles was made yesterday by Mabel W. Frankenfeld, manager of the salvage salesroom, 712 Maple avenue.

Equipped with a truck bought with money raised by Otheman Stevens among the many friends of the salvage department, the organization will now be able to call for the more bulky bundles. The salvage department of the hospital is the outgrowth of the efforts of the late Mrs. Otheman Stevens, who was the originator of the salvage movement for the Red Cross. The hospital's salvage organization is a voluntary one and every cent raised through its efforts goes for the care of sick and crippled children.

BOYS SEEK FUNDS.

With $1000 raised through their tag sale Saturday, the boys of the Woodcraft League of America yesterday started in upon their week's campaign to secure a fund of $3000 for the establishment of a permanent camp. Headquarters during the campaign have been established in the log cabin of H. B. Dyas store in the basement of the Ville de Paris, where voluntary contributions will be received.

GEOGRAPHY COURSE FOR BUSINESS MEN.

The extension division of the University of California yesterday sent a letter to more than 100 business men and teachers of Los Angeles setting forth that the growing importance of Los Angeles as a seaport has caused the university to organize a special course in commercial geography, which will open Monday, at 6:30 p.m., in room 414, Metropolitan Building. Dr. James F. Chamberlain, associate professor of geography in the southern branch of the University of California, will direct the work.

Headquarters of the university extension division are located at 628 Metropolitan Building.

Old Gregory has Driving Power

Sixty-five years old, but still keen and active, a power in business and among friends. What is at the back of his "drive"?

It's health—lungs sound, blood pressure normal. And back of his health are regular habits—proper elimination.

Yes, it's largely this habit of regular bowel evacuation that keeps "old man Gregory" young. The poisons of constipation effect more destructive changes in the body than perhaps any other cause. Keep your system free of these poisons by habitual, daily movements.

If you have difficulty in cultivating this habit, remember that by an entirely new principle Nujol will keep the poisonous waste moving out of the body. Every other form of treatment either irritates or forces the system. Nujol works on the waste matter instead of on the system.

Nujol prevents constipation by keeping the food waste soft, thus helping nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take—try it.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing Nujol trade-mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, New York, for booklet "Thirty Feet of Danger."

WEDNESDAY MORNI

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

This is a Short Letter, but it Brings a Message of Importance to every Woman.

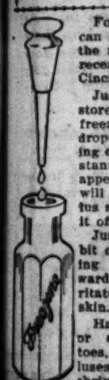
Woodford, Vt.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills before my child was born and it did wonderful work for me. My baby weighed eight and one-half pounds when born and I did not suffer many pains. You can publish this letter if you wish for I would not be without your medicine before childbirth."—Mrs. JOHN LIND, Woodford, Vt.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's ills is because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence, and as it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs it is a safe medicine for women.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read, and answered by women only.

DROPS OF MAGIC! LIFT OUT CORNS

Sore, touchy corns stop hurting, then lift right out with fingers



For a few cents you can get a small bottle of the magic drug freezone recently discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone. Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching corn or callus and instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you lift it off with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns, or corns between the toes, also hardened calluses on bottom of feet, shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is almost magical.

Ladies! Keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.—[Advertisement.

Get rid of Indigestion and Stomach Worries with "Pape's Diapepsin"

"Really does" put weak, disordered stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness due to acid fermentation — that — just that — makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach antacid and regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments and turns sour, you belch gas and eructate undigested food or water; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy in its harmlessness. A box of Pape's Diapepsin tablets costs so little at drug stores too.—[Advertisement.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance. Tastes nice. Contains no quinine. Insist on Pape's.—[Advertisement

CANADIANS ENJOY PICNIC.

Former Dominion Residents Stage Annual Frolic; to Build Motor Boat.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, Jan. 27.—Turning Bixby Park into a miniature Dominion of Canada, a crowd of more than 4500 former and visiting Southern California Canadians held their annual midwinter picnic here today.

The celebration was a complete success from every standpoint. There was the customary and popular outdoor sport of renewing old acquaintances and the exchange of reminiscenses. Market baskets laden with choice viands were placed on the park picnic tables at noon and a hearty meal enjoyed. Hot coffee was served on the grounds.

Following the lunch, Mayor William T. Lisenby of Long Beach welcomed the visitors in behalf of the municipality. He spoke highly of the dominion visitors whom it has been the good fortune of Long Beach to entertain and extended a hearty hospitality to the picnickers.

Among the prominent Canadian speakers who delivered short addresses are Mrs. A. B. Ormsby, president of the Women's Canadian Club of Toronto; Chief Justice McGuire, Saskatchewan; J. T. Caroutthers, former Minister of Labor at Ottawa, and Col. H. A. Mullins of Winnipeg.

A feature of the picnic was the registration of the Canadians by provinces. The Picnic Committee in charge of today's celebration was headed by P. F. Bredt and G. N. Buffum.

SECOND MOTORSHIP.

The keel for the second steel motorship to be built for the California and Mexican Steamship Company for the Mexican Southern California trade was laid at the plant of the Long Beach Shipbuilding Company today. The vessel will be smaller than the Mazatlan, the first boat built for the new concern, in order to make some of the more shallow Mexican ports.

The new ship for which the keel was laid today will fly the Mexican flag and will remain in Mexican waters. Long Beach is the home port of the Mazatlan, which will make one round trip a month to the southern country.

It was reported today that still a third ship would be built in the near future for the California and Mexican Steamship Company. It is understood that the third craft would be of the Mazatlan type, with the exception that it would possess still more speed.

February 16 is the date set for the maiden voyage of the Mazatlan, the first steel vessel constructed for the California and Mexican Steamship Company by the Long Beach Shipbuilding Company.

Officials of the company, including J. McMillan, general manager Francis Navarro and Enrique de la Vega, were in Long Beach today on business connected with the sailing of the Mazatlan.

Several hundred tons of cargo has already been secured to go south on the first voyage of the vessel as well as a good sized passenger list. A round trip to the following ports will be made by the Mazatlan every twenty-five days: La Paz, Topolobampo, Mazatlan, San Blas, Manzanillo and at times Guaymas, on the Gulf of Lower California.

FUTURE PICNICS.

The former and visiting residents of Hayes county, Nebraska, will meet and organize a permanent association at Bixby Park Sunday. A basket dinner will be enjoyed. It will be the first event of the kind for the Hayes county residents.

Former residents of Onarga, Ill., will hold their annual picnic at Odd Fellows' Hall, Broadway and American avenue, February 5. A basket dinner will be a feature of the gathering.

INDIAN DEPARTMENT IS DISMAL FAILURE.

RED MEN IN CONVENTION AT RIVERSIDE HEAR MANY SPEAKERS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 27.—"Until the Indian department at Washington is abolished you people can never hope to obtain any of the help you are asking for," was the declaration of Miss M. Burgess, for thirty years in the employ of the department, in addressing the Indians gathered here today for a six days' conference.

It is not the fault of those in charge of the operation of the department, she added. "They dare not criticise or they would lose their positions." Miss Burgess's appearance was dramatic to a degree; she followed Chief Standing Bear, a Sioux Indian, who had been voicing his complaints against the department. As they passed there was a flash of recognition. "My first teacher," he exclaimed. "A man I have been looking for for forty years," responded the former teacher. The Chief was a student of Carlisle in 1897. The Indians are guests of Jonathan Tibbetts. They were greeted in addresses delivered by Mayor Porter, Dr. Ben S. Haywood, Supt. F. M. Conser, A. F. Sherman, Institute Indian Commissioner Sweet, and others.

BAD LUCK IN CHUNKS.

Burglary, Fire, Auto Accident All His New Year's Lot.

It may be that 1920 is scheduled to be a year of unprecedented prosperity, it may be that with the Leap Year comes an era of good luck, but the man who tells J. D. Greene these facts in the spirit of good cheer, will have to back them up with known instances.

Ten days ago, Mr. Greene, one of the greeters of the Alexandria, suffered at the hands of a burglar. Jewelry of value was taken, but that mattered little to Mr. Greene, when he discovered that a quart of old bottled in bond whisky had departed with the thief.

Then several hundred dollars' damage was done to his home by fire.

He was crossing the street the other night and when he woke up, the doctor said, there were two ribs broken, but that in all probability he would recover.

Mr. Greene says that if any one wishes him a happy New Year next January 1, there is going to be a scene then and there.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLER TAKEN EAST TODAY.

Curtis L. Anderson, formerly secretary and treasurer of the Rockford Produce Company of Rockford, Ill., arrested here by Deputy Sheriffs Wright and Strong, on a charge of embezzlement of $4500 of the company's funds, will be taken east today by Sheriff Baldwin and Deputy Robertson, for trial. THE BARNETTES ARE DIVORCED.

ginning Capt. Barnette developed into a merchant and banker and accumulated a large fortune. On that spot the town of Fairbanks arose.

In 1906, Capt. Barnette, then worth more than $10,000,000, was sued by James H. Causten, a customs agent of St. Michael, who alleged that he had furnished to Capt. Barnette the goods which were subsequently wrecked on the site of Fairbanks. After having grubstaked the captain, Causten said, Barnette refused to give him anything. The suit was adjusted.

After leaving Alaska the Barnettes made their home in Los Angeles, where they lived together until 1918, when she sued for divorce. Capt. Barnette of late years has invested heavily in lands on the west coast of Mexico. A number of bandit operations have occurred on his Mexican estates.

IDAHO JUDGE URGES MORE DEPORTATIONS.

TELLS ASSOCIATION REDS CANNOT BE PERMITTED TO PREACH REVOLUTION.

"Lenine's and Trotzky's followers in America, who are seeking the destruction of the peace, the liberty and the very life of the best government the world has ever known, should at once be deported or otherwise effectually disposed of by the United States government," I. N. Sullivan, for twenty-six years a Supreme judge of Idaho, Saturday told 500 members of the Idaho State Association at Sycamore Grove. The celebration marked the first of the 1920 series of State society reunions.

"The ideals of Americanism are written in the Declaration of Independence, in our Constitution and in the hearts of the majority of the people of our land," said the speaker. "Unfortunately there is an element of vicious and ignorant followers of Lenine and Trotzky who would tear our government to shreds and tatters, would create another French revolution, would erect their red flag and write upon it, 'There is no God, no goodness, no sacredness in the family relation.'

"It is against this element that the people are rightly raising their voices. Law and order we must have if we are to have a free government and if the sanctity of our homes is to be preserved. Furthermore, honest labor, decent capital and the public, generally have decided that one-half of 1 per cent. of the inhabitants of America shall never be allowed, by strikes and lawlessness, to starve and freeze the other 99½ per cent. of the population."

MEAT MEN CHANGE NAME.

The local organization of meat men at a recent meeting changed the name of the Retail Butchers' Association of Southern California to the Retail Meat Dealers' Association of Southern California. PERSHING AT SAN DIEGO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 27.—Gen. John J. Pershing, leader of the American Expeditionary Forces in France, spent a busy day in and about this city today on a tour of inspection of military establishments. After official work he devoted some time to sightseeing in the city, in which he had never been before, and concluded the day's programme with an address at a banquet given in his honor at a local hotel.

Although there was no public affair on the day's programme, Gen. Pershing met with crowds at various times. It is expected that a large crowd will greet the general tomorrow afternoon when a public reception will be given in his honor at the great outdoor Spreckels Organ in Balboa Park. In this affair the local post of the American Legion, one of the strongest in the State, will play a large part. Gen Pershing is on the programme for an address.

On his arrival here early today Gen. Pershing was met by a committee in which were Maj.-Gen. Joseph E. Kuhn, commanding at Camp Kearny; Brig.-Gen. Joseph H. Pendleton, of the Marine Corps; Rear Admiral Henry A. Wiley, Rear-Admiral Roger Welles, Mayor L. J. Wilde and a number of citizens. After a brief meeting at the train, Gen. Pershing went to Camp Kearny, where he held a formal inspection and review. Gen. Pershing expressed surprise at the size of the enormous parade ground and pleasure at the good discipline and appearance of the men and the general appearance of the camp, in which were trained two divisions for overseas work.

"As it appears to me," said the general later, "Camp Kearny is ideally located for an army camp."

On the way to the automobile from the train this morning on his trip to Kearny the general stepped out several times in response to requests from young girls to snap his picture.

The review was like a triumphal march of victorious heroes who had just returned from battle and the general seemed immensely pleased. The units reviewed were the Thirty-second Infantry, the Motor Transportation Company, Quartermaster's Detachment, miscellaneous formation and two gun companies.

It consists of diamonds, valued at $5000; real estate, $6500; an automobile, valued at $1500, and an income of $400 a month from a trust fund of $100,000 held by the American Trust Company of St. Louis. FOR WORTHY WORK.

Smith College Campaigners List Money Needs of Institution.

All of the money received in the Smith College campaign for $4,000,000, which is now under way, will be used in betterment work for the college, workers declared yesterday. The larger part of the fund, $1,500,000, is to be used as an endowment to increase salaries of the faculty. Another $1,500,000 is to be used to construct dormitories, the income from which will also be applied to professors' salaries.

The library endowment will get $200,000; music building and auditorium, $250,000; gymnasium and swimming pool, $200,000, and buildings for physics, geology and psychology, $200,000. The remainder is to be used for maintenance of buildings and repairs.

Smith College has an enviable reputation. During the war it sent the first and largest college women's unit to France, and is maintaining it in Somme while the acute need lasts. The college is not a vocational one; its purpose is to train women not for a specific occupation, but for the manifold vocations, occupations, and emergencies of modern life.

Commissioner Long up to the close of business last night. All of the preliminary examinations held by Commissioner Long have involved violations of the War-time Prohibition Act.

Whether the condition is caused by everybody obeying the law, or for the reason that the new Federal machinery has not yet begun to function, is a matter about which good men may differ.

As a fitting finale to an unusually successful exhibit, nine cups are to be presented tonight to the owners of prize winning rabbits at the annual exposition and championship show of the Southern California Rabbit and Pet Stock Association at 241 South Broadway.

BEET GROWERS WILL DEMAND MORE MONEY.

NEW FIGURES WILL BE BASED UPON SEABOARDS PRICE FOR REFINED CANE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DENVER, Jan. 27.—Members of the National Sugar Beet Growers' Association, in convention here today, voted to demand more money for their product. A sliding scale, based on the seaboard price of refined sugar, was adopted.

The association voted to demand contracts for prices ranging from $12 to $21 a ton, based on a minimum of 9 cents a pound for sugar. Each advance of 1 cent in sugar prices would bring $1.50 additional per ton to the growers. Refiners have offered a flat contract of $12 a ton, which growers rejected. Each State organization, however, was left free to accept a compromise with refiners from the national organization's schedule.

Wages of farm labor in caring for the beet crop will be advanced this summer, the convention agreeing to a 15 per cent. increase. This was said to mean an increased cost of $4 an acre for cultivation. A 5 per cent. increase in wages for labor in thinning and 10 per cent. in pulling and topping was adopted. A proposal for a $1 a ton above the average yield of ten tons to the acre was rejected.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

STOCKHOLM, Monday, Jan. 26.—The Employers' Association today adopted a resolution that a lockout would begin immediately where possible and that all shops represented in the association would close by January 31. This action followed a decision of the labor unions not to end the strike, which has already affected 50 per cent. of the plants in the country.

Union-labor leaders, fearing the growing Bolshevik influence in their ranks, opposed the refusal to end the strike, but had small influence, apparently. It is probable a split will take place in the ranks of union labor.

HEARST, JOHNSON RUMORED ALLIES

Gould, Manager for Wood, Claims Combine is On.

Says California Senator may Lead Third Party.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Representative Gould of Seneca Falls, the newly-appointed eastern manager of the Gen. Wood boom for President, predicted today at his headquarters in the Imperial Hotel that Gen. Wood's lead would be steadily increased. He declared that within a few weeks it would become apparent that he is the great popular favorite of the country and his nomination will be assured.

Mr. Gould also said that he had been informed by a prominent New York City man that Senator Johnson of California is receiving overtures from William R. Hearst, looking to his becoming the candidate for President on a third party ticket on a platform declaring unrelenting opposition to the proposed League of Nations.

Mr. Gould said: "I have today been informed by a New York man who keeps informed about large political movements that there is a combination impending between Hearst and Senator Johnson, looking to Mr. Johnson being the candidate for President on a third party ticket. There seems to be a tie that binds Senator Johnson and William R. Hearst.

SAYS WOOD IS LEADING.

"Gen. Wood is obtaining such a big lead that there is no longer any doubt that he will be the nominee for President at the Chicago convention. Here it is the last week in January and we are so well in front that it makes a stern chase for all the other aspirants.

"Five Governors, after full consideration of the politics involved, have declared for Gen. Wood. They are Allen of Kansas; Burnquist, of Minnesota; Shoup of Colorado; Norbeck of South Dakota, and Bartlett of New Hampshire. Everyone knows of the great strength of Gen. Wood in Massachusetts, Michigan, Indiana and Ohio. We have a good lead in the race and the lead is widening every day.

"Determined efforts are being made by the Lowden men in South Dakota and in Michigan to overcome Wood's lead, because South Dakota is the first Middle West State to hold primaries, and Michigan is the first large State. Michigan has thirty delegates. Neither the Harding nor any other Republican followings are making serious efforts for candidates outside their particular States. Gen. Wood has just returned to Chicago from a two days' visit to Grand Rapids and St. Joseph, Mich.

"Ex-Senator William Smith introduced him at Grand Rapids, and announced that he would support him with all his power. Thereafter Republican leaders met Gen. Wood and assured him that he was Michigan's choice.

WILL ANSWER CHALLENGE.

"Gen. Wood will answer the challenge of Senator Poindexter and the letter of Senator Borah asking him to state his position on the League of Nations. Among the letters of support received by Gen. Wood in Chicago last week was one from Billy Sunday."

William A. Orr, campaign manager for Senator Poindexter of Washington, reports he has received a telegram from Maj. Robert P. Johnston of Concord, the New Hampshire Bull Moose leader in 1912, that candidates for delegates in New Hampshire had filed official notice of their intention as follows: Gov. Bartlett, pledged to Wood; Frank Knox, of Manchester, pledged to Wood; V. T. Keyes of Haverhill: Fred Estabrook, Nashua, Jessie Barton, Newport; Alfred Stanley, Lincoln; Frederick Beckwith, Dover; Benjamin A. Worcester, Manchester, unpledged. The New Hampshire primaries will be held on March 9.

Col. William A. Cooper Proctor, chairman of the Leonard Wood Campaign Committee, announces that Lieut.-Col. Thomas W. Miller, former Congressman at large from Delaware, would be associated with Congressman Gould, as assistant eastern manager.

Since his return from France, last summer, Mr. Miller has been a member of the Executive Committee of the Leonard Wood league, and while in Congress was a member of the National Republican Congressional Committee.

MRS. CARLOTTA ALZINA DEAD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SANTA CRUZ, Jan. 27.—Mrs. Carlotta Alzina, born ninety years ago within the shadow of the Santa Cruz Mission, and widow of an alcalde of the early days, died here today at her home in the upper plaza, in the house next door to the one where her life began. She was the oldest living authority on mission life in Mexican days. Her late husband, Francisco Alzina, became the first Sheriff of Santa Cruz county after the admission of California to the Union. Seven children and more than thirty grandchildren survive Mrs. Alzina.

MAE MARSH HERE.

WILL START MAKING GASMIER FILM NEXT WEEK.

By Grace Kingsley.

Arriving in town on Monday, was Mae Marsh, accompanied by her four-year-old baby, Mae, Jr., who is the very picture of her famous mamma. Miss Marsh in private life, you know, is Mrs. Louis Lee Armes, and Mr. Armes explained that her husband was at home in New York, writing magazine stories to "buy more for the baby." Also he's buying a home for his family on Long Island.

Miss Marsh, who is now a Gasnier star, expects to begin work on the first picture she has made since she left the Goldwyn studios more than a year ago. The story is from a book called "Mary Kerry." She was the guest, yesterday, of Mildred Harris Chaplin, at the Maier studios in East Los Angeles, where the two lunched together and took a look at the new sets which are to serve as a background for the new picture on which Mrs. Chaplin is about to begin work under direction of John Stahl.

The two stars, who have been friends since childhood, when both began their picture careers at the old Griffith studios, had much to talk about, and Mrs. Chaplin, who lost her own little one last summer, was especially interested in her chum's baby, on whom she promises to bestow many gifts in the form of playthings, even if the Louis Lee Armes heir is already well-stocked in that particular.

Miss Marsh and her baby daughter are living at the Beverly Hills Hotel, but the star expects shortly to lease a house in either Hollywood or Glendale.

—o—

Daily Meouw.

It may be neither here nor there, but—

A certain star at the Lasky studio, reported to be engaged to be married, but not wanting the fact known, wears her engagement ring on her little toe!

Lois Wilson is studying French, but won't tell the real reason why.

—o—

Fatty Adrift.

Roscoe Arbuckle had a mighty good chance to reduce his famous weight, no later than night before last, when he and a party of his players, consisting of Mabel Scott, Tom Forman and Eddie Sutherland, got lost up in the desert near Death Valley.

It seems that Arbuckle, accompanied by his players, started Monday morning in his own machine for desert location where scenes for "The Roundup" were to be made, and where he was supposed to meet his director, George Melford, and others. However, the two parties missed each other, and after looking around in vain, Melford and his actors returned to town. Arbuckle and his companions were not so lucky. They had a blowout, and night came on while they were attempting to repair the damage to their machine. The party started out, but finding they were lost, they decided after an hour's wandering, to stay where they were until morning. They drank water from the radiator, but had no food until yesterday morning when they returned home.

Rolin to Build.

The Rolin Film Company has purchased land at Culver City, and will erect a studio for the housing of its comedy stars. Work is to be commenced in the near future.

—o—

Dwan Company Returns.

Allan Dwan and his players have just returned from Del Monte, where they made scenes for his current picture, "The Scoffers." Included in the company were Mary Thurman, James Hogan, James Kirkwood, and Bernard Durning.

—o—

Polly Chewed Gum.

Polly, the Metro studio parrot, got stage fright or something, the other day, and refused to perform its part in Alice Lake's latest Screen Classic picture play, "Shore Acres." In other words, it wouldn't open its mouth when it was supposed to be talking a blue streak to the hero. Finally the bright star, Alice Lake, offered a good suggestion to Rex Ingram, director. It was adopted, with the result that Polly chewed gum like a telephone operator, looking as if she were talking all the time.

But later Polly got back at Miss Lake. The bird waited until visitors were on the set watching the young lady work, and then called out from its cage behind the scenes: "Hey, Alice, let me chew your gum till recess!"

—o—

Didn't Know Why.

Gloria Swanson, leading woman in Cecil de Mille productions, arrived at the Lasky studio the other morning and forthwith made an announcement that she had just purchased a set of books.

"What are they?" Bebe Daniels inquired.

"I don't know," Gloria answered.

"You don't know!" Bebe marvelled. "Then why did you buy them?"

"I don't know!" said Gloria again. "Well—" began Bebe, looking a bit worried on Gloria's account.

"You see it was this way," said the blonde lady of the screen. "The book agent had me cornered. I said 'No,' twelve times by actual count; and he still persisted. Then the eternal tradition of thirteen proved right again—that is, for me, not for the agent—for in order to escape, I said, 'Yes.'"

—o—

Harry Carey Back.

Harry Carey has returned to Universal after a six weeks' rest, spent for the most part on his ranch, and is ready to begin on the production of "Luck," by John Frederick. Lynn Reynolds will direct.

—o—

Greater Love Hath None.

We'll say Taura Aoki is a real philanthropist. A physician recently prescribed champagne for one of the Universal actresses taking part in Miss Aoki's picture. But, owing to red tape necessary to get the drink by prescription, also owing to its cost, it looked as if the suffering lady would have to do without any bubbles in her diet. Then came forward Miss Aoki and donated several bottles of champagne, and now the invalid is reported doing as well as could be expected.

—o—

Anita Stewart Busy.

Anita Stewart is filming preliminary scenes of "The Yellow Typhoon," her next Louis B. Maier production, at Laguna Beach.

—o—

Ramsey Wallace a Star.

It appears to be lucky to become a Morosco player, aside, I mean, from the intrinsic luck of such an engagement itself. All seem to graduate into film stars with big salaries, beautiful homes and h.p. autos. Included in the list are Douglas MacLean, now an Ince star; Edmund Lowe, David Butler, about to be featured in his own productions, and Charles Meredith.

The latest Morosco player to achieve stardom in the films is Ramsey Wallace, remembered here for his excellent characterizations in "Our Little Wife" and "Innocent." Mr. Wallace was engaged to play star parts in B. A. Rolfe's picturizations of Robert W. Chambers's novels. These are being distributed by the First National Exhibitors' Circuit, and the first of them, already completed, and entitled "Even as Eve," will be shown at the Kinema next week.

Colleen Moore with Christie.

From the Christie Film Company comes the announcement that that enterprising concern has signed up Colleen Moore on a long-term contract, providing for a large salary, and on which she will start working as soon as she finishes with Sessue Hayakawa. This reverses the procedure by which comedy stars usually go into the drama.

—o—

So is Chic Sale.

It now comes to light that Chic Sale, appearing at the Orpheum this week, will as soon as his present tour is finished, about the middle of next month, return to town in the capacity of a Christie star.

Mr. Sale's first photoplay will be a five-reeler, adapted from Irvin S. Cobb's "The Smart Aleck," after which he will be starred in other well-known stories suitable to his talents.

While in New York recently, Charles Christie, the business head of the Christie Company, entered into a contract with the Exceptional Pictures Corporation to produce the Sale feature comedy, which is to be released by Robertson-Cole.

Chic Sale has been a vaudeville headliner for some time, interspersing his variety activities with occasional plunges into big musical comedy productions such as the Ziegfeld Follies and the Shubert Winter Garden shows.

—o—

In for Politics.

Alexandra Carlisle, who is remembered here for her delightful work at the Mason in "The Country Cousin" is going in for politics. She announces her candidacy for delegate to the Republican National Convention, and has entered the contest from the back bay district of Boston, where she lives.

—o—

Chauncey Olcott Guest.

Chauncey Olcott, at the Mason this week, is renewing acquaintance with a score of old friends in this city, by whom he is being entertained. He expects to make a trip to Catalina by airship before he leaves the city.

—o—

Galli-Curci Pays.

Mme. Galli-Curci has secured her divorce, according to Chicago advices, and has paid her husband the sum of $50,000 in settlement of his claims to all the property held by the two jointly, both in this country and in Italy.

It is said that the famous diva gave a sigh of relief and then hurried down to the Federal Building, where she entered into the necessary preliminaries required to become an American citizen.

—o—

Mabel Taliaferro Weds.

Mabel Taliaferro is married once more, this being the third time. Word is just received from New York to this effect. But, though this is Miss Taliaferro's third marriage, it's only her second husband, inasmuch as she is remarrying her last husband, Joseph O'Brien, from whom she was divorced about a year ago, and by whom she has a little daughter.

—o—

Gale Henry's New Contract.

Gale Henry writes in to deny the rumor that she is to leave the screen, which has been recently circulated.

"To prove that I have no intentions of discontinuing my work in pictures," the comedienne asserts, "I have just signed a contract for a new series of two-reel comedies, and work upon my first will commence in a few days."

Instead of producing twenty-four two-reel comedies a year, however, as she has in the past, Miss Henry will make only six two-reelers a year. Her cast and director are shortly to be announced.

—o—

U Director Announces.

Work has begun at Universal City on "The Girl in the Mirror," Phillip Hurn's screen adaptation of Elizabeth Cobb's popular novel of that name. Jack Ford is directing the production and Frank Mayo is the star.

Supporting Mr. Mayo are Claire Anderson, Ellinor Faire, Harry Hilliard, Ray Riplen, Robert Bolder, Arthur Hoyt and Bull Montana.

—o—

Mabel Normand's New One.

Mabel Normand, the lively little Goldwyn cut-up, has begun work on a film version of George Ade's story, "The Slim Princess," under direction of Victor Schertzinger. And now Mabel's worried for fear she'll get fat.

—o—

Hugo Ballin to Direct.

Hugo Ballin is to direct Madge Kennedy in her next picture, which will be a picturization of Wallace Irwin's "Trimmed in Red." The picture will be made in New York.

—o—

Hank Mann's Back Fire.

Hank Mann was stopped on the street by a friend a few days ago and asked why his wife has her hand bandaged up. To which Hank replied:

"Reckless driving."

"What, motor car?" the friend inquired.

"No, nail," Hank returned.

—o—

Gus Edwards Obliges.

Gus Edwards, producer of vaudeville acts, is always thirsting to develop young talent. This week whilst appearing as one of the headliners at the Orpheum, he is sending forth word that he will give the o.e. to any youngsters of either sex who may think, or whose parents or guardians think, they have dramatic talent. Can't you imagine the rush?

REVISING FIRE PICTURE.

Thomas Ince Adds New Scenes to Unusual Film.

Such wide interest, it is said, has been aroused by the fire-prevention picture donated by Thomas H. Ince to the Fire Prevention Bureau of the Pacific Coast that Mr. Ince is now revising the film and adding new features. The improved picture will be of standard length and will show such figre-fighting activities as the "bunk-room hitch," "life-line rescue," "scaling ladder rescues," etc.

Chief Scott of the Los Angeles fire department has offered all the facilities at his command for the making of the additional film. Chief Murphy of San Francisco and Jay W. Stevens, Pacific Coast manager of the Fire prevention Bureau, will arrive in Los Angeles this week to direct the production of the various scenes to be made under actual fire conditions.

The original fire-prevention film donated by Mr. Ince has been shown in practically every city west of the Mississippi River and plans are now under way for its exhibition throughout the world.

LAZZARI DELIGHTS.

SINGER MANIFESTS FEELING FOR BEAUT YOF SONGS.

By Jeanne Redman.

A very large audience greeted Carolina Lazzari, contralto, upon the occasion of her first concert tour to the West, last evening at Trinity Auditorium. Miss Lazzari is called an American singer, but certainly she has all the appearance of an Italian. She is very youthful, with the simplicity and charm of the "sweet girl graduate" and a glorious voice, which she uses with skill and discrimination. Her voice is large in volume, broad in range, and of that distinctively contralto quality which is exceedingly rare. It is what we call a colorful voice, with many variations of tone and texture, and the extraordinary point about its handling lies in the fact that, while it is full and heavy, it has none of the unwieldiness which is usually the bane of the real contralto. There is no density about the tones; they are free and ringing.

The programme was not a weighty one, but it was thoroughly unhackneyed. The singer was amazingly gracious as to encores, of which the audience demanded a great number. In fact, there were almost as many encores as there were programmed songs. The ever-lovely "Lunghi del Caro Bene" opened the programme and two short Italian numbers followed, which served as introduction.

The singer's next group was freer. As she proceeded the loveliness of her singing increased. The Schubert "Ave Maria" and Reinhardt's "When the Roses Bloom" were both particularly beautiful, but Poldowski' "L'Heaure Exquise" was perhaps the finest thing of all. It suited the singer's voice especially well, and she was obliged to repeat it. In place of a programmed Grieg song, Miss Lazzari sang Gertrude Ross's "Dawn in the Desert," and I have scarcely ever heard it rendered better. Miss Lazzari concentrates fully upon each song, and interprets the texts as well as the music, with a delightful sincerity and musicianship.

Blanche Barbot accompanied the singer.

DRAMA SUPPORT IS GOOD HERE.

HEAD OF LEAGUE EXPRESSES OPTIMISTIC VIEW OF ENTERTAINMENT.

That the people of Los Angeles are ready and willing to support the drama was the statement of Mrs. J. B. Stevens, president of the Los Angeles Center, Drama League of America, at the opening address on the programme presented at the Little Theater, Thursday evening. The speaker outlined the plans of the league for this year, and then introduced James Young, noted for his interpretations of Shakespearean plays, who rendered a scene from "Hamlet."

Carolina Abrams made a decided hit during the programme in a sketch entitled "Moonlight," by Alfred Hollingsworth, who played with her in the flirtation which was cleverly acted. Miss Abrams has shown talent on a number of occasions, but her latest success has encouraged her to take up an important line of work in connection with the drama. Miss Abrams and Mr. Hollingsworth, in "Moonlight," carry on a rapid-fire flirtation, which has several amusing incidents. When the two finally embrace, or are about to embrace, a child calls "Papa," and a husband's voice booms out, "Margaret" and each realizes the awkward situation as the curtain falls.

Mrs. Gertrude Kellar Bagley was director for "The Locked Chest," by John Masefield. In this sketch Emma Nichols starred, and was supported by Walter Renwick, Robert S. Wallace and Alfred Drew. The setting is an Iceland cottage.

The music was furnished for the evening by Miss Elsa Robinson, 'cello; Mrs. Vincent Lehigh, piano. It is planned to give a number of such entertainments by the Drama League members.

FOR A MILK DEPOT.

The City Council yesterday approved of a contract to lease from Oddiff Khlistoff, at 327 South Glass street, certain property where a municipal milk depot will be established.

BRIEFS.

SPEEDING UP SHOW.

VAUDEVILLE SPECIALTIES ARE VOGUE IN FILM HOUSES.

By Edwin Schallert.

A scheme of picture presentation which is obtaining quite a vogue in Los Angeles is the elaborating of personal appearances of stars in vaudeville specialties. Heretofore, picture actors have come before the public without costume and said a few brief words about the weather, or how glad they were to be in Southern California, or told a musty joke or two and let it go at that. But this stunt is hardly ever satisfactory either to the film celebrity or the public, because it is a rather widely noted fact in the profession that good actors are seldom good speech-makers.

The devising of complete acts to take the place of the routine personal appearances offers a wide field for exploitation, and while there is nothing exactly new about this form of entertaining audiences, at least it has never shown such apparent susceptibility of development recently as in the staging of the vivid scene with Hobart Bosworth acompanying the showing of "Behind the Door." Mr. Grauman, at whose theater this was produced, has also included another very clever vaudeville novelty on this week's programme by Al St. John.

Next week it is announced that Larry Semon, the Vitagraph comedian, who has recently signed a new contract, is to be seen at the Kinema Theater in an act. He will be supported by Lucille Carlisle, Harry McCoy and ten girls from his company. Mr. Semon's appearance will be in conjunction with the showing of his second film under the new contract, "Dew Drop Inn."

The Larry Semon act was secured by Messrs. Lesser and Gore the new managers of the theater, who are to stage the divertisement with special scenic effects. Costumes of the fashion show type are to be worn by the girls. Mr. Semon, who is known as a cartoonist, having been with the New York Sun, will draw some timely cartoons as a feature of the turn.

As many of the members of the photoplay companies have achieved marked success of the stage, the possibilities for presenting them in vaudeville acts offer a wide scope for amplifying the entertainment at the theater, which, it is understood, the leading managers are planning to avail themselves of on other occasions in the near future.

Garrick.

"The Clodhopper," one of the most absorbing stories in which Charlie Ray has appeared, and which won him much of the original fame he established in the type of character he now portrays, is showing at the Garrick Theater, with large audiences present. The story relates of a young man who went to the big city and amid the radiant lights to achieve fame and fortune. How he temporarily succeeded, and his return later to his own home town is the general thread of the plot, which holds a very keen interest dramatically, while containing the natural charm of the typical Ray humor.

Majestic.

One of the best pieces yet presented by the Majestic Theater company, "The Country Cousin," with Eleanor Woodruff and Edward Everett Horton, continues to appeal to large audiences at the local stock theater through its humanness and humor. Miss Woodruff has an especially telling role in this production, while Horton's talent for comedy is vividly apparent in his portrayal of the conceited New Yorker, who learns his lesson in life and love from the clever western girl heroine. How she also saves a young girl from innocent folly makes the underlying dramatic theme of the play. The company, as a whole, reveals its capabilities in very captivating style in this comedy-drama.

—o—

Ibanez Gamut Club Guest.

Vicente Blasco Ibanez, the world-noted Spanish writer, who is now visiting Los Angeles, will be given a banquet this evening by the Gamut Club, at which leaders of the local Spanish artistic colony will gather with Gamuteers to do honor to the man who is regarded as the most towering figure in Hispanic literature since Cervantes.

Dr. Luis F. Alvarez, Spanish vice-consul; Serafin Pla, Spanish baritone, and Marie Aspiroz Nellini, Spanish violiniste, will be among the compatriots of Ibanez, who will join in welcoming the author as a fellow-artist and Bohemian. Other guests will include Donna Conchita Sepulveda Chapman and Leo, Jan and Mischel Cherniavsky.

—o—

Gus Edwards, Discoverer.

When it comes to discovering talent Gus Edwards, who heads his own revue at the Orpheum this week, is said to be the composite of Sherlock Holmes, Hawkshaw, the detective, and old Sleuth, to say nothing of the modern detectors. Edwards is really a song writer and producer of song revues. His talent is, for the most part, juveniles. He has found and developed many clever kiddies.

Georgie and Cuddles, two of the cleverest stage children, were discovered by Mr. Edwards. A list of the vaudevillians who began their stage careers with Gus Edwards includes Lew Brice, Lillian Gonne, Eddie Cantor, Herman Timberg, Daisy Leon, Vincent O'Donnell, Dan Healy, Lillian Boardman, Duncan sisters, Lillian Lorraine, George Jessel and many others.

Wherever Mr. Edwards may happen to be he makes it a point to devote a portion of his time to interviewing stage aspirants. Whenever a boy or girl presents himself or herself and he or she appears to possess the seed from which ability is grown, Mr. Edwards makes it a point to keep in touch with the child.

INJURED AFTER BATH, DAMAGE SUIT CHARGE.

While Miss Mary Zimmerman was taking a bath at Gilman's Hot Springs, an attendant is alleged to have removed a rubber mat from the corridor. When she stepped into the corridor, she says she slipped on the floor and was injured. Yesterday her suit for $11,255 damages against the Gilman's Relief Hot Springs Company was on trial before a jury in Judge Myers's court.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Home Securities Find a Home Market; Growing Pains; Spending Jag.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

Home securities are at last finding a home market. It is no longer necessary to peddle our high-grade bonds in New York, and now that pains are being taken to make these California securities legal investment for savings banks they will be more and more pivoted to the home fireside.

A case in point is the general and refunding 6 per cent. bonds of the Southern California Edison Company, due 1944, which have just been qualified by the State superintendent of banks as legal security.

This is a big step forward for it not only enlarges the field for their sale in the State, but because of the fact that heretofore most of our California hydroelectric bonds have been sold in the East, with the result that the companies have never taken the pains to make them a legal investment here.

The high-grade 6 per cent. California hydroelectric companies maintained their market during the war better than almost any other class of security, and evidenced the fact by maintaining their earnings regardless of external conditions.

This is shown by the circumstance that rates have increased less than one-fifth at a time when labor and material costs have advanced from 100 per cent. to 200 per cent., and at a time when price of clothing, food and all other necessities of life have increased in a like manner.

Public Utility Development.

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company is serving 519,400 consumers as against 472,708 one year ago and 214,325 ten years ago. There are 40,000 more gas consumers than electricity consumers. Put those figures in your pipe to puff. When anyone questions the fact that we are growing so fast that it is practically impossible to keep up with the procession of homeseekers filing over our borders. This company, together with every other public utility in Southern California has made tremendous progress during the year, and while the annual report will not be available for several weeks its strong position is pointed out in a memorandum to salesmen issued by Blyth, Witter & Co. Because of this growth and the growth that is to come, we are likely soon to hear of plans for further expansion and development. Some idea of this growth may be gathered from the statement that for the eleven months ended December 1 the company added 43,942 consumers to its list. Of these, 10,744 came from the Northern California power acquisition and 33,178 from the normal growth of the property formerly owned by the company. Another great development also indicative of community growth has been the increase in the industrial load, showing that electricity is being used more and more as the industrial power of California. New motors have been connected with the system which produce an added total of 26,325 horse power. For 1919 the net earnings of the company exceeded the earnings of the previous year by $717,269.

California Packing.

The company will pack this year approximately 10,000,000 cases, a 50 per cent. increase in three years. It is expected that billings for the current year which ends February 20 will be in excess of $70,000,000. This season jobbers practically closed all their contracts while the fruits and vegetables were still on the trees and in the gardens, and as a result the output was cleaned up and ready for market much earlier than usual. This naturally places the inventory in a satisfactory position and has kept the company's bank loans within conservative totals.

The Fur Market.

The United States has become the fur market of the world and the greatest sale in the history of the industry will begin in St. Louis February 2 when it is said 75 per cent. of the available fur stock in North America will be sold. It is expected that the auction will last for two and a half weeks and Los Angeles fur dealers say that the tremendous offerings furnish conclusive evidence that there is no profiteering in this trade. The world's fur marts are practically bare of holdover stocks and because of the advance of the Bolsheviki in Russia and Siberia they have gained control of most of the fur producing districts of those countries. The same scarcity is apparent in other foreign fur countries, and the home market will be restricted with consequent rising prices. Invoiced at current rates the coming St. Louis sale will amount to well over $25,000,000.

Union Bank Club.

A. L. Lathrop has been elected president, and Mrs. Josephine L. Lyle, secretary of the Union Bank Club for 1920. Susan R. White, C. H. Landis and F. H. Schenk were elected to the entertainment committee.

The Shrinking Dollar.

Our modest and retiring dollar, which had a purchasing power of 100 per cent. six years ago has fallen, according to latest available statistics, to about 43 cents and has been steadily declining ever since the government's drive led by the Attorney-General to reduce the high cost of living started last September. Then the dollar was worth 47 cents in purchasing power; at the end of October it had fallen to 46 cents; December 1 it was 45 cents and February 1 estimates show a probable 43 cents.

Spending Jag to End?

Because of the fact that sales of Thrift Stamps, War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates have increased each month for the last five months, war loan officials are confident that the 1920 output of these securities will be far in excess of the 1919 sales. Slowly, but surely, the people are sobering up from their post-war spending spree and are saving their money. Many people, to be sure, are still spending their savings or investing them in wildcat stocks, but as Secretary Glass said in his annual report to Congress, the thrift educational campaign the government has conducted throughout the year, and which it will conduct throughout 1920 in connection with the sales of War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates, has brought a still greater number of persons to their senses. Folks are beginning to wake up and ask themselves why the other fellow wants their Liberty Bonds and is willing to spend thousands of dollars advertising for them, and also why the fellow with doubtful securities is so anxious to trade his stock for Liberty Bonds.

First National of El Monte.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the First National Bank of El Monte, L. M. Meeker, P. F. Cogswell, C. F. Raab, J. E. Killian and I. F. Baker were elected to the directorate. The officers chosen were: L. M. Meeker, president; C. F. Raab, P. F. Cogswell, vice-presidents; C. L. Hill, cashier, and R. E. Blain, assistant cashier. According to President Meeker's report the bank enjoyed a profitable year and in the matter of new business made a creditable showing. This official takes a somewhat more optimistic position than some on the high cost of living problems, although admitting the seriousness of the situation. He said:

"The high cost of living and labor conditions have been the chief storm cloud hovering over the country the past year. Unless the American people take immediate inventories of their financial condition and free themselves from their spending fever and continued demand for luxuries, the H.C.L. will not recede. Thousands of our people have disposed of their Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps that they might be with the spendthrift crowd.

"While the government campaign to reduce prices has made no great showing, it has influenced public opinion to an extent of making many holders of foodstuffs let go and a decided check has been given to the rise in prices."

Mid-Continent Crude.

The market price of petroleum in the mid-continent field has advanced to $3 per barrel. Predictions indicate still further increases and producing companies in that district are looking forward to a prosperous year. Big development work is going on there as it is in California.

Eggs Decline.

Fresh eggs declined 4 cent per dozen on the produce exchange yesterday the closing quotation being 54 cents per dozen. Case count eggs dropped from 54 to 52 cents. The retail price averages 4 cents above these prices.

Sugar Shortage.

Whenever there is nothing else to worry about, and sometimes when there are other things, a sugar shortage looms. Shortage of supplies is said to be responsible for an impending scarcity which may make itself felt the last of the week, although there is no present indication of a price increase beyond 17½ or 18 cents per pound.

Mortgage Guarantee.

A permit has been issued by the commissioner of corporations for the Guarantee Mortgage Company to sell its capital stock of $1,000,000 at par value of $100 per share. This is a San Francisco concern. J. W.

CORN CLOSES STEADY ON CHICAGO MARKET.

BREAK IN STERLING EXCHANGE CAUSES LIGHT SELLING PRESSURE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—Stubbornness and narrowness characterized the corn and oats trade today.

News on the whole was rather more favorable to buyers due to buyers, but selling pressure was not heavy enough to depress values and held them down. At the last corn was unchanged for January and 1-8 to 3-8 higher for the distant months. Oats were unchanged.

A lack of outside support and general bearish attitude of the local element made it easy to depress corn prices ½@5-8 early.

A break in sterling exchange to a new low figure was given as the cause for the selling but offerings on the decline were absorbed by commission houses and later short covering set in. A bulge of 7-8@1 1-4 followed and while the close was on a reaction of 3-4@1 from the top the undertone was firm.

The railroad situation showed no change either on eastern or western lines and the movement of grain was slow. Outside points continue to bid nearly Chicago spot prices at country loading stations.

Oats futures held within a range of 3-8 and closed practically unchanged. Trade was almost entirely local, aside from good buying on an early dip by a house with seaboard connections.

PRICES TURN STEADIER AT CLOSE ON SCATTERED COVERING.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—While Liverpool was better than due the cotton market here opened at a decline of 12 to 33 points as a result of overnight selling orders and further liquidation inspired by the continued weakness of foreign exchange.

March contracts sold off to 33.80 cents and or 26 to 30 points below last night's closing, but July 32.00 cents during the first few minutes, reports from the goods trade failed to confirm yesterday's rumors of weakness in that quarter and prices soon turned steadier.

Liverpool was a moderate seller of March and October, presumably on the clower exchange dates, but bought July an ditheve was scattered covering on he rally which followed the initial break. General business was quiet, however, and brokers reported an unsettled sentiment aroound the ring.

No fresh features developed during the mid-afternoon.

THE yield of securities held in California is vitally affected by taxation. Both bonds and stocks are personal property. Some are entirely subject to California taxation, some are tax exempt and others are taxable in part. There are severe penalties for non-declaration of property subject to taxation. These problems are fully explained in this booklet shown in accompanying illustration.

The Federal Income Tax affects the yield of all corporation securities in proportion to the individual's income. Tables are given showing the exact tax for various incomes, the percentage of income paid in taxes, and the resulting reduction in yield of bonds and stocks. The investor will find that these tables with full explanation of their workings of great value in investment problems.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The noteworthy feature of today's listless stock market was the absolute indifference manifested by its firm to strong tone to the further demoralization of the international credit situation.

Foreign exchanges were again in the throes of unsettlement rates on London and all principal continental points dropping to levels of impairment never before recorded. The extent of the collapse may be gauged from the fact that it encompassed most of the so-called "neutral" countries, including Scandinavian centers hitherto relatively exempt.

Stocks that have been most conspicuous since last Saturday's unexpected rally were again in the foreground, especially steels, equipments, motors and oils. Extreme gains in these classes extended from two to seven points.

Other features of strength included food and chemical issues, metals, shippings and tobaccos, the latter improving on the stock dividend declared by United Cigars. The railway list ceased to exist, dealings in that quarter being of the smallest proportions.

United States Steel approximated its highest quotation of the last fortnight at a fractional gain, but yielded leadership to a few other similar issues. Sales amounted to 700,000 shares.

Bonds failed to reflect the general effect of the stock market. Liberty issues and internationals easing variably. Total sales, par value, aggregated $12,450,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Mercantile paper, unchanged.

Sterling demand, $3.55; cables, $3.55¾.

Time loans, strong; sixty days, ninety days and six months, 7½ @8.

Sterling exchange continued to weaken and before noon was quoted at $3.56¼. The reaction also affected exchange rates on the Northern European countries. German marks were offered at 1.07 cents each.

Call money, strong; high, 10; low, 8; ruling rate, 8; closing bid, 9; offered at 10; last loan, 10.

Bar silver, $1.34; Mexican dollars, $1.02¼.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—Bar silver, 82½d per ounce. Money, 3 per cent.

Wright, who is active in the affairs of the new company is reported to have said: "Mortgage companies, practically without exception, are big dividend payers, as there is no better security on earth than the earth itself." There is no question as to the latter part of his statement, but in these days of preferred stocks, and guaranteed dividends, and high rates of interest mortgage guarantee companies are not as big dividend payers as they once were or as they will be again as soon as normality is restored. However, mortgage guarantees fill a very important field and the San Francisco company will doubtless find a niche for itself in that particular branch of the investment field.

A Derrick Christening.

There was a derrick christening down in the Richfield district the other day when Miss Clement Alleo broke a purple ribboned bottle of orange juice over a new derrick and named it Placentia Gusher. Inspired orators led by Timothy Shea predicted that Placentia is destined to a large place in the sun of oildom. Everybody cheered and had a fine time. The novel publicity stunt was staged by the Richfield-Union Petroleum Company.

The Stock Market.

A steady and fairly active market marked the day. Associated Oil advanced to $151; Union to $184; Union Sugar to $59.50. A few shares of Consolidated Realty sold at $70; Amalgamated Oil brought $102; California Packing, common, registered $88; Southern California Edison, common, $89.50. United Eastern declined to $3.87½, closing at $3.85 bid. Republic Petroleum was firm around 38½ cents. Otherwise the level was about the same as on Monday although trading was somewhat more active.

The Bond Market.

E. H. Rollins & Sons is underwriting a $12,500,000 issue of 7 per cent. mortgage sinking fund gold bonds of the Wickwire-Spencer Steel Corporation and $6,058,000 first preferred 8 per cent. cumulative stock. The bonds are priced at 100 and interest and the stock at 99 and accrued dividend. Local participants in the bond issue include the Citizens' National Bank department; Los Angeles Trust Southern California Oil Co.

Presents an Opportunity for Participation in the Development of one of the Most Promising Oil Leases in the Famous Montebello-Whittier Field —a proposition in which high finance knows no part.

—a proposition not promoted by "promoters."

—a proposition which offers conservative promise of making its stockholders rich.

Such an opportunity is presented to you by the Southern California Oil Co.—a $500,000.00 California corporation (500,000 shares at $1.00 per share par value.)

This Corporation Owns a

40 Acre Lease Directly Between Gushers

in the Montebello-Whittier Field, 14 miles from Los Angeles via Seventh street and Stephenson avenue.

Only within the past week the United Oil Co., brought in a big well (variously estimated at 700 to 1000 barrels per day) only 1750 feet from our property.

Only a few months ago the big Whitley gusher—3500 feet from our property came in at an estimated production of more than 1000 barrels per day. Four other wells are now nearing completion in this same gusher territory.

On the other side of us the five famous McGinley wells are said to be producing 85,000 barrel per month. The Standard Oil Co., Union Oil Co., General Petroleum, Doheny, Mascot, Shell and other big operators are active all around us. It is generally conceded that ours is one of the most promising properties in the Montebello District, which, according to latest figures, is now producing at the rate of 1,131,000 barrels of oil per month.

State Corporation Permit Number 8453 authorizes us to sell 250,000 shares at $1.00 per share.

We propose to start drilling as soon as the first $50,000.00 has been subscribed. The remarkable wells which have been coming in so close to us, and the very favorable geologist's report made on our property, encourage us in the anticipation of a real strike. If you would like to join with us, the opportunity is open now.

Christening Was a Great Success

Big Sunday Crowd Saw for Itself Why We Talk So Much of

Placentia Ridge

If you had been there you probably would have snapped up a block of our "Dollar stock" the same as many of them did then.

This is what they saw

That our No. 1 derrick is on the same "crest of the ridge" as all the "gushers";

That the "trend" of the "gusher field" is straight toward our Placentia lease;

That we are in the "direct line of development";

That we have a very reasonable right to believe that our No. 1 lease will live up to its christened name—"Placentia Gusher."

We have five leases—part in the "heart of Richfield," part on "Placentia ridge."

Each share of stock covers all five leases, even though we should "bring in" oil on them all—as we feel we shall.

Our block of "dollar stock" is growing smaller, however. You will have to begin moving fast.

We believe it's the "best buy" in Richfield.

PRODUCE MARKET DULL; BUYING DEMAND LIGHT.

CABBAGE, CAULIFLOWER AND LETTUCE ARE WEAK AND ONIONS ADVANCE.

Produce met with a dull demand during yesterday's session on the local produce market. Arrivals from the country were heavy, but very limited as to variety, with the result that there was an oversupply of certain commodities. Retailers and peddlers were out in force, but buying was light, and movement of most varieties of fruits and vegetables was slow. For the leaders the market continued very weak, although prices held at about the level of the preceding day's session. Cauliflower in field crates showed a wider spread of price, due to the fact that many of yesterday's offerings were of very poor quality. Sales were made as low as $1.25 per crate, as compared with Monday's lowest quotation of $1.50 per field crate. Lettuce prices showed no change, but the undertone of the market was sluggish, quality was for the most part poor, and demand was very dull. Wholesalers, prices for cabbage held steady, but the carlot market was lower, showing a decline averaging $5 per ton. A few sales were reported as low as $60 per ton, as compared with last week's high point of $100 per ton in car lots.

The apple market was firm, prices showed a tendency to spread, owing to the fact that many of the offerings, drawn from storage, are of inferior quality. The California delicious variety and Northern Jonathans, however, advanced 25 cents per packed box on a strong buying demand.

Onions were higher, the white varieties bringing from $6.50 to $6.75 per hundred, an increase of 25 cents per hundredweight. White potatoes remained unchanged, but sweet potatoes moved up to a higher level. Demand for this variety was very brisk yesterday, and prices moved up 50 cents per hundred. Fancy grades continued to sell at $5 per hundredweight. Bell peppers advanced 3 cents per pound on account of the very small supplies now available.

Why Guess?

The basic Law of Action—Reaction governs our business, exactly as it does our scientific world. Its operation is as unchanging as that of gravitation. Results follow cause. Business travels its cycle of prosperity, decline, depression and improvement with almost clock-like regularity.

We Offer the Unsold Portion of 35,000 Shares Treasury Stock of RICHFIELD UNITED OIL COMPANY

—AT—

75c Per Share, Par Value, $1.00

The first public offering of treasury shares of this company was oversubscribed 40,000 shares in one week's time and in view of the above fact, together with favorable developments in the field, it is our opinion that this offering will be subscribed immediately.

Subscriptions totaling $76,000 net to the company have been paid into the treasury, this providing ample funds to carry on development work.

A derrick equipped for standard and rotary rigs has been completed on the property and the very latest and finest of rotary shaft drive, drilling machinery has been purchased from the Abbott-Robinson Company of Los Angeles and is now being installed and drilling will be under way within a few days.

This company combines the two great things most necessary to a successful oil company — capital and experienced oil men to expend same. Financial affairs of the company are handled through the escrow department of the National Bank and Trust Company of Pasadena, which is also the company's depository.

Our property adjoins the Richfield-Yorba and the Huntington-Dumas leases and extends west and north toward the big producing wells of the General Petroleum, Petroleum Midway and Union Oil.

If oversubscribed, allotments of the above shares will be made in the order they are received at this office. If you wish to secure an allotment of these shares, check should be placed in the mail today and made payable to PETITION TO REMOVE BEE BOSS IS FILED.

INSPECTOR OF APIARIES FACES UGLY CHARGES; FRIENDS DEFEND HIM.

The petition asking for the removal of George B. de Selem, inspector of apiaries, filed by ten beekeepers, will be heard by the Board of Supervisors at 10 a.m. tomorrow. De Selem is charged with being incompetent to make inspections; not being a skilled beekeeper; incorrect and untruthful in his records; physically unable to make the necessary inspections; charging and receiving money for salary and expenses from the county upon the representation that he performed work and services on certain days when, in fact, he was not engaged in the performance of any duty incident to his office.

The petition has the indorsement by resolution of the Los Angeles Honey Producers' Exchange.

The move against Mr. De Selem is spite work, in the opinion of members of the Southern California Beekeepers' Association, which has an office at 121 Temple street. Members of this association declare the exchange is seeking to have Mr. De Selem removed because he advised the Southern California Beekeepers not to enter into the so-called co-operative exchange started by former State Market Commissioner Harris Weinstock.

E. D. Shafter of the association declared yesterday that the co-operative exchange helped no one, was a source of annoyance to the beekeepers and raised the price of honey.

Practically the entire membership of the Beekeepers' Association is planning to attend the hearing and will make a strong effort to have the inspector retained. They state that Mr. De Selem has been a bee inspector for ten years and that during that time he has given excellent service. Mr. Shafter declares he is the best man for the position in the country, and his loss would seriously affect the bee industry of this section of the State.

Chairman Dodge of the Board of Supervisors has received letters asking for the retention of Mr. De Selem on the ground of his excellent work.

PRISON FOR ROBBER.

Thomas J. May, who confessed to six robberies, and pleaded guilty to a charge based on the forcible taking of $9.75 from R. A. Scott, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Willis to San Quentin for, from one year to life. Otis Sykes, a co-defendant, who recently chewed up two tin cups in the County Jail, is now in the State Hospital, at Patton.

Announcement!

Richfield Consolidated Oil Company

The RICHFIELD CONSOLIDATED Oil Company's lease of 65.77 Acres is the LARGEST and, we believe, the BEST LOCATED lease held by any so-called "independent" company in the big Richfield Gusher District.

Our lease is MORE than THREE TIMES LARGER than the Richfield holdings of any other "independent" company now offering stock for sale.

With these superior advantages, we believe that RICHFIELD CONSOLIDATED stock at $1 a share, par value, offers a better field for investment than any other oil proposition before investors today.

Wells now being drilled within 400 yards of both our EASTERN and our WESTERN boundaries are both reported to have encountered favorable oil showings and are now drilling at depths where they may "come in" at any time.

The kind of prospects which we have on our lease is best attested by the fact that the "big" oil companies—the Union, the Amalgamated, the General Petroleum—have taken up big leases all around us. These companies base their operations on years of experience and the most expert geological advice.

Our lease and the Richfield Gusher District is right here at your door, where you may investigate thoroughly before you invest your money.

Our directors are well known and responsible business men of Los Angeles and Southern California—men who have invested their money and who believe implicitly in the prosperous future of the company in which we urge you to purchase stock.

They are:

ROBERT M. SHEARER, President: Financier and oil operator of Los Angeles.

W. R. DICKINSON, Vice-President: President of the Dickinson Drug Co., and prominent business man of Los Angeles.

F. W. BLANCHARD, treasurer: Capitalist and prominent for 20 years in Los Angeles' civic affairs.

J. M. HARLAN, Secretary: Capitalist, retired banker and citrus grower of Pasadena.

E. J. MARKS, Director and Legal Adviser: Prominent attorney of Fullerton.

The location for RICHFIELD CONSOLIDATED Company's Well No. 1 has been chosen, contracts for derrick and complete rotary drilling equipment has been closed and ACTUAL DRILLING will be started just as quickly as this equipment can be installed.

We are a GOING CONCERN, with money in our treasury to complete our first well; our lease is fully paid for; we have no debts of any kind and we propose to complete our first well as fast as men and money can make it possible.

We do not offer you Richfield Consolidated stock as an INFALLIBLE oil investment, but we do recommend it to you as a high-class SPECULATIVE venture offering an opportunity for BIG RETURNS.

We still offer for sale at $1.00 a share, par value, a limited amount of our first public offering of 100,000 shares of Richfield Consolidated stock. Order your stock today!

Placentia-Richfield Central Oil Company of PLACENTIA, CALIFORNIA

This company's holdings are shown in black type and comprise more than 40 acres.

Notice over 14 acres in the triangle shaped lease are located on what is thought to be the crown of the oil structure and lies between wells now being drilled on three sides by the largest companies in California.

Near us on the west the General Petroleum has set their tanks and their distributing pipes to take the product from their well when it comes in, which is nearing completion.

The Standard is drilling on the east and the Union just to the southeast.

All three of these companies are very ably managed and their holdings located by the best geologist obtainable and the "Placentia-Richfield Central's" triangular lease is located between the holdings of these big companies.

Over 26 acres held under lease by this company are owned by the president and treasurer. Over seven thousand dollars cash was paid for this triangular lease by the vice-president and all of these leases have been turned to the company for a stock consideration held in escrow and cannot be issued until same are released by the Commissioner of Corporations of the State of California.

This company receives 5-6 of all proceeds from oil—not 3-4 or 4-5 as in some cases.

The solidity of this company is shown by the actual ownership of 26 acres of the land for which the owners have taken a stock consideration, as in the case of the 14-acre lease, instead of cash, and look to the drilling results, which will be started soon, for their only source of remunerations.

Investigate these statements thoroughly, follow the lead of the biggest and oldest oil companies in the business and place your money with the companies that are so located that you have the surest possibility of the greatest return.

The contractors are now building the rig on the triangular lease and drilling operations will commence as soon as possible.

SERVITUDE FOR MUSIC TEACHER

Sampson to Pay Penalty for Misconduct with Woman.

Prison Term Sequel to Leap from Her High Window.

Court Scouts Plea of Love; Denies Him Probation.

After giving a survey of the duties of a husband to his wife and children, Judge Willis yesterday denied a request for probation and sentenced Gray T. Sampson, former Pasadena music teacher, to serve from one to five years in San Quentin for a statutory offense. Sampson and Mrs. Elena M. Tuthill were arrested last July 2, after Sampson, in scanty attire, had jumped from a window of Mrs. Tuthill's third-story apartments, had landed in a tree, and had slid safely to the ground. Later, Sampson pleaded guilty and asked for the leniency of the court.

A plea was made on behalf of the defendant yesterday by John L. Richardson, who said that he believed it was because of love for Mrs. Tuthill that Sampson had transgressed, and that the two intended to be married when Sampson and his wife were separated by divorce.

"I scarcely believe that it was because of love," said the court. "If he loved her, he wouldn't be going around from place to place with her, registering under assumed names. They would also refrain from walking from the court arm in arm, and wouldn't be living in the same house, as they are now. The place for a married man is at his home, with his wife and children. This man's wife has been faithful, and when he was ill for six years she nursed him back to health. He says that he is unable to pay the alimony required by the divorce court, yet he wants to take on another family to support. This would be impossible under the present high cost of living."

Probation Officer Dodds reported that this was an "aggravated case;" that Sampson went from place to place with Mrs. Tuthill even while his child, now 6 years old, was an infant, and while the woman's husband was in the navy during the war. He said Sampson has been living at 3010 Vista street, Long Beach, the residence of B. Slamal, Mrs. Tuthill's father.

Mrs. Thomas interested herself at the signing of the armistice in the return of the Siberian army. She went to Washington with a petition signed by parents whose sons were in Russia asking the President to withdraw the troops. She represented California and Illinois while at the Capitol. She is given credit here with being responsible for the return of the soldiers at this time.

AFTER THE MILK MEN.

Fair Price Committee Arranges Investigation Details.

It is expected that the meeting of the Federal Fair Price Committee, tomorrow afternoon, will be held at the new quarters in the Realty Board Building, 631 South Spring street. Another executive session of the body was held last night, when details of pending investigations were arranged.

At the meeting tomorrow statements will be made by the special investigators who have been looking into the local milk situation with a view to discovering if there is any profiteering either on the part of the milk producer or the handler. Considerable information has been gathered, but the dealers and producers affected will, of course, be given a day in court.

INCORPORATION.

Star Furniture Company, incorporators, Grover James, Iona James, Walter L. Stiles, capital stock, $10,000, subscribed, $30.

MRS. DRUMMOND DIVORCED.

Mrs. Mary P. Drummond, who formerly resided at 312 South Grand avenue, Pasadena, and whose marriage to Harrison L. Drummond, the son of the millionaire tobacco king, was a society event, was granted a divorce by Judge Taft yesterday. Mrs. Drummond, who has an income of her own, charged that her husband drank so much that he was unable to attend to business. For two years before they separated, in November, 1918, she testified, she supported the family from her private means.

At one time Mr. Drummond was vice-president of a Pasadena bank. He was not an early riser while holding this position, the testimony showed, arising sometimes at 9 a.m. and sometimes in the afternoon. Intemperance, she charged, was the cause of his lie-abed habits. He is now staying at the University Club, New York City.

SITS TIGHT, WAITS, FREED.

Because P. C. Aguilar, accused of criminal syndicalism, was not brought to trial within sixty days after he was arrested, he obtained his liberty yesterday in Judge Willis's court. According to a statement made by Deputy District Attorney Powell, the first the District Attorney's office knew about the man's arrest was yesterday, when he was brought into court on a motion for dismissal, brought by the man's attorney, S. G. Pandit.

Aguilar was arrested in San Francisco some time after others indicted at the same time, and was lodged in the County Jail by an officer. According to Mr. Powell, no report was made of his arrest, and he remained there sixty days before being brought up for arraignment, which ordinarily is set for within forty-eight hours of arrest.

As a further step in organization to clear this county of radical Reds, Dist.-Atty. Woolwine yesterday named Malcolm McLaren, formerly chief of county detectives, as a special investigator, to be in charge of inquiries growing out of the trials of eighteen supposed I.W.W., who will be tried in March on charges of criminal syndicalism. Mr. McLaren will co-operate with Raymond I. Turney and Buron I. Fitts, special deputy district attorneys, and the American Legion intelligence force, Mr. Woolwine and Deputy Keyes, who will handle the I.W.W. cases, will have the assistance of the special deputies and the American Legion investigators, operating under Mr. McLaren.

Mr. McLaren was one of the arresting officers of the McNamaras and made a special trip to Honduras to persuade Ortie McManigal to return to the city to aid in the trial of Matthew A. Schmidt and David Caplan. More recently he aided the prosecution in the Everett (Wash.) I.W.W. riot cases of 1915-1916, the evidence obtained being used later in Chicago, resulting in the conviction of 120 radicals, including William D. Haywood.

FOR FUNERAL OF BANK ORGANIZER.

Funeral services for E. W. Diebler, organizer of the Main street bank at Thirty-third and Main streets and later affiliated with the Traders' Bank and the Vermont branch of the Home Savings Bank, who died Friday at his home, 1800 South Harvard boulevard, will be conducted at 2 p.m. today in the chapel of Pierce Brothers & Company. Mr. Diebler had resided here since 1906. He leaves a widow and two daughters, Mrs. G. S. Tucker and Miss Blanche L. Diebler.

HARBOR TRADE TOTALS GROW.

Imports Show Increase in Values of Over Three Hundred Per Cent.

Figures given out yesterday by Customs Collector Elliott show a big increase in the value of imports and exports in the local customs district, during the past six years:

The imports values for 1914 were $5,049,899; 1915, $4,159,206; 1916, $5,462,810; 1917, $8,043,242; 1918, $9,773,432; 1919, $16,165,628. In round numbers there has been an increase of more than 300 per cent. in the value of imports reported in the Los Angeles district.

The exports show a still more healthy condition, the figures ranging from $2,069,983 in 1914 to $15,509,911, in 1919, or an increase of more than 700 per cent. The figures for 1915, were $2,632,532; for 1916, $4,341,553; 1917, $7,592,170 and for 1918 they were $7,625,390.

These figures mark an enlargement of the export trade of Los Angeles, for nine-tenths of the exports are from this port.

OPPOSE OIL WELL EDICT.

The Independent Petroleum Marketers' Association placed before the City Council yesterday, a petition asking that restrictions on the maintenance of certain classes of motive power for the operation of oil wells be rescinded in the district where oil wells are now in operation within the city boundaries. The subject was referred to the Council's Public Safety Committee.

EXCHANGE IS CHAOTIC

Disappearing Foreign Values Causing Real Concern in Wall Street.

Topheavy Preponderance of Wealth Over Here is Called Dangerous.

BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.

LONDON, Jan. 28, 3:30 p.m.—Foreign exchange was demoralized today under the lead of New York, which slumped to $3.53 to the pound, representing a decline of about 35 per cent. from the normal. Paris checks at 47 francs to the pound and Belgian at 49 francs contributed to the demoralization, while business with Italy was almost impossible.

The reasons for the decline of the New York rate were the same as those previously held responsible—the huge accumulation of the debt of Europe to America, with the additional factor that recently France and Belgium have been buying dollars through London. Lombard Street does not consider the decline unusual, in view of this debt, which will reach a big figure by the time for the resumption of the payment of interest on the American loans and it would not be surprised if the rate go below $3.50, especially if the demand for dollars continues.

So hurtful to business are these conditions that it is considered in Lombard Street that the whole European financial position has reached a serious stage and that unless something is done the result will be chaos. Nothing can be gleaned in official quarters regarding any action to remedy the economic position, and while some people believe it will be best to let matters adjust themselves in the natural way, others advocate official action. A prominent member of one bank describes the situation thus:

"Financial Europe at present is a sick man. The patient needs a stimulant. The question is as to when the stimulant is going to be applied."

One of the immediate results of the action of American exchange was the further rise in the price of fine gold to 117 shillings 6 pence per ounce, at which figure South Africa, South America and the Straits Settlements are benefited. Silver also jumped 2 pence to 84½, owing to the small American offerings and Chinese buying.

BRITISH RATES SLUMP.

BY A. P. DAY WIRE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—English exchange rates dropped to another low level today when demand bills on the pound sterling dropped to $3.53½, or 1¾ cents below yesterday's low record.

In the first half-hour demand sterling dropped to $3.52½. Francs opened at the new low rate of 13.12 for the dollar, off 29 centimes from yesterday's close. Lire checks were quoted at 15.32, 13 centimes below yesterday's record low. German marks were quoted at 1.4⅝ cents and Austrian crowns at 1.50-100 of one cent.

Nearly selling later depressed sterling to $3.50¾; francs to 12.32, and lire to 15.42.

Trading was irregular in late dealings with long-term remittances selling sharply. Sterling sixty-day bills, 3.48½; commercial sixty-day bills on banks, 3.48¾; commercial sight bills, 3.47¾; demand, 3.48½; cables, 3.52¼.

London advices indicated a feeling akin to consternation had taken possession of the British capital which for generations dominated the world's exchange markets. Neither in London, Paris nor here has any solution of the problem been offered, although it was realized matters now have reached the stage where further delay may cause world-wide chaos.

Primarily, the situation as viewed by those most concerned, hinges on the fact that nearly all the European countries are heavily in debt to the United States. Only by the organization of an international exchange committee and the willingness of American bankers to extend credits already contracted, can existing conditions be overcome, is the opinion of leading mercantile interests.

Rates on the North European centers, which suffered their first severe reaction yesterday, registered further depreciation today, although those of such bills were reported comparatively light.

BOSTON, Jan. 28.—For government accounting purposes the pound sterling will be figured at $3.65, beginning February 1, according to a Treasury Department announcement made by Secretary of the Navy Daniels to all naval stations today, while francs are to be figured at 12 for the dollar, Belgian francs at 12.76 and lire 14.20 for a dollar.
